November, 780 years after the founding of Rome. He was then thirty years, ten months and twenty-two days old. The date on which he commenced his career fell in the fifteenth year of the Emperor Tiberius, and in the forty-sixth year after the building of Herod's Temple. This is in accordance with St. Luke iti., I, are St. John ii., 20. Jesus died on the 7th of April, 783 of the Roman era, that is to say, on the Friday before Passover; for it has been accertained by exact calculation that Passover fell that year on the 7th of April, 783; and as the latter year was a Jewish leap year, and consisted, accordingly, of thirteen months, his public career lasted two years and seven months. According to Professor Sattler, the Christian teckoning is at fault by five years, and we are now, therefore, in 1888 and not in 1883.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

Some recent evidence adduced by the Bosion Courier indicates that the Maine iquor law, after years of trial, is not all that liquor law, after years of trial, is not all that fancy painted it. In most of the cities and towns liquors are sold freely in drug stores instead of taverns, and the only difference appears to be that an inferior quality of liquor is sold, as the sale is contraband and without the inspection of the law officers. Perhaps this incidental accompaniment of poisonous ingredients may be tather agreeable to the advocates of the law. By killing off those who persist in consuming stimulants, they will in time secure a very sober if rather limited population.

The new high license laws in the West

Imited population.

The new high license laws in the West differ widely. In Illinois all licenses hereafter for the sale of spirits and wines are to be granted upon the payment of $500 a year, and for beer at $150. The Nebraska law puts the fee in cities of a certain grade at $1,000, and at $500 for all other places. The law of lowa permits towns to fix the amount and there is no unit. towns to fix the amount, and there is no uniform rule on the subject. In some places it is as low as $75, and in others as high as $1,000, while there has been a large increase in the average amount throughout the State, and a considerable reduction in the number of liquor-sellers.

The law prohibiting the sale of intoxicants in the North-West Territories is strictly enforced by the Government. An American writing from the end of the track says justice is dealt out evenly to every man in the country. He adds with reference to the liquor question:—

"Novody is allowed to sell any liquor, pain-killer, Jamaica ginger, lemon extract, vanilla, or in fact anything that is prepared with a drop of alcohol in it. unless he permit signed by the Governor of the N.-W. Territory: nor can a person bring into the country such stuff without such permit, not even for his own use. All trains are examined, and should a man be detected, his first offence is $50 and costs; his second, $200 and costs; his third, $400 and six months' imprisonment in a fort with ball and chain. Now, how do they enforce this law? a complaint is made that a party is disposing of such stuff four or five mounted police in, and takes Mr. Dealer in camp. He is fort-it may be a hundred miles or more, and friends, receives his dose, and you can rest assured that these police play no favourites, for, if they do, they get the same medicine that the dealer gets.

and Mr. Justice Ferguson, at the Court-house here, about one o'clock. Mr. Trevelvan Ridout, LL.B., of Tsronto, discharged the duties of registrar to the court. Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., appeared on behalf of the petitioner, Mr. Hobson, the defeated Conservative candidate, and Mr. S. H. Blake, Q. C., Mr. R. Harcourt, and Mr. Cowper represented the respondent, Col. Morin, the sitting member. It will be remembered that at the election in February last Col. J. E. Morin was elected over Mr. G. L. Hobson by a majority of 55, the poll standing:—Morin, 2,070; Hobson, 2,015.

The first witness called was the respondent, Col. Morin be vould wages if he voted. He had been visited by Mr. Cowper.

GABRIEL SCHLOEFEL, sworn, said that he lived at Humberstone, and rad been can vassed for his vote by both the Doanes, Caleb and F. Caleb Doane told the witness that if he would vote for Morin he would give him $2. Witness' brothers, Frederick, Gottlieb, and Ephraim, were near at the time. Witness said he would not take the money, whereupon Doane said "All right," and started away. Jacob said that would have been a good day's wages if he voted. He had been visited by Mr. Cowper.

The first witness called was the respondent, Col. Morin. He was examined at great length by Mr. McCarthy. He said that he had been nominated by the Reform party as their can idate at Crow and in October last.

Owing to the numerous engagements of the He was present at the meeting. There were about 130 in the hall. The meeting was open to all Reformers, but he did not know who called it. He knew of the meeting from the newspapers; did not know there was a Reform association in the county, but he believed so. He thought T. F. Brown was president, Bridgeman secretary, and J. H. Price treasurer. He lived in Bertie, but had no knowledge of any committee having been formed in that township or in any other. He was not certain that he bad attended any meeting in 1882 other than the one in which he had been brought out. He had taken an active interest in politics since he was 16; he was now 36. On being vigorously pressed by Mr. McCarthy, after some hesitation, he said that he thought there was an organization in the township of Bertie, and he was at one time a member of it. He did not know whether it was kept up. He did not at once accept the nomination tendered to him; he thought be accepted it before the

