

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

BROUGHT SHIP THROUGH.

BOSTON, March 10. The Bank Line freighter Haleric, brought a cargo of jute here from India to-day, after a fight with fire and fumes, that lasted four days and nights, through the Red Sea and Mediterranean. The flames destroyed seven hundred bales of cargo, but the crew was able to prevent damage to the ship.

REDUCING CURFEW.

DUBLIN, March 10. The military authorities propose to restore the Curfew hour to-morrow to from ten o'clock at night to five o'clock in the morning if the present situation remains unchanged, it was announced to-day.

REGULAR ARSENAL.

CORK, March 10. The authorities claim to have discovered many revolvers, hundreds of rounds of ammunition, and eleven bombs in the house of Chancellor O'Riordan, who recently was placed under arrest.

PARLIAMENT FOR IRELAND.

LONDON, March 10. Answering a question in the House of Commons to-day, Premier Lloyd George declared he had received a resolution, passed at a meeting of Southern Unionists in Dublin, asking for a postponement of the appointed day for the setting up of a Southern Parliament. Lloyd George said the Government would consider this request, but that there would be no postponement in the case of the Northern Parliament. The Prime Minister denied that three hundred military blockhouses were being erected around the northern counties.

BELGIAN SOLDIER SHOT.

BRUSSELS, March 10. A Belgian guard was wounded by a bullet fired by an unknown person in the streets of Dulsburg, according to a despatch from that city, to the "Derniere Heure." The circumstances of the shooting have not been disclosed, but an inquiry is under way. This is the first incident of the kind reported from the newly occupied area.

OCCUPATION REGULATIONS.

DUSSELDORF, March 10. Allied forces in Dusseldorf will comprise five thousand men, three thousand of whom will occupy the barracks, the remaining two thousand being distributed throughout the town. A proclamation, issued to-day, forbids even the changing of members of the Allied forces, and declares that lack of proper respect will subject citizens to court martial. All assemblies of a public or private nature are forbidden, without special permission, and petitions must be submitted three days in advance, giving the name of the organization and the approximate number of persons who are expected to attend. The display of national colors is also forbidden.

HISTORY REPEATED.

RIGA, March 10. Bolshevik forces yesterday attempted to reach Kronstadt from Sestrotetik, across the ice, but were repulsed, according to Moscow advices. Shrapnel broke the ice, and it is reported that eight hundred of the Bolsheviks were drowned. Many wounded have been brought in to Kronstadt.

THE HIGH COST OF FISHING.

BOSTON, March 10. A conference here to-day of the Executive Board of the Fishermen's Union of the Atlantic with representatives of owners of the Boston and Gloucester steam trawlers, recently withdrawn from the fishing fleet, brought no new suggestions for a settlement of differences, which are keeping about twelve hundred fishermen and fish handlers idle. Fishermen cannot work at lower wages offered by owners, it was stated, and owners' representatives declared that trawlers cannot be operated at a profit at present fish prices and rates of pay.

QUICKLY AND RUTHLESSLY.

LONDON, March 10. Nikolai Lenin, Russian Soviet Premier, at the opening of the tenth All Russian Congress of the Bolshevik Party in Moscow, Tuesday, with reference to recent events in Kronstadt, predicted that the revolt in that city would be put down quickly, says a wireless message from Moscow to-day.

LLOYD GEORGE TALKS TO CLYNES.

LONDON, March 10. Decisions of the Supreme Council were lengthily discussed in the House of Commons to-day. Main interest centred in a duel between John Clynnes, Labor member, and former Food Controller, and Mr. Lloyd George. Clynnes, on behalf of the Labor Party, challenged the Prime Minister's change of attitude in having previously declared that reparations were only possible by restoring Germany's economic position, and now agreeing to a military coercion policy, which could only mean greater unemployment, greater debt, and greater taxation. Clynnes contended that the Allies acted precipitately in refusing to grant Germany a delay to make fresh proposals and thought they might have invoked the aid of the United States as arbitrator in a matter of this kind. Lloyd George defended his policy, and argued that Germany's exports to the Allies represented more than half her total exports, and could not believe that she would risk the loss of that trade by refusing to pay a fifty per cent. levy, especially since she had lost the whole of her eastern trade. Moreover, no German goods were essential to Britain except Asiline dyes, and of those Great Britain already had a stock sufficient for a year or fifteen months. Three quarters of the German dye factories, said the Premier, were situated in occupied territory, and Germany was bound under the treaty to supply one quarter of her output of dyes to the Allies. "I believe that when Germany realizes the meaning of her present attitude," continued the Premier, "there will be an agreement. She has everything to lose and nothing to gain by resistance."

