GREATER HAMILTON'S MOST RELIABLE NEWSPAPER

SECOND DAY OF CONVENTION

Two More Days Preliminaries Before the Nominations

Big Time Round the Hotels-Fine

Chicago, June 17.—Down to business at last, the fourteenth Republican National Convention entered upon its sec unsettled, and with trouble enough in sight to make it practically certain that least two days more must be consum ed before nominations can be made and the work of the convention completed.

The hotels were scenes of what might be called a harmless riot; singing, cheering crowds in ceaseless, endless lines passed back and forth; campaign songs of old times and new were sung, and the far corners of the great buildings rang with cheers for everybody, from favorite

The bitterness which has been displayed on both sides of the injunction plank gave ominous threat of a storm of no small proportions should the controversy be flung into the convention in its grade form.

the national committee.

The Committee on Rules and Order of Business also had troubles of its own, and adjourned until this morning, with an unsettled controversy of importance on its hands. This was over the proposition to regulate the ratio of representation in future national conventions. The question is before the committee in the form of two resolutions, one by Representative Burke. of Pennsylvania, the other by Representative Parsons, of New York both of which, it is argued by those opposed to them, will have an important effect upon the status of the negro members of the Republican party in the south. A lively discussion on this matter was expected when the committee resumed its sessions this morning. In view of these incomplete matters before the committees, it was assumed at the outset that to-day's session of the convention would be comparatively perfunctory, so far as the main purpose of nominations is concerned. The features of to-day were expected to be a parade of the visiting marching clubs, the reports of committees and the speech of United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, as permanent chairman of the convention.

If a compromise be reached to-day upon the disputed planks of the platform, and if battles over the committee reports do not extend over night there seems a fair prospect that to-morrow will be clear for the nominating speeches, and that the close of the day may see the close of the convention.

INCOME TAXES.

Comber Thinks Ainslee Family Is Not Paying Enough.

Chatham, Ont,. June 17 .- One of the nost bitter disputes than ever agitated an Ontario town may be settled on June 23, when the Tilbury West Council will decide whether the Aimslee family, in Comber, are paying their full income taxes. The numerous branches of this family are said to own the best part of the village of Comber, Essex county, their properties said to aggregate about $250,000. Other taxpayers have for some time past been impressed with the smallness of the incomes of the Ainslee family as shown by the assessors' roll. A fund was collected to investigate, and it is the intention of the appellants in case the Council decides against them, to carry the matter before the County Judge. when the Tilbury West Council will

At the door of the cathedral the new Archbishop was met by Archbishop O'Connor, his predecessor, and by Vica General McCann. The latter, as chief celeric of the diocese, peformed the cere-mony of welcome and presented the Archbishop with the holy water. After the assembled priests had been sprinkled the procession advanced to the sanotu-ary. The Archbishop kissed the relies, and Vicar-General McCann read the pagal bull appointing His Grace Bishop papal bull appointing His Grace. Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton, then conducted Dowling, of Hamilton, then conducted the new Archbishop to the throne and installed him. Very Rev. Dean Morris, of St. Catharines, read an address of welcome on behalf of the clergy, and Justice Anglin read another from the laity. In his reply, Archbishop O'Connor laid special stress on the importance of religious education for the young. He rejoiced in the fact that Quebec and Ontario furnished an example for therest of the world in the way the rights of the minority should be respected by allowing for both religious and secular education under the school system. During the ceremony of installation Mgr. Sharretti, Papal Delegate, occupied a place with the priests of the diocese, and afterwards objects the diocese.

Power Committee In Private Session This Afternoon.

Beach Water Service to be Ready About July 1.

Barton township and the city have ocked horns at last in the dispute over supplying county residents with water sewers. At noon to-day W. A. H. Duff, solicitor for the Township Council, served Mayor Stewart with a writ in a people, applying for a mandatory injunc tion to compel the city to specifically perform the agreement of 1903, under which the annex came into the city. which the annex came into the city. The plaintiffs ask, among other things, to have the court define what is a reasonable distance from the water pipes for the township residents to get connection; what is a reasonable rate for sewer connection; for an injunction restraining the city from enforcing the resolution passed by the Sewers Committee in September of last year, insisting on the township people paying so much for every connection and sign an agreement; to have the township rate of assessment as made by Barton's assessor taken as the basis of assessment, and for a mandatory injunction compelling and for a mandatory injunction compel ing the city to carry out an agreement made with Thomas Barnes and others regarding the Sherman avenue sewer in

The Power Committee will have a private session this afternoon to consider the contract submitted by the Cataraot and to make a recommendation to the Council. The company was notified vesterday to fill in the blank space in the agreement as to the cost of are lamps. To-day Manager Hawkins sent a letter to the city saying he would lay the matter before the board. This is one of the points the committee is anxious to consider this afternoon, and an answer is expected by then. Although all the details of the street railway agreement have not been settled, Chairmas Sweeney expects to have a meeting of the general committee on Friday night to deal with it, and send a recommendation on to the Council. The City Solicitor and secretary of the Board of Works are going over the contract to-day.