at once accept the nomination tendered to him; he thought he accepted it before the 18th December, but did not enter upon an active canvass at once. He began in January to make a personal canvass and hold public meetings. He received assistance in the campaign from Messrs B. B. Oaler, Warren Rock, A. B. Hardy, and Peter Ryan. He thought the election was won by moral sussion, and differed in that respect from the election in North Simcoe. (At this remark Mr. McCarthy smiled, and a general fitter ran through the court.) No business meetings of his friends were ever held. He never had any regular meetings to consider the state of the canvas. He had occasionally what Mr. McCarthy denominated "accidental" meetings at hotels. He thought, however, that the committees went to work. He knew Benjamin Upper, of Thorold township; was not aware till last winter that he was an active party man; met him early in January. He came up and said he had met witness in camp seven years before, and would support him. He heid a meeting at Thorold on the Saturday before the election, and made a canvass of the town with Conlan. He held a public meeting in Port Robinson in February; Mr. German assisted him. The canvass in Thorold lasted two or three days. He was not aware that he had received any assistance from St. Catharines. He had a brother named Patrick there, but thought he was a dyed-in-the-wool Tory, He did not know Mr. John Ryan. Never knew Mr. Frank McGuire until after the election. He met him at an oyster supper at Thorold about a week after the election. He had voted for him, as he had said he would do so. Saw him during the canvass frequently, and had conversations with him about the election. He had so list of his friends in the different polling sub-divisions, and he signed in blank the certificates appointing scrutineers. He knew Mr. C. B. Bennett, of Port Robinson. He was not aware that he took an active part in the campaign. Had met him occasionally and talked about the canvass. He knew Mr. Boardman, of Crowlend; he met in Humberstone and knew Caleb Doane. On election day Doane asked witness whether he had been got to vote, and he answered, "No." three or four times a say. It was rate for him to treat; he treated some before the election day Doane asked witness whether he had been got to vote, and he answered, "No." Doane drove to the polls and said he thought man; he held more man; he held out no inducement for voting for him. He gave witness one dollar when driving to the hotel at which the preceding witness treated. Thy Love,

It brightens all the cruel gloom
That closes round me like a tomb,
And fills my heart with summer bloom.
It makes me quite forget the pain
That grief has wrought within my brain,
And brings a flash of joy again.
It makes the darkest night to me
More clear than ever day can be,
For in my dreams I am with thee.

QUERIES AND REPLIES.

Mathew Martindale, section boss on the Grand Trunk, was run over by a freight train near Pine river bridge, about fourteen miles from Windsor, and instantly killed yesterday. Deceased was sixty years old, and leaves a wife and large family. He had been working for the company nearly twenty-five years.

It is sometimes best for farmers and other land proprietors to accept the terms offered for their land by railway companies rather than go to an arbitration. An arbitration is a very expensive matter, and it sometimes happens that the entire sum awarded is swallowed up in costs. The arbitrators in the case of the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company and Wm. Lea, of lot 12, in the third concession of York, made their award on Saturday last, and the result is that Mr. Lea gets considerably less than the sum offered to him by the company, and has therefore to pay the total costs of the arbitration, which will be not less than $1,200. The arbitrators were his Honour Judge Kingsmill, John Tilt, Eaq., barrister, of this city, and John Tyrell, Kaq., of Weston.

The Cornwall and Sault Ste, Marie Road.

Montreal, July 3.—Dr. Bergin, M.P., of Cornwall, President of the Ontario Pacific railway, was in the city today, when The, Mall, correspondent had an interview with him on the subject of the new line of railway from Cornwall to Sault Ste, Marie. The following is the substance of his information:—

Question—Is it brue that your charter for building a line from Cornwall terminates at French river. Nipissing Take? Answer—Whoever states that must have been following Rip Van Winkle's example and asleep during the last session of Parliament, or he would have been aware that the Ontario Pacific charter granted in 1852 to French river was extended to Sault Ste Marie, By a reference to Acts passed at the last session it will be found exactly as I have stated. extending their lines in order to centre at the same, terminus in the west? A. Certainly not, we have no such object; on the contrary, it is intended as a feeder, and an important one at that, of both these great through lines.

Q. Where do you literal to connect with these roads to get into Montreal? A. Smith's falls will have the junction.

Q. Then your ambition will be to work in harmony with both these times? A. That is our intention.

Q. Then your ambition will be to work in harmony with both these times? A. That is our intention.

Q. Do you claim any advantages over these roads in your line being shorter than they are from Sault Ste. Marie to Montreal harbour? A. Yes, , it will be one hundred and forty. miles shorter than the Grand Trunk and one hundred and five less than the Canadian Pacific.

Q. Is it frue that a great portion of your line will run parallel with the Canadian Pacific on the Upper Ottawa? A. The Canadian Pacific is on the north bank of the river—a difficult and extensive line to huild, whilst the Ontario Pacific is on the south, a very level country to penetrate.

Q. What may be the resources in the districts the line will run through in Canada that you depend on for traffic? A. It is the finest mineral country in the whole Dominion, it is wonderfully rich in the purest iron ore, and it will tap the virgan pine forest which the Ontario Government has reserved, and which is unequalled in extent in the Dominion.

Q. Will the hew bridge at the Sault be accessible to Dour traffic? A. The structure will be common to all railways. The Detroit company is building it purely as a toll bridge, and the more they make out of it the better the profit for the promoters.

Q. Where do rou look for connections and drawing your traffic from after crossing the line at the Sault? A. We look to the Southern Minesons hand Southern Minnesons lines for an immense through traffic from those fertile regions, also to the new lines in Dakota, Southern Montana, and hereafter across the mountains to Oregon, for there is a certainty of another through route to that point, and embracing a finer and more fertile country than the Northern Pacific has penetrated all over the Western country. The roads are extending rapidly in all directions, and as there is a determination to keep the Ontario Pacific from entangling alliances or being absorbed, the outlook for its getting an ample chare of traffic from all the lines is very cheering. Our route being the most time. Q. Is your company fully organized, and are you sanguine of being able to raise the necessary capital? A. Yes. And everything promises exceedingly well. GRAND-At 101 Mutual street, on the 23rd st., the wife of W. D. Grand, of a son,