A NEW BASIS.

LONDON, March 10. The basis of a new settlement regarding Turkey, according to a French source, will be, in addition to the evacuation of Constantinople, and to a large extent the relinquishment of Turkish control of the Straits, Greek control of Gallipoli, and an autonomous regime in Smyrna, with the creation of Greek preponderance in administration, while part of Smyrna will be free to Turkish commerce.

RAILWAYS REDUCE WAGES.

CHICAGO, March 11. Wage reduction proposals, affecting thousands of men, were officially announced yesterday by practically every western railway with headquarters in Chicago.

REPORTED WITHDRAWN.

BERLIN, March 11. Allied detachments which Wednesday night occupied Hamburg, were reported in newspapers as having been withdrawn yesterday.

DISCUSSIONS WELL ADVANCED.

DUBLIN, March 11. In connection with Lloyd George's announcement in Parliament that "the Government is willing to consider any suggestion for the future of Ireland, apart from the demand for an Irish Republic," it can be stated on excellent authority that renewed discussion looking toward peace, which began with the conferences of Lloyd George and Sir Edward Carson before re-assembly of Parliament, are now well advanced.

KRONSTADT O.K.

LONDON, March 11. Revolutionary authorities in Kronstadt have sent an ultimatum to the Soviet authorities in Petrograd, demanding the surrender of the city before March 25, on peril of a general bombardment. Wholesale executions of workmen are said to have occurred at Oranienbaum, Syterbak and Petrograd. Kronstadt, last night by wireless, announced its position with respect to food, ammunition and prospects as excellent.

AUSTRIA SYMPATHIZES.

VIENNA, March 11. An official expression of sympathy of the Austrian Republic for Germany, because of occupation of cities along the Rhine, by Allied troops, was expressed in an address before the National Assembly here yesterday, by Richard Weiskirchner, President of that body.

TROUBLOUS RUSSIA.

LONDON, Mar. 11. A great anti-Bolshevik movement in the region of Minsk, White Russia, is reported from Helisingsfors. Soviet troops are said to have mutilated and murdered Bolshevik commissioners there. Street fighting in Kiev is mentioned.

WORKMEN FRIENDLY DISPOSED.

PARIS, March 11. Representatives of Workers Unions, to the number of sixty thousand, have appeared before the Allied authorities at Dusseldorf and declared they did not consider the occupation of Rhine cities as a hostile act, says the Echo de Paris. They are quoted as saying the occupation was necessary against the attempts of German capitalists to evade payment of just reparations.

WAGE REDUCTIONS.

NEW YORK, March 11. A general move to reduce wartime railway wages appeared to be in full swing to-day, and there are indications that Canadian railways may follow suit.

HONORED GERMAN DEAD.

ALLIED MILITARY HEADQUARTERS, Reims, March 11. Gen. Gaucher, commanding French troops, yesterday placed wreaths on the graves of French and German soldiers, saying as he stood by the German graves, "these died in obedience to military orders."

REVOLUTION MAKING HEADWAY.

LONDON, March 11. Trustworthy news received from the interior of Russia, says Times despatch, shows anti-Soviet revolts are spreading throughout the country. The food situation is described as catastrophic as no food trains have reached country from Siberia since February eleven. Helisingsfors reports anti-Soviet leader, Antonov, has badly defeated Red troops in the Kursk region.

MORE WORK FOR LEAGUE.

VIENNA, March 11. Three reservations have been made by the Austrian Government in acceding to the demands of the Allies for disarmament. Mr. first governing the guns defending Vienna; second, taking exception to demands for prohibition military of schools; third, relating to demobilization of Vienna arsenal. The Government is preparing an appeal to the League of Nations.

SPANISH CABINET TO RESIGN.

MADRID, March 11. Count de Bugalia, acting Premier, will place the resignation of the Cabinet in the hands of the King to-day, it is reported. Police continue to arrest men suspected of assassination of Premier Dato.

Schr. Tipperary Reported.

The schr. Tipperary, which was abandoned near Trepassy some days ago, has been reported as floating on her side with one spar broken off. As there was no sign of the vessel the past couple of days it was thought she had sunk. The Ingham which left port this morning was ordered to locate the wreck and bring her to Trepassy.

