To Capture the Taste of all Japan tea drinkers is the aim, object and design of CEYLON TEA. (GREEN)—and it is fast accomplishing its object. It is to the Japan tea drinker what "SALADA" black is to the black tea drinker. temperament as was characteristic of her mirth would, nevertheless, involuntarily crop out occasionally, until she discovered that her employer rather enjoyed it, when she three off the curb she had put upon herself and let her sunny temper have free vent. When madame went down to dinner that day she found a tiny vase of cut glass beside her plate, and in it a few stalks of fragrant mignonette with three or four lovely rosebuds. She appeared not to notice this dainty addition to the table, but it was not in human nature to wholly ignore the delicate perfume, and several times before the meal was over Shirley caught the woman's eyes resting appreciatively upon her little offering. She imagined that she was just obstinate enough not to speak of it at all; but while they were waiting for the servant to bring in the dessert, she abruptly inquired: "Where did you get that vase? It's real cut glass!" "It belonged to my mother." Shirley

Among her things she had several choice bits of bric-a-brac which she had brought away from her old home in Colorado—little mementoes around which so many sacred associations clustered that she could not make up her mind to part with them—and these she arranged upon the mantel, table and bureau. There were also in one of her trunks There were also in one of her trunks a few studies, both in oil and water colors, which she had painted during her art course, and these she laid out upon the bed, hoping that madame would allow her to hang them upon the the table, Madame Marton?" she finally ventured to ask.

"I do not know as I do," was the rather ungracious reply. It's something I haven't been used to, though."

"I would like to put a vase of flowers on the table every morning if you are willing," Shirley remarked, lifting an appealing glance to her companion. "It will make it seem more home-like to me, and I should like to do it for you as I used for mamma."

The sweet voice broke over that last word, and one glittering drop fell into her napkin. Madame would not have had the heart to refuse her request after that, even if she had wanted to, which, strange to say, she did not, for the sake of the flowers themselves.

But it never had been in the nature of the woman to be gracious or to give free expression to the better feelings of her heart; so she merely returned, without even glancing up:

"I'm willing." wails.

A nice towel spread upon the bureau, and her handsome toilet set tastefully arranged on it, gave an entirely different appearance to the lumbering piece of furnitutre, while already the fair girl's face began to assume a brighter look in view of these simple changes. While she was returning some of her winter clothing to her trunk she had come upon an old India shawl, and a sudden inspiration seized her.

"It was my grandmother:s," she murmered, as she stood holding it in her

"It was my grandmother's," she murmered, as she stood holding it in her hnads and regarding it affectionately. "I wonder if it would injure it if I should spread it upon this great bare place in the middle of the floor for a sort of rug. I would be very careful of it. I would never step upon it, and I would shake the dust from it every morning. The colors are still warm and bright, if it is old, and it would add much to this gloomy room."

She unfolded it and spread it down to try the effect, and as the sun shone upon it, bringing out the rich hues, the somber chamber really seemed like a different place to her.

ferent place to her.

The breakfast bell rang just then, and, deferring her arrangements until another time, Shirley went down to find Madame Marton awaiting her in the dining-The woman's sharp, stern features involuntarily relaxed a little as she caught sight of the girl's bright, smiling face, and was greeted with a cheery "good morning."

The dining-room seemed even more gloomy to Shirley than it had on the previous night, for the sunshine revealed its bareness and stiffness even more table was spread with the finest The table was spread with the finest and whitest of damask; the china was delicate and costly, and the silver polished to the last degree of brightness; "but, oh!" thought the young girl, "if I could only make the table half the size, put a few pieces of decorated china here and there among the glaring white stuff, and set a vase of flowers in the center. I believe it would give me an appetite."

me an appetite. After breakfast Madame always had the newspaper read to her, she told her companion, and this done they went out companion, and this done they went out for a stroll in the grounds.

"What a lovely lawn!" Shirley exclaimed, as her eyes swept over the nicely mown greensward. Then she added, prompted by her artist love of color: "How pretty some of those little beds of landscape gardening, such as you see in Central Park, would look laid out here and there."

"Humph!" ejaculated madame, a frown contracting her brow, as if the laid out here and there."

"Humph!" ejaculated madame, a frown contracting her brow, as if the thought of such an innovation was displeasing to her, "and soil my fine lawn with your new-fangled notions."

But as they continued their walk, she would stop, every now and then, turn back and sweep her sharp eyes over the broad expanse, as if the suggestion had fastened itself in her mind and kept itself intruding upon her.

