GREAT DAMAGE DONE IN KENTUCKY

Cincinnati, April 26 .- The storm yesterday unroofed stores, blew down houses, trees, fences and did more or less damage to nearly the entire population of Somerset, Kentucky. Advices from other points in Kentucky are of the same general tone.

At Toledo, Ohio, several buildings were damaged. A brick block in Monroe, O., was demolished. In Salem, O., the wind blew the top off the residence of M'Nab, which fell on Perry's foundry, crushing the roof, injuring ten workmen. Also quite a number of other residences were unroofed. At Kensington, O., a brick school house was demolished, injuring nearly all the scholars, some quite seriously. In this city and vicinity the wind blew down signs, trees, fences, etc. Rain fell in torrents and hail in the north-western part of the
