INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 3 .- At 3:30 clock this morning fire broke out in the Indiana Medical College. In a few minutes the whole building was in flames. The fire quickly spread to the Scottish Rite building, where the finest Masonic paraphernalia in the west was reduced to ashes. This building was but recently purchased and the estimated loss to the Masons will reach $100,000.

Every section of the college building was leveled to the ground, and a ghastly feature of the disaster was the fact that eighteen bodies stored in vats for dissecting purposes were burned nagistrate would not bind him over, but to a crisp.