Jocular Judges.

One of the best stories told of the famous Mr. Justice Maule concerns an occasion when he was presiding at the Guildford Assizes in a murder case. During the progress of the case in question, the counsel for the Crown put a little girl into the box who was five or six years old. The counsel for the defence objected to the child being sworn, saying that it was impossible she could understand the nature of the oath.

"There may be something in what you say," said Maule. "Come up, my dear, and sit by me." The child was lifted up to the bench.

"Now, my child, you are going to be asked some questions."

"Yes, sir."

"Now, suppose you were a naughty little girl, and told stories, do you know where you would go to?"

"No, sir," answered the child.

"Neither do I," said Maule; "an excellent answer. Swear the witness."

The story is told by Mr. F. C. Phillips in "My Varied Life." Mr. Phillips tells of another judge, Mr. Baron Martin. At the same Assizes he was trying a man for murder, and he summed up to the jury dead against the prisoner. The jury, however, took a merciful view of the case and returned a verdict of manslaughter. Baron Martin was always brief in his sentences and never attempted to harrow a prisoner's feelings. "Prisoner at the Bar," said the old Scotsman, "you're the luckiest man I ever came across. Take your penitence for life."

Breaking It In.

A heavy smoker, Mark Twain loved his old corn-cob pipe above everything else.

One day Mr. Edward Bok, editor of the "Ladies' Home Journal," asked him whether it was the only pipe he had.

"Oh, no," Mark answered. "I have several. But they're all like this. I never smoke a new corn-cob pipe. A new pipe irritates the throat. No corn-cob pipe is fit for anything until it has been used at least a fortnight."

"How do you break in a pipe, then?" asked Bok.

"That's the trick," answered Mark Twain. "I get a cheap man—a man who doesn't amount to much, anyhow; who would be as well, or better, dead—and pay him a dollar to break in the pipe for me. I get him to smoke the pipe for a couple of weeks, then put in a new stem, and continue operations as long as the pipe holds together."

Wise Men Say—

Try and you may; don't and you won't.

Great opportunities come to those who make use of small ones.

It's better to get licked than never to have put up a game fight.

Don't think that anyone who doesn't happen to agree with you is a fool. Unless we put our ideals into practice they are no more than empty dreams.

Imagination without knowledge, training, and experience is like lightning—uncontrolled electricity, liable to do damage.

We do a great deal of grumbling about the rough journey of life when we might be using or strength to better advantage in mending the road.

What He Was Praying For.

Startling revelations regarding the narrow escape of the Premier and Ministers during the war are given by Sir Maurice Sankey, Secretary to the Cabinet. Mr. Lloyd George was to have accompanied Lord Kitchener to Russia, but was prevented at the last moment, and he narrowly missed being in Calais when it was bombed.

A destroyer containing Mr. Asquith and half his Cabinet drifted into a newly-laid German mine-field through a misunderstanding. When someone remarked to Mr. Buxton after an extremely rough Channel crossing, that at least the party had escaped the German mines, he coolly replied: "A mine was the one thing I was praying for."

THE UBIQUITOUS FORD.—Quite a number of people were surprised to see a Ford Car speeding up Water Street at about 8.45 this morning. There is no doubt about the Ford being an all-weather car.

Governments in Business.

A Government that goes into business is as likely to lose as any of its competitors. The experience of Holland in a four deal should restrain those who want the Dominion and Provincial Governments to engage in all kinds of enterprises, from railroading to general storekeeping. Queen Wilhelmina's ministers bought flour last summer to eat in the coming winter. Now there is plenty of flour coming into the country and prices there, as in Canada are far below the inflated figures of earlier months.

Without realizing it, the Netherlands officials were risking public money on their belief that the world's food crops this year would be insufficient for its needs. They have lost about $12,000,000 at recent quotations. Nobody in Holland wants to buy the government's flour at last summer's prices. The consumer's attitude is the same as it is in Canada toward private holders of sugar, flour, cotton and other commodities. He will pay the market price and no more. An effort to control the market in the Treasury's interest is unpopular, newspaper comments show. The Dutch government, no doubt, is eager to get out of the flour business.

The difficulties of Holland in supporting flour prices against world-wide recession, of Cuba in trying to hold up sugar, of Japan as the Atlas of silk supply are good reasons for congratulating the Meighen govern-