They went to the stable to take a look at the horses and carriages, and where madame peered into every nook and madame peered into every nook and corner, commenting sharply upon whatever did not meet with her approbation. From there they proceeded to the kitchen garden, where the gardener had everything in the finest order, and where, as if to make up for the dearth of flowers in other places, he had sown quantities of many varieties among his vegetables.

Shirley exclaimed with delight as she

Shirley exclaimed with delight as she saw them.

"Oh, Madame Marton! how lovely!" she cried, "and what a pity to have them all hidden away out here."

"Humph! where would you have them. pray?" the woman demanded, with a contemptuous sniff.

"Oh, I would put them everywhere—in pretty little beds, you know. To me a flower bed on a lawn is like a beautiful pictutre on a wall." said the young girl, bending to inhale the perfume of a rose that was just coming into bloom.

"Well, that is a new idea," said madame, turning to search the eager, flower-like face of her companion, while she did not fail to notice how caressingly she touched the blossoms about her.

ingly she touched the blossoms about her.

The gardener was delighted with her admiration of his pets, for his mistress had no sympathy with his love for flowers, and he had hard work to gain her permission to grow them even among his corn and potatoes.

They were nothing but trash in her estimation, and of no earthly use. They were not good to eat—they were fit for nothing but to look at.

She would not have them upon the lawn for they interfered with the use of the lawn mower. She would not have them in pets on the veranda, for they were "dirty things" and would require the servants' time to care for them; and she was not a woman to pay out money for what would bring her no return. Apparently she had never realized until this morning that the pleasure they gave to others amounted to anything.

But Shirley's unfelgred delight, upon ure they gave to others amounted to anything.

But Shirley's unfelgned delight, upon discovering such a wealth of them among the vegetables had somehow appealed to a soft spot in her nature.

"Cut some and give them to her," she curtly commanded of her man, while he obeyed her—Shirley standing by chatting socially about the different varieties—she walked away to inspect the corn, potatoes and cabbages.

"Humph!" maybe the bright things do her as much good, cheer her up, perhaps.

"Humph!" maybe the bright things up her as much good, cheer her up, perhaps, as it does me to have her sunny face in the house," she muttered, reflectively. When she returned to Shirley she found her hands full of fragrant blossome and her face radiant with pleasure, and her cold practicality showed itself area.

They'll make a wretched litter," she served, viewing them with disapprobation.
"No, indeed; I will be very careful, if you do not mind my taking them into the house, and they are so lovely." said Shirley, appealingly, as she buried her pretty nose among her aromatic treasures.

"Well, well, child, do as you like." madame responded indulgently, while the gardener winked significantly to the girl, as if to say "come for more when you want them." and they returned to the house.

The remainder of the morning was spent in Madame Marton's sitting-room upstairs, looking over and reading extracts from the numerous periodicals which had been collecting during her visit to New York.

It was evident that Madame was fast learning to appreciate her charming companion, for she had toned down considerably since that morning when she so sharply interviewed her in Mr. Norwood's library.

Shirley was naturally of a merry, happy disposition; although at first she could not feel as free and unrestrained with one of Madame Marton's psculiar pretty nose among her aromatic treas-

THE WORLD

er in her own home.
Shirley glanced at her somewhat anxi-ventured to ask.

Do you object to having flowers on a table, Madame Marton?" she finally

"What did you do with the rest of your flowers?" madame inquired, as they rose from the table.

from the table.

"They are in my room," Shirley replied. "I thought you might not like to have too many of them about the house."

"Humph? what did you put them in?"

"I have two or three small vases which I brought from home, which I filled, and the others I put in a glass."

Shirley answered, wondering why madame was so anxious to know what had become of the tbings she had so de-had become of the things she had so de-had become of the things she had so detested.

Without a word Madame Marton marched to a closet, and taking a key from her pocket, unlocked the door and threw it wide open.

Shirley uttered a cry of delight as she glanced within, for the place was filled with beautiful vases and bric-a-brac of every description.

ery description. 'How lovely!" she exclaimed, her face

"How lovely!" she exclaimed, her face all aglow with appreciation.
"Nothing but trash," laconically remarked her companion.
"Trash!" repeated the young girl.
"Oh, madame, they are exquisite, and some of them, I am sure are very costly."

"They cost enough, if that is all, and a foolish waste of money, too," was the grim retort. "Every Christmas and birthday some of my found friends"—this with a sarcastic smile—"sends me a vase, or a bronze, or a statue, and they all meet with the same fate, and are they all meet with the same rate, and are locked away in here."

