Follow the Crowds to

The street authorities showed commendable energy in having the slippery sidewalks looked after early on Wednesday morning. This evidence of a regard for the safety and comfort of pedestrians was duly appreciated.

The finding of mayflowers this month has been reported from various parts of the province. Master George Dakin reports finding one last Sunday. Miss Lillian Bishop, of Greenwich, also found one which she showed us on Wednesday.

Blakeney's Bookstore

A careful reading of the advs. which appear in this issue of THE ACADIAN will be of profit. The Christmas season necessitates unusual purchases and it is worth while knowing where to buy to the best advantage. The story is told in our adv. columns this week.

A concert by members of the faculty of Acadia Conservatory of Music was given in the Baptist Church at Waterville on Monday evening. Those taking part were Miss Nathalie Gifford, soprano; Miss Pearl Griffith, reader; Miss Ruth White, violinist; Miss Rachel Johnston, pianist.

Opp. Post Office

The first snow of the season came on Monday night and on Tuesday morning the ground was covered with a mantle of white. Not enough came, however, to make the use of runners possible and by Thursday it had disappeared. While too early yet to safely predict as to the likelihood of a "White Christmas", the young folk are anticipating a return of "the beautiful" before that time.

For Toys, Fancy Goods

In a local store the other day oranges were offered for sale at nineteen cents per dozen while ordinary looking home-grown apples in the same store were priced at twenty-five cents per dozen. And yet Kings county people are talking about exchanging their apple orchards for orange groves. A wiser policy would be to encourage the sale of our own products instead of imported fruit. When it is recognized that the home market is good enough for our very best apples at a reasonable price the use of the domestic article will be greatly increased.

Smokers Supplies

The pulpit of St. Andrew's United Church was occupied on Sunday evening last by Rev. J. W. Prestwood, a former esteemed resident of this town and for some time the faithful minister of the Wolfville Methodist Church. Many old friends here were very glad to welcome him back and to again have the privilege of listening to his earnest address. Rev. and Mrs. Prestwood now reside at Hantsport where they purchased a property some time ago. Although he retired some years ago from the regular ministry of the church the services of Rev. Mr. Prestwood, always regarded as an able and effective preacher, are in frequent demand from all parts of the province.

Open Every Evening

The pictures at the Orpheum Theatre have been especially good this week. On Monday and Tuesday nights "The Hottentot" drew large crowds, and all enjoyed a good laugh. "The Eternal Flame", an eight reel super production, starring Norma Talmadge, also drew large audiences on Wednesday and last night. Tonight there will be a special program of three pictures. In addition to the feature picture, "Remembrance", there will be a comedy, "Pest of Storm Country", and "A Trip Through Faerland". On Monday night the Acadia Players will present the farce comedy, "Mr. Pim Passes". Tuesday's picture will be "A Man of Action", and Wednesday and Thursday Colleen Moore will be seen in "The Huntress".

The Early Bird Catches The Worm

That's how it is at The Little Shop. It's the folks who realize that Christmas and old St. Nick are only eleven days away, who are purchasing their gifts now—before the best are picked out.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT KINGSTON

Fire broke out in the factory of Acadia Canners Ltd., at Kingston, early Saturday morning, and made such progress that neither the building nor contents were saved. Previous to 1923 the factory was used for canning only, but this year new machinery for evaporating was installed and all this, with the expensive canning machinery is a total loss. Nearly all the products evaporated this year were in the building, and in addition, about 1000 barrels of apples were stored in the cellar, all burning with practically no insurance. The estimated loss will approach $80,000. The cause of the fire is unknown. About 60 employees will be thrown out of work.

The death of Mrs. George H. Whalen occurred last Sunday evening at the home of her son Harry Flinn, Woodside. The funeral was held yesterday morning.
