

Memorial Service.

As will appear from the preliminary notices which have been published recently in the daily press, it is proposed to hold a Memorial Service on Tuesday, July 1st, in honour of the Officers, W. O's, N. C. O's and men of the Newfoundland Royal Naval Reserve and the Royal Newfoundland Regiment who have fallen during the war. The lines upon which the programme for the Commemoration has been drawn up are somewhat as follows:—

Members of the Newfoundland Royal Naval Reserve, the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, Nfld. Forestry Corps, Nursing Services, Great War Veterans' Association and the City Brigades will assemble at the Prince's Rink and proceed to the various City Churches where Divine Service will be held at 10 o'clock. After the Service all the foregoing organizations (with the exception of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment) and deputations from the City Societies will proceed independently to Bannerman Park. The Regiment having remained in the Square opposite the Synod Hall will march to Government House to receive the Colours, the troops will probably be reviewed by His Excellency the Governor, and will proceed to Bannerman Park, where the Decoration Ceremony will take place. In the Park there will be erected a shrine on which wreaths will be laid by representatives of the above-named organizations while the massed bands play "The Dead March in Saul." His Excellency the Governor will then deliver a short panegyric after which the buglers will sound the "Last Post."

Stricken though we be with grief at the loss of our gallant sons and brothers, we cannot but thrill with pride when we recollect the splendid heroism and glorious achievements of those who

"Fought with the brave and joyfully
"Died in the faith of Victory."
Therefore it is has been suggested that the "Hallelujah Chorus" might very fittingly be played at the conclusion of the Decoration Ceremony; after which the troops and brigades will march back to their respective headquarters and the general public disperse.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the Memorial Service on July 1st is not being held solely in honour of those who fell at Beaumont Hamel, in July 1916, but to commemorate the supreme sacrifice made by all Newfoundlanders in every theatre of the war, on land or sea, since 1914. July 1st has been selected as the most suitable date as it synchronizes with the beginning of the holiday season and the approach of warmer weather. Nor must it be conjectured that this Memorial Service is to be anything in the nature of a Celebration. It is the time for that will come later when Peace is signed—but rather a NATIONAL ASSEMBLY FAVORABLE.

WEIMAR, June 20.

(Via London)—A poll of the members of the various parties in the National Assembly seems to show that the Peace Terms cannot fail to be accepted. The majority Socialists, it is added, gave a considerable majority in favor of signing. 6 members of the Cabinet, it is said, declared in a Cabinet meeting for an absolute rejection of the Peace terms. The Ministers were said to have been Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau, Herr Landsberg, Herr Giesberts, Dr. Dernburg, Herr Prauss and Herr Gotheil.

ALCOCK AND BROWN, K. B. E.

LONDON, June 20.

Captain John Alcock and Lieut. A. W. Brown, the airmen who made the first non-stop flight from Newfoundland to Ireland, were entertained at a luncheon at the Hotel Savoy today by the Daily Mail, at which the transatlantic prize of £10,000, offered by the newspaper, was presented to the aviators. Those attending the dinner included members of the British Cabinet and others. It was announced later that King George had conferred the Order of Knight of the British Empire on both Captain Alcock and Lieut. Brown.

BEGINNING TO WEAKEN.

PARIS, June 20.

News of the retirement of Philip Scheidemann as Premier, and of the reformation of the Coalition Government in Germany came as a surprise in Peace Conference circles, as it had been known for some time that Philip Scheidemann, Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau and several other Cabinet members were so thoroughly committed by past utterances to not signing the Treaty that a new Cabinet, and perhaps a new President, might have to be installed before the Treaty is signed unless it is modified materially. It is expected in Peace Conference circles that the new German Government will make a request for additional time in which to reply. The retirement of Von Brockdorff Rantzau and Herr Giesberts, and probably that of Dr. Dernburg from the Cabinet is anticipated. Matthias Erzberger, presumably, will take the place of Giesberts as the Centrist leader in the Cabinet. The selection of Herr Noske to head the new Cabinet, if the report is confirmed, is a surprising factor, as he had been regarded as an opponent of signing. It is known, however, that there has been a considerable shift in the attitude of the various politicians, parties and newspapers lately, and experts here on the German situation, think that Noske "as the strong man" of the administration may perhaps bring a favorable change in the German Government.

BERLIN, June 20.

The German Cabinet resigned at 5 o'clock this morning, but President Ebert will retain his office temporarily.

COTTON SPINNERS STRIKE.

LONDON, June 20.

Lancashire tomorrow is likely to see a strike of cotton spinners, involving 300,000 operatives. A number of conferences have been held at Manchester and in London during the past fortnight.

HUMILIATION FOR BERNSTORFF.

PARIS, June 20.

An unconfirmed report, received here from the Army Intelligence Bureau at Coblenz, says Count Von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador to the United States, has been named as Minister of Foreign Affairs, and that he will come to Versailles to sign the Peace Treaty.

ITALIAN ELECTION REFORM.

ROME, June 19.

After Premier Orlando had announced his resignation, Deputy Turati proposed that the Chambers proceed to discuss the Electoral Reform Bill, which aims to substitute the system of electing one representative for each electoral district, for that by which deputies are elected at large from the provinces. The proposal to discuss this measure was adopted.

CANADIANS KILL SERGEANT.

LONDON, June 20.

