Woman Not a Person.

Brooklyn Eagle.

Not long ago a woman applied to be admitted to the examinations for a solicitor in Scotland and the Scottish law courts thereupon decided that a woman is not a person. That is to say, the act of parliament which regulates the terms on which anybody is admitted to practice law in Scotland speaks always of "persons," and the judges held that this word should apply only to men. Much the same decision was given a good many years ago in England about women medical students, and that matter was put right for the women who wished to become doctors by parliament passing an act stating definitely that women could be admitted to, all medical examinations where the heads if the professions were willing to admit them. the proprietor of the Hub Hotel.

Miss Cawthorpe's Recital.

A plano recital will be given to-morrow evening in the Centenary Church lecture hall by Miss Nellie Cawthorpe, of Thamesford, pupil of Cawthorpe, of Thamesford, pupil of Mr. W. H. Hewlett. Miss Cawthorpe graduated from the Toronto Conservatory of Music last summer unde Mr. Hewlett's tultion, and is still during your pastorate here. As a frequenter of our homes, you have endeared yourself to us by your genial manner and thoughtfulness, especially with the aged ones. In times of sorrow and trouble you have sympathized, and in times of rejoicing rejoiced, with us. The children and young people of our Sunday school and Epworth Leagues feel that in losing you a tried and trusted friend, one whio has always been interested in their welfare, is lost. Your presence at and your voice so often heard in the League meetings have been very shoouraging to the officers and members of the societies. Your home, presided over by your loving and faithful wife, has even been open to us, and we have been cheerfully greeted whenever we found it our privilege to visit at the parsonage. Her work among the women of the church in the various organizations in which she was always a willing helper will not soon be forrotten, for music are invited to attend.

Success in the West.

The four ladies of the Maridor-Goulding Vaudeville Company are being very favorably received as they journey coastwards. The party consists of Miss Theresa Maridor, Miss Bertha Goulding, Miss Hazel Raymor and Miss Midred A. Bassett. These young ladies are affording a great deal of pleasure by their versatile accomplishments and musical and dramatic ability. Writing a few church in the various organizations in which she was always a willing helper will not soon be forgotten, for in her quiet, unassuming way she did her work faithfully and well. In parting with you we regret that so many times we have shown a spirit of indifference, and have not supported you as we might have done, With a deep sense of your many benefactions, those assembled here have requested us, in their names, to present deal of pleasure by their versatile accomplishments and musical and dramatic ability. Writing a few days ago to her father, Miss Bassett narrated the varied experiences of their trip and public receptions. At Swam Lake the people flocked from far and near to attend the entertainment. The concert hall was filled completely with an appreciative audience. The amusement of the performers could be better imagined than described when they found there was no plano for accompaniment, and the only light in the room was that afforded by two tallow candles on the platform.
