L. G. IN MONTREAL.

Speaking briefly at an open air services, during which he turned the first sod for the new Emmanuel Baptist Church, he declared he was glad Montreal and Canada were not victims of the plague of materialism which is threatening to engulf the world. I have noted that Montreal is a city of very beautiful churches. When I was here twenty-four years ago your population, I think, was about a quarter of a million. Since then you have prospered and I am glad that in your prosperity you have not forgotten God. It is the only sure foundation for the future of a great city."

In Memoriam

MISS ANGELA BENNETT, Holyrood. After an illness of two years' duration, borne with heroic Christian resignation, Miss Angela Bennett passed away to the Great Beyond at noon on Monday last. Deceased was the eldest daughter of James and Catherine Bennett, Southside. She was 23 years old and enjoyed good health until stricken down with that dread disease Consumption, which resisted all the efforts of expert medical advice and treatment to combat the attacks of the fell disease.

The late Miss Bennett was a School Teacher of seven years standing and passed from the High School with Intermediate Grade. Later she was chosen as a pupil teacher and entered St. Bride's College Littlefield to train for her chosen profession. Here she was the zealous and ideal student and graduated with high honors in her class. With true missionary spirit she commenced teaching at Little Bay, where she taught school for one year. The South Side School, however, became vacant; she was offered and accepted the appointment of Teacher of that school. Here she taught for seven years until broken health compelled her retirement two years ago. Earnest and conscientious, painstaking and hardworking, she did not spare herself in her efforts to impart a sound education to those under her care, and with such gratifying results to the Education Board and parents as to raise the standard of her school to Intermediate Grade. In fact she seemed to be naturally endowed with that sweet graciousness and attractiveness of manner which at once won confidence and predisposed the hearers to listen and obey. The teaching profession loses a good teacher; the church a devoted member, and the League of the Sacred Heart a tried and trusted officer.

Rev. Fr. Finn, P.P., frequently attended the sick lady and allayed her sufferings often with cheery optimism, but when he left the end was approaching. He administered to her the beautiful last rites of the church. Her father, who was in U.S.A., was telegraphed to come home, but arrived just two hours after his daughter's death.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Wednesday evening last from her late home to the beautiful South Side Cemetery. The funeral ceremony was performed at the home by the beloved pastor, Fr. Finn, after which the funeral arrangements were made by Undertaker Dunphy. The remains were enclosed in a handsome casket, which was laden down with wreaths, affectionate souvenirs of thoughtful friends. The children of the South Side and High Schools marshalled by Teacher Kennedy, marched in procession order before the hearse, paying their last tribute of respect to their dear teacher and friend. Arrived at the graveside the pallbearers at the order of Undertaker Dunphy reverently and tenderly lowered the remains into "the dark and lonely grave," but all at once the darkness was entirely lit up by the brilliant rays of the evening sun pouring down upon her into it. The Church Choir under the direction of Miss Flynn, sang that beautiful soul-stirring hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," and thus fittingly ended the obsequies of an honorable and lamented friend.

Miss Bennett leaves to mourn their sad loss her sorrowing and grief-stricken father, mother, sister and brother, and to them the writer offers sincere and heartfelt sympathy on the death of their beloved daughter and sister, and prays that God may comfort them in their great sorrow and have mercy on the soul of the departed one.—COM.

Conclude Reorganization of Presbyterian Churches

NEW YORK (A.P.)—Every pastor of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., 10,000 in all, will receive during the next two weeks copies of a new plan for organization of synods, presbyteries and local churches, prepared by the Committee on Reorganization and Consolidation. This is one of the final steps in the reorganization of the church which has been in process for three years.

The plan proposes that each of the 301 presbyteries set up a presbyterial council, a standing committee on promotional programme and field activities, and standing committees on the work of each of the four new boards, foreign missions, national missions, Christian education and ministerial relief. For each of the forty-six synods similar council and committees are suggested.

For each of the 10,000 Presbyterian churches a local church council is planned, to co-ordinate all the organizations and activities of the church, functioning under the seclusion of the local church, and co-operating with the presbyterial committees. The purpose is to effect a harmonized, united and effective effort in all enterprises of the denomination throughout the United States, without in any way sacrificing the individual authority of the local church or presbytery.

Unusual Entertainment at Nickel To-Day

A GREAT VOCAL PROGRAMME HAS BEEN PREPARED.

The Nickel Theatre offers its patrons to-day an unexcelled bill of Singing and Pictures. Miss Armstrongs and Miss Loring will be heard in the biggest programme of selections ever rendered. This is the greatest musical treat in the city and no doubt the music-loving public will turn out in their thousands to hear something that is really worth hearing.

Besides this big musical item, there is a big social drama entitled "Alias Lady-Fingers," featuring the popular Canadian actor, Bert Lytell, who is seen in a role that ranks him among the greatest of screen artists. The story is from the pen of Bayard Veiller, author of "Within the Law." Another of the famous Sherlock Holmes stories, entitled "A Scandal in Bohemia" will be seen to-day—and last but certainly by no means least is the inimitable comedian Charlie Chaplin in "A Day's Pleasure," one of his famous million dollar comedies with a laugh in every line.

"Rich Men's Wives" will be shown at this theatre soon. It's a truly great picture enacted by a cast of truly great artists; a theme that will set tongues wagging among rich and poor alike, in discussion of the solution given by Gansler to the question: "Are Rich Men's Wives" to be pitied, scorned or envied?"
