 Two revolver shots were fired at Premier Briand in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon. He was not injured, though M. Mirman, Director of Public Relief, was less fortunate, having received a bullet in his leg. The would-be assassin was formerly Clerk of the Courts at Bayonne. The police pointed upon him before he was able to use his weapon a second time, and hurried him from the place.

Special Evening Telegram.
MONTREAL, Jan. 17.
 The Washington correspondent of the Montreal Star says: "The most astonishing thing about the reciprocity negotiations here has been the lack of interest shown by the general public. Reciprocity is looked upon here as merely a matter of political expediency."
 "Said one political authority: 'Republicans are committed to reciprocity with Canada. It is one great plank of their platform. The American people entertain no delusions on the subject. We don't expect much in a general way from negotiations, hence we are not interested to the degree that Canada appears to be.'"
 "The above is the typical point of view held by the average American as represented by the inhabitants of Washington."

The EVENING TELEGRAM.

The advertiser who puts his Advt. in the EVENING TELEGRAM never complains of results. It is read and believed by the people who buy goods. That is one reason why the TELEGRAM'S advertising columns

Carry More Advertising Than Any Other Newspaper in Newfoundland.

That fact "speaks for itself," and it is not our intention just now to emphasize it further. What we want to do is to bring home to the business men (if there are any who have not availed of our columns in the past) the advantage to be gained through a liberal use of the TELEGRAM, in bringing before the people what they want the public—the great buying public—most to know.

The Kind of Goods They Have To Sell, the Quality of the Goods, Prices, &c.

If that is what the shopkeeper wants the public to learn, the TELEGRAM is the right medium through which it can be conveyed, because—

- 1st. It has the largest circulation, and
- 2nd. Consequently it is the most widely-read newspaper in Newfoundland;
- 3rd. Naturally, then, it must be THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM in Newfoundland;
- 4th. Therefore, the advertiser has everything to gain, and nothing to lose, by availing of the services of the EVENING TELEGRAM during 1911.

No Indigestion or Sick Stomach.

Gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia and all misery in Stomach vanishes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diaprepin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangles and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is: Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak; there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery. Pape's Diaprepin gives you instant relief. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diaprepin.

Children Frostbitten.

Numbers of children who live on the higher levels, cross Harvey and LeMarchant Roads in going to and from the various schools, and in returning to their homes over these thoroughfares yesterday they had a hard time of it. Several were pretty severely frostbitten about the ears and face and had to be looked after by their parents. Under such weather conditions as prevailed yesterday it is rather imprudent to send youngsters out and have them traverse bleak, wind-swept thoroughfares.

Dangerous Position.

About 7:30 last evening a man passing up Fever's Lane, a narrow thoroughfare which runs north from Governor Street, found an unfortunate man overcome from alcohol lying down in one of its darkest corners. He tried to arouse him but could not do so, and fearing if he left him he would be frozen to death, he ran to the police station and gave the alarm. Const. Tobin repaired to the place and after great exertion got the unfortunate to the station. He was frozen with the cold and if not discovered when he was he might have been badly frostbitten.

Water Pipes and Fountains Frozen

Yesterday morning and last night owing to the very severe frost which prevailed in most houses of the higher levels the water pipes became frozen, and plumbers had to attend to them. The fountains on several of the upper streets also became frozen and people had much difficulty in getting a supply of water for household purposes until the Council's employees attended to the fountains.

Very Cold Spurt.

The frost was very severe last night. At 10 o'clock at Mount Cashel it was 11 below. After that the mercury gradually lifted and at one o'clock this morning it was 6 below. At 10 a.m. it was at zero. At Signal Hill at sunrise the glass registered 2 below. In the city at 6 p.m. it was at zero, and at 10 p.m. went down to 4 below.

Fighting Bulls of Spain.

Raised in Andalusia and Brought Up for the Ring.

The famous fighting bulls of Spain are one of the most interesting features of the Andalusian plains.

The Spanish bull often has a rather hollow back. His horns are large, rather wide and turned up and inward—never shot, very thick and turned downward, as is usually the case with English bulls.

In his early youth he roams in comparative freedom over the plain. He early makes acquaintance with the garrochista's pic. Though the latter is merely a pole with no blade but only a small point like the stud end of an alpenstock, it is a formidable weapon when dextrously wielded.

At the age of about 2½ years a crisis in the life of a fighting bull arrives. This ordeal, which every animal must go through, is one which, according to a writer in the Wide World, very few foreigners have seen.

In the cool of the late afternoon one day a party of horsemen gather on a plain, accompanied by a professional picador. Two of the number, armed with long lancest ride up to the herd, round which is a guardian ring of horsemen. It should be mentioned that the full herd has already been split up into two portions by the removal of the belled bullocks to a distance of some half mile away. The guards now allow a bull to escape and off the latter goes at once to his bullock friends, tail in air, scouring over the plain, closely pursued by the galloping horsemen.

The latter, indifferently mounted on ewe necked ponies, do not usually succeed in overhauling their quarry for a couple of hundred yards or so, but then the nearest horseman, with his lance in rest, ranges alongside and delivers a prod. The bull turns to one side, letting up the other horseman, who in his turn delivers a thrust and throws the bull over.

Up gets the bull and again faces, pursued as before by the horsemen. The whole business is very like pig-sticking, with a much larger and slower quarry. This time the animal makes towards the other horsemen, who in scattered groups are for the present spectators, and possibly judges of the sport.

Before the bull reaches the latter, however, one of his pursuers ranges alongside once more, when he receives a third prod and down he goes again. Thoroughly annoyed he swings round for the charge, but his immediate adversary has galloped on and is out of reach. He turns his attention, therefore, to No. 2, whose place has now been taken by the professional picador. This man, with couched lance, awaits the bull's onsets. The latter charges again, and yet again to be received each time on the point of the lance.

And so the game goes on. If the bull after receiving a plentiful succession of nasty jabs, which merely inflict flesh wounds and do no serious harm, is undismayed and continues to charge as gamely as ever, he is considered to have pluck and fire enough to be worthy of the ring.

But should he, finding that his charges are fruitless, turn sulky, refuse to charge his opponents and endeavor to flee from them, he is branded as cowardly, is fattened, and in due time turned into beef.