"What a pity." Shirley began, and then checked herself.

"What a pity?" demanded madame sharply. "Out with it."

"What a pity?" demanded madame sharply. "Out with it."
"I was thinking it was a great pity to have so much beauty wasted," Shirley said with a flush. "I am sure I should want them about the house, where I could see them."
"Humph! it is a foolish waste of time to keep them dusted," was the curt reply. "I'd either have to do it myself, or run the risk of having the servants smash them."

smash them."
"But would you not enjoy seeing them about—wouldn't they remind you pleasantly of the friends who sent them to

"Well, maybe they meant well enough; but I haven't much faith in friendship," replied the woman bitterly. "No doubt they have wondered, when they have been here, what has become of their tokens. I sometimes feel." she went on with a frown, "that it is all nonsense for people to have so many goods and chattels; and if I could see my way clear to it, I'd reduce my belongings to what I could put in one trunk and go and live in one room somewhere. People fritter away lots of time and money on fashions and follies, and the thousand and one things with which they fill their houses."

houses."
"I can't feel as you do," Shirley thoughtfully responded, "I think the world would be a very dreary place if it were not for the beautiful things in

[To be Continued.]

Spotless

And a clear complexion are desired by every woman and admired by every man.

Eruptions, pim-

Skin

3

Well, maybe they meant well enough;

Honors Even in Great International Chess Match.

OF SPORTS.

Shamrock II. Successfully Launched-Central Football League Proposed-Toronto Ball Team Defeats Albany.

CHESS.

"Where did you get that vase. It's real cut glass."
"It belonged to my mother," Shirley replied, a 'tear starting to her eyes as they rested fondly upon it; "and," she added, "she always liked me to arrange a few flowers and set them beside her plate." A BATTLE ROYAL.

New York, April 22.—After a fierce battle, which lasted two days, the chess players representing the United States and the United Kingdom broke even in the sixth international match by cable. The Englishmen scored two games and kept the lead until Saturday evening, when victories by Newman and Pillsbury offset their advantage. Two games were agreed upon as drawn, so when the twelfth hour, London time, approached there were still four games going, which by the rule should have been submitted to the referee for adjudication. By mutual consent, however, two more games were called a draw, and each side scored one game. The result follows:

America.

Showalter.

O vs. Mason

1 Pillsbury

1 vs. Blackburn

0 Barry

1/2 vs. Lee

1/4 A BATTLE ROYAL. Madame Marton made no reply to this, but she was more touched than she would have been willing to acknowledge, that the girl should have snown her the same delicate attention that she had been in the habit of rendering her moth-

½ vs. Lee . ½ vs. Mills 1 vs. Jacobs ..... 1 vs. Mitchell

Total...... 5

The fate of the Newnes trophy is still in abeyance. The deed of gift, while mentioning that after three matches the trophy should be accorded in possession of the last custodian, does not state clearly whether a drawn match, as the present one, is to be continued alone, or whether it breaks the sequence. The question will be submitted to the referee by Baron Rothschild, of Vienna. President A. E. Blackmar, of the Brooklyn Chess Club, anounced that in the event of the referee deciding the cup to be the property of the Brooklyn Chess Club, a new trophy for the cable match will be provided, and Col. Hester has offered to donate a cup. donate a cup.

YACHTING.

SHAMROCK II. LAUNCHED,
Dumbarton, April 22.—Shamrock II. was successfully launched Saturday afternoon at Denny's yards, in the presence of a good crowd of invited guests, newspaper men and employes. Lady Dufferin christened the new challenger. The new boat looked spick and span in its coat of white paint, rimmed with green, while the manganese bottom shone like a mirror. Lord and Lady Dufferin, Sir Thos. Lipton and others who came from Glasgow on a special train, stood upon a raised platform decorated with Union Jacks, the Stars and Stripes and the Iris. If ag, and with Venetian masts in green and white, which were the prevailing colors. The weather could not have been better. The sun shone brightly, and overcoats had been discarded. The employes of the Dennys had a holiday, and, in fact, all Dumbarton was en fete. Lady Dufferin broke the bottle over the curiously snub-nosed bow of the new boat. There is no disguising the fact that British experts here are very confident about the new boat, and think her the best that ever challenged for the cup. SHAMROCK II. LAUNCHED.

FOOTBALL.

OLD LONDON'S GREAT MATCH. London, April 22 .- It is estimated that London, April 22.—It is estimated that 100,000 persons witnessed the football match between the Sheffleld United and the Tottenham Hotspurs for the Association cup on Saturday. Sