

SPORTING WORLD

Results of the Racing at Oak-land and New Orleans.

Jockey Joe Weber Suspended Inde-initely—Checker Match—Notes.

HOCKEY.

The members of the London Hockey Club took their final outdoor work last night, taking a three-mile run in the snow. All members are requested to be at the Princess Rink not later than 6 o'clock to have their first practice on ice. "I feel confident," said Trainer George Black this morning, "that our team, in their present condition, can again win the championship. Oh, yes, the Nationals gave the St. George boys an awful beating, but when they come against the London team they will find a lot of hockey players. I am sure we shall give the strong Welling-ton team a harder battle than they are looking for when we meet. Our chances are very good of winning the game."

GAME POSTPONED.

The game arranged for next Fri-day between the London and the Well-ingtons, of Toronto, has been post-poned.

FISTIC.

THE L. A. C. CONTEST.

Besides the Smith-Snyder bout on the 4th of January, the Grand Opera House, the management have secured two rattling preliminaries to open their show with. Arthur St. Pirie, the Detroit lad who fought Smith & drew in their first meeting and lost the decision to him in the second, will be seen here with Bern-ard Carroll, the clever little Rochester boy, and this will, without a doubt, prove a fast ten-round contest, as both men are sure of getting a de-cision. Then come the favorites, Tay-lor and Barbur, who will go six rounds. The clever exhibition they made at the last contest here is a guarantee for the interest of this event. The contest will begin at 8:15 sharp, and the man-agement of the London Athletic Club are untiring in their efforts to make this the success of the season and will spare no expense to give the public the worth of their money on Thursday, Jan. 4.

AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, Dec. 27.—Knight Ban-neret was the only winning favorite yesterday.

First race, selling, 1 mile—Blue Lick 1, Mantus 2, Jimp 3. Time, 1:48.
Second race, 6 furlongs—Knight Banneret 1, Sadie Burroughs 2, Crane 3. Time, 1:37.
Third race, selling, 1 1/16 miles—Len-nep 1, Eldin 2, Rushfield 3. Time, 1:54.
Fourth race, handicap, 7 furlongs—Stranger 1, Trillo 2, St. Wood 3. Time, 1:43.
Fifth race, 6 furlongs—Jime Gore 1, Wiggins 2, Bill Jackson 3. Time, 1:17.
AT OAKLAND.

San Francisco, Dec. 27.—Yesterday the track was fast at Oakland.

First race, Futurity course, selling—True Blue 1, Braw Lass 2, Meadow Lark 3. Time, 1:11.
Second race, 4-mile, selling—Tuttils 1, Gusto 2, Devereaux 3. Time, 1:01.
Third race, 2-mile, selling—St. John King 2, Hindoo Princess 3. Time, 1:40.
Fourth race, 1 1/16 miles, selling—Favorham 1, Einstein 2, Morinel 3. Time, 1:48.
Fifth race, 3/4-mile, free handicap—Plan 1, Dr. Sheppard 2, King Carnival 3. Time, 1:27.
Sixth race, 1 1/16 miles, selling—Ben 1, Silver Tote 2, Pat Morrissey 3. Time, 1:06.

The stewards have suspended Jockey Joe Weber indefinitely for his rides on King Carnival, Nov. 21, and on Loving Cup, Dec. 20. The stable of George W. Miller, the St. Louis horseman, who owns Loving Cup, was reinstated, as it was shown he bet on the mare when she made such a poor showing.

NOTES OF SPORT

"Another turf war threatens in California. Thorpe leads the jockeys at the 'Frisco tracks, and Boland is the star at New Orleans.

Those who have figured out John L. Sullivan's earnings in the ring place the amount at $331,400.

As a tribute to his ability as a fight-er, several well-known sporting men have decided to present Terry McGovern with a diamond-studded belt, em-blematic of the bantam-weight cham-pionship of the world.

Jack Everhardt, the southern fighter, is now a horse owner, having purchas-ed a 2-year-old that gives promise of developing into a sprinter of quality.

Tod Sloan is going to California for a few weeks, but says he does not ex-pect to take any mounts while there, and will return to England early in the spring.

"Skeets" Martin rode 48 winners out of 138 mounts during his brief season in England, and likes the game so well that he will return to that country about March 1.

After the first of the year a new rule goes into effect, whereby jockeys are to receive personally all fees for riding in races where the stable by which they are employed is not represented.

Eddie Bald, the Buffalo cyclist, who went to England to back Tod Sloan's mounts, wears a very cheerful exterior, but he has failed to mention how much of the $10,000 that he took abroad with him for speculative purposes, burdened him on the return passage.

CHECKERS.

A TIE MATCH.

Toronto, Dec. 27.—Champion R. M. McLaurina, of Windsor, played three games of checkers last night with James Wylie, regarded the strongest local man. The score was one win each and a draw.

If you have catarrh, rheumatism or dyspepsia, take Hood's Sarsaparilla and be cured as thousands of others have been.

DO YOU KNOW

UNCLE SAM'S

Union made—5c. For sale everywhere.

Melroe, Niles & Co., Manufacturers.

THE BURIAL OF D. L. MOODY

Remains of the Great Evangelist Laid in the Grave.

East Northfield, Mass., Dec. 27.—The funeral services in memory of Dwight L. Moody were held at the Congrega-tional Church at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with an attendance which recalls the summer days when hun-dreds came to Northfield to attend the meetings made famous by the presence and influence of the great evangelist. A man who for many years have been connected with Mr. Moody's work took part. Rev. C. I. Schofield, D. D., of-ficiated, assisted by Rev. J. A. Torrey, of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, and appropriate music was sung by the choir of the church and the Mount Hermon male quartet, which has as-sisted Mr. Moody in the work here during the last two years. The body was borne to Round Top, a historic spot upon the grounds of the institu-te, for burial. At the grave a hymn was sung, Rev. Mr. Torrey offered prayer, and Mr. Schofield pronounced a ben-ediction.

In the procession were the following honorary pall-bearers: Ira D. Sankey and George C. Stebbins, of Brooklyn; R. C. Morse and D. C. Williams, of New York; Rev. W. J. Herdman and Rev. George C. Needham, of Phila-delphia. Mrs. Moody's expressed de-sire that the services should be as simple as the life of the evangelist always had been, was followed.

The service opened with a hymn, "A Little While," by the choir of 150 stu-dents. An invocation was followed by the Scripture lesson, read by Rev. T. Pierson, of Brooklyn. After prayer the Mount Hermon quartet sang "Immanuel's Land."

Rev. Dr. Schofield then delivered an eulogy in which he said: "Whether we measure greatness by qualities of character, by qualities of intellect, or by things alone, Dwight L. Moody must be accounted great. The basis of Mr. Moody's character was sincerity, genuineness. He had an inveterate aversion to all forms of sham, unreality and pretense. Most of all did he detest religious pretense. His first question concerning any proposed action was, 'Is it right?' Besides all this, Mr. Moody was in a wonderful degree brave, magnanimous and unselfish in his power."

L. Moody lay, first, in a definite ex-perience of Christ's saving grace. He had passed out of death into life, and he knew it. Secondly, Mr. Moody be-lieved in the divine authority of the Scriptures. The Bible was to him the verse of God, and he made it resound as such in the consciences of men. Thirdly, he was baptized with the Holy Spirit, and knew that he was. It was to him as definite an experience as his conversion. Fourthly, he was a man of prayer. He believed in a living and unfettered God. But, fifthly, Mr. Moody believed in the ceaseless effort, in wise provision, in the power of organization, of publicity." Rev. R. A. Torrey followed with eulogy, based upon Mr. Moody's life as exemplifying the grace of God, and several visiting ministers spoke briefly.

The exercises at the church closed with the hymn, "When Morning Gilds the Sky." The body was then carried to the burial place at Round Top, where the choir sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and after prayer and a benediction the body was lowered to its resting-place.

Good Advice.

Mr. Isaac Holden, Omeme, Ontario, formerly of Toronto and Montreal, ac-tively buyer, well and favorably known all over Ontario and Quebec, says in regard to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills: "For the past two years I have been a great sufferer with muscular and nerve rheumatism, and chronic constipation. The rheumatism got so bad the early part of the past winter that I could not get round without the help of a cane; even then it was only with great difficulty and excruciating pain. My blood was stagnant; my legs, feet, arms and hands feeling numb all the time, brisk rubbing fail-ing to restore circulation. Frequently when walking a spasm of pain would take hold of the muscles and nerves of my legs and in an instant I became powerless and would fall perfectly helpless. The first of January last I was in such a crippled state, and suf-fering such constant pain, that I felt I must go to bed and be laid up help-less and suffering for an indefinite time with the probabilities that I would never be able to get around again. Fortunately my son, who had received a great benefit from Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, said: 'Father, why don't you try these?'

"I did so, and in one week felt so much better and so much relieved from pain that I have continued the use of them. They cured me of constipa-tion, and the rheumatic pains have entirely disappeared from my joints and stomach. They have restored healthy and natural circulation of my blood and enabled me to get around without inconvenience."

"They are a marvel in the medicine line. It is the only medicine of the many I have taken that gave me im-mediate and permanent relief. I am satisfied that if I had not taken them I would today be helpless in bed, suf-fering torture which only those who have active muscular and nervous rheumatism can imagine."

Fifty cents per box, all druggists, or Sam Williams & Co., Toronto, Ont.

ALMOST SCALPED.

St. Thomas, Ont., Dec. 27.—E. R. Routledge, formerly an advertising sales-man for the Windsor Record, met with a terrible accident yesterday morning. He was going upstairs to his room in the Grand Central Hotel, when he lost his balance and fell. The back of his head came in contact with a post and his scalp was badly cut. His nose was broken, and he received a large gash under one eye. Dr. Lipsey was called, and he found it necessary to put 20 will recover.

BLIND MAN'S CRIME.

Baltimore, Dec. 27.—Franklin B. Livingston, a blind man, aged 56, chok-ed his wife to death yesterday morn-ing at their home in this city. Later Livingston walked to a police sta-tion, gave his name and address, and claimed his wife tried to smother him with a feather-bed. Livingston was locked up and the police went to the house, where they found the nude body of the woman in a bath-tub, as Liv-ingston had said. Jealousy is thought to have caused the crime. The man is a civil war veteran, having lost his eye-sight in the battle of Fair Oaks. He had a pension of $12 a month.

JOINTINGS FROM NEAR-BY PLACES

MOUNT BRIDGES.

Mount Brydges, Dec. 26.—On Wed-nesday last a number of the friends and parents of the pupils of school section No. 4, Caradoc, visited the school for the purpose of bidding farewell to Miss Jessie F. Lawrence, of Thame-sford, who has so successfully conduct-ed the school during the past two years, and is now resigning to take charge of a school at West Zorra. After a thorough review of the work of the school and the singing of several patriotic songs by the pupils, Miss Mabel Humphrey stepped to the platform, read a parting address, while Miss Flossie Willis presented Miss Lawrence with a beautiful lady's toilet set, as a slight token of the esteem in which she is held by the pupils. Miss Lawrence made a suit-able reply, thanking them for their kind remembrance, and alluding to the fact that a teacher's duties were relieved to a large extent by the co-operation of pupils and parents. Miss Lawrence came to the section a total stranger, but has won for herself a popularity that will be held in long remembrance.

STRATHROY.

Strathroy, Dec. 26.—Messrs. A. E. Murray, Alex. Rose, G. P. Smith, F. Newton, of Toronto; Sept. Thompson, of London; H. W. Thompson, of Gratiot Rapids; Alex. Leitch, of Kingston, spent Christmas with relatives in town.

Miss May Crotty is spending a few days with her brother, Mr. J. Crotty, of Milton Bixel and William Lindsay, of the Kingston Military College, are spending the Christmas holidays with relatives here.

The death of Mr. L. R. Richardson, who died in London last week, were brought to Strathroy and interred in the Strathroy cemetery Sunday after-noon.

The death of Miss Pedley, of Caradoc street, took place in Chatham last week.

Miss May Rason and Olive Thomp-son, who have been attending Toronto Normal School are home for the holi-days.

Dr. Robertson, of Chicago, is the guest of his brother and sister for a few days this week.

The Women's Christian Association will give their annual co-education din-ner to the inmates of the House of Refuge on Wednesday, Dec. 27, com-mencing at 2 p.m. The association will be pleased to have officers of assistance. Cakes and pies may be left at the resi-dence of Mrs. Armstrong on Tuesday, Dec. 26.

Miss Bertha Saddle and Miss Nellie Clarke, of London, are home for the Christmas holidays.

St. John's annual Sunday school entertainment was held in the Lyceum last Tuesday evening, an excellent programme of songs, drills, recitations, dialogues being presented.

LAKE SHORE

Lake Shore, Bosanquet, Dec. 27.—Mrs. Howland, of Argyle street, Forest, has returned to her home from the resi-dence of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson here, where she had sojourned during the past week.

The trustees of S. S. No. 7, Bosanquet, are evidently much more than satisfied with Mr. Nathaniel McDonald as their school teacher, as they have re-neged him at a $25 increase of salary.

Miss Hattie Shannon, of Kettle Point, is in bed sick, and but slight hopes of her recovery are entertained.

Miss Elia Fraser is at Round Top, holidaying with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paine, and will probably continue her visit all winter. She will be missed by a large circle of friends, and especially by the choir of the Congregational Church.

Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Ben Clemens, whose right arm was lacerated by the mower last summer. Ac-cident has been the cause of her pain, and was accomplished last week. Everyone hopes to hear of her re-covey.

The Methodists are good at getting up one-acting devices in connec-tion with the church work. This time it is the Indians to the front. Being in danger of losing the organ from their Stony Point Church, they start-ted a box at all dealers, for $1.00.

Mr. Bartlett, and his wife. The debt is nearly cleared off. Christmas night they had a Christmas tree, and new year's night they will have their an-nual feast.

Jeff Bessette is building a new pier for the use of Kettle Point pleasure-seekers next season. Jeff is an early bird.

Mr. Gustin's broken leg is not doing very well.

Rev. Mr. Cook, who has been sup-plying the Congregational Churches of Lake Bosanquet and Ebenezer, in Putnam, for the past few weeks, is likely to be invited to become their pastor.

The Jerusalem News, which has been published in Forest for this year, is to be taken suddenly ill on Christmas Eve. It was a bright little five-cent monthly, but several things conspired to make it unprofitable. Firstly, there are two papers publish-ed weekly in town, and they are both taken at nine cents every one for miles around, and two are enough. Secondly, the majority of people are more concerned about the war news and political matters than about the return of the Jew to Palestine. Still, those who have taken the Jerusalem News are sorry to say good-bye, instead of wishing it a happy new year.

BELMONT.

Belmont, Dec. 27.—The annual Sun-day school anniversary of Kilmartin Church was fittingly celebrated on Friday evening, Dec. 22, with Rev. John Cur-rie, pastor, in the chair. Messrs. Doug-las Ewan and Albert Campbell won well-merited applause from the large and representative gathering, with Hattie Smith as accompanist. The quartet by Messrs. Albert Campbell and D. Ewan, and Messrs. Sarah and Douglas, of Yarmouth Center, and Laura Smith, of Mapleton, charmed the audience. Instrumentalists, Misses Olive McIntyre, Ida Penhale and Hazel Gilbert. The choir sang with fine effect, "Somewhere." The silver offer-ings totaled about $20.

Mr. John A. Campbell, Yarmouth, was taken suddenly ill on Christmas Day. Dr. Wilson, of St. Thomas, was summoned, and pronounced the trouble enlargement of the liver.

Mr. Mansfield, a progressive farmer of Belmont, arrived at the residence of Wm. Cousins, Westminster, and glad-dened the household in the prospective participation of a happy event.

GLANWORTH.

Glanworth, Dec. 27.—Julius, son of Madison Fisher, aged 24 years, met with an accident on Thursday, sustain-ing a fracture of one of his legs in two places from the kick of a young horse. Dr. Nichol had the patient re-moved to the Amasa Wood Hospital, St. Thomas, where Drs. Gann and Lawrence reduced the fracture.

Gordon, son of Elder Duncan McColl, was taken to the general hospital, Lon-don, and subjected to a critical opera-tion by Dr. Wishart, assisted by Dr. Nichol, when a detached bone was re-moved from his thigh.

The annual entertainment of the Sunday school under the auspices of the Anglican Church was held on Wed-nesday evening in the spacious hall, with Rev. S. E. G. Edelstein, the popu-lar pastor, in the chair. Messrs. Dr. Nichol and William Brodie officiated as soloists. The choir gave several choice selections with great precision. Mrs. Shore acting as accompanist.

Mr. Charles A. Randall, of San Fran-cisco, Cal., is the guest of Elder John McColl.

The output of the creamery totals from 600 to 700 pounds of butter per week. Maximum price realized, 23c per pound.

Dr. Hugh McColl, of Lapeer, Mich., is spending Christmas at his maternal home.

CULTURE

UNDER GLASS

First-Class Fruits and Vegetables May Be Grown in This Way.

Meehan's Monthly, for December says: Ignorant writers are fond of ridiculing the culture of fruits and vegetables under glass, as if the sole object were to get something out of season. They do not know that the skillful gardener can beat nature every time in quality as well as in the time when the article may be said to be in season. We have to learn that, to some extent, the house culture—the prices ob-tained by the grower for market, com-pensate for all the extra trouble in-volved. Grape culture under glass was once very popular in America; but the easy production of the foreign grape in the open air of California, dampened the ardor of our cultivators. But no one has ever yet found a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape does well in the open air, the glass-house grape-grower finds a good profit in his occu-pation. If he is a real gardener and not an empiric, he will suppose it about the best of his business to grow a bunch of California grapes to equal the results of a first-class grape-grower of the article under glass. Even in Germany and France, where the grape