(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Eight Canadian soldiers were today charged at Bow Street with the manslaughter of Police Sergeant Green, of Epsom. The names of the soldiers charged follow: Allen Mykster, 3rd Reserve; Frank Harold Wilkie, 102nd Battalion; Herbert Tait, 11th Battalion; David Vorex, Forestry Corps; James Connor, Canadian Highlanders; and Gervais Borrier and Alphonse Masse of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. The name of the eighth soldier has not yet been received. On the application of the chief Constable, the Magistrates of Epsom have applied for a requisition of the order closing the Public Houses, issued in consequence of Tuesdays outbreak. Armed Canadians are picketing the streets of Epsom, and five hundred troops have been drafted into the town. The War Office, in reply to a communication from the Chairman of the Urban Council, states that the matter is in the hands of the Field Marshal commanding the forces in Great Britain.

MILITARY PLANS CONFIRMED.

PARIS, June 20.

The Supreme Council confirmed today plans made by the military authorities for a resumption of the advance into Germany in the event of failure of the Germans to sign the Peace Treaty within the allotted time, but it is not expected that the order for the Allied armies to advance will be given exactly at the time of expiration of time limit of Allies, but it was indicated there will be little delay, if any, in the manoeuvres. Baron Sonnino was not present at the meeting of the Council, but the fact that General Cavallero was called in was regarded as indicating that the Allies still regard Italy's position as not materially changed by the overthrow of the Orlando Government.

RANTZAU'S OBJECTIONS.

BERLIN, June 20.

Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau, head of the German Peace delegation at Versailles, has sent a note to Clemenceau, President of the Peace Conference, citing twelve instances, in which the covering note of the Allies reply to the Germans on June 16, announced concessions which are not contained in the altered text of the Peace Treaty. Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau asks how far the Allies bind themselves to these concessions, and requests written confirmation that contents of covering note and memorandum on points form part of the new peace offer. Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau further points out several instances wherein, in the present printed copies of the Treaty, differs from copy of May 7, and asks to be noted before expiration of time limit, how far it is intended these changes are to go.

We append an account of the Consecration, which was found amongst other records of the past.

Smuggling by Airplane.

(By BEN HECHT.)

Smuggling money and valuables out of Germany has been one of the most popular diversions of the idle since the armistice and the succeeding revolution. An estimate of the grand total thus carted out of the country must needs be unofficial, but financiers to whom I have talked and the smugglers themselves are agreed that negotiable wealth ranging between 6,000,000,000 and 8,000,000,000 marks, $1,500,000,000 and 100,000,000,000 has been toted across German borders into neutral countries in the course of the last six months. The methods used in removing fortunes from the clutches of the enterprising and the bolsheviks are numerous and peculiar. The German law that no one is allowed to take more than 50 marks ($12.50) out of the country has been of little use, as has served to enrich countless German customs officials serving on the German borders. I know one man who taking with him a suitcase containing 50,000 marks ($1,250,000) paid 10,000 marks ($125,000) of his fortune to two luggage inspectors at the Holsten on approaching the Holsten border. This method of bribing officials stationed at the border outposts to search all leaving Germany is, of course, the most prevalent. A man I know managed to sneak 100,000 marks ($750,000) into Holland by hiring a coal boat and giving the captain of the boat 10 per cent. of his fortune, and concealing the suitcase containing the rest of the money under a pile of coal on deck. The smuggler himself accompanied his millions to search all leaving Germany as a coal heaver. For several months this scheme of hiding money in a pile of coal on a coal boat was widely resorted to. Millions were smuggled into Holland in this manner. Millions have also been sent into neutral countries by airplanes. An aviator I met in a gasoline station boasted to me that he had made 1,500,000 marks ($375,000) in the months smuggling fortunes through the air.

"I asked only 5 per cent. of the total taken on each trip," he explained. "Most of the flyers were caught and asked 10 per cent. The government last month offered the flyers 10 per cent. of any money they would turn over to it that had been entrusted to them by rich smugglers. In nearly all cases the flyers put the money over to the smugglers and received tips of 15 per cent. not to turn the fortunes over to the government. It was just my luck not to be carrying any money that week."

Until a week ago frantic efforts were made by wealthy Germans to get their money into Belgium. With the signing of the armistice Germany promised to redeem all German marks in Belgium at par. Minister Erzberger, who conducted the armistice negotiations forgot in a moment of serious mental aberration to fix the sum of German money his government could redeem. Inasmuch as German mark to-day is worth from 9 cents instead of 25 cents in American coin smuggling marks into Belgium was for a time one of the largest financial enterprises in Germany. Once in Belgium a German financier could collect 1 franc (20 cents) for a mark whereas if he smuggled it into Holland he would only receive the equivalent of half a franc of loss.

The business of smuggling is a real business. It is not a game, as some people think. It is a real business, and it is being carried on in a big way. The government is doing its best to stop it, but it is a very difficult task. The smugglers are very clever and they are always finding new ways to get their money out of the country. The government is doing its best to stop it, but it is a very difficult task. The smugglers are very clever and they are always finding new ways to get their money out of the country.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT has announced that it will not accept the German offer to redeem marks at 10 cents to the dollar. The government is doing its best to stop it, but it is a very difficult task. The smugglers are very clever and they are always finding new ways to get their money out of the country.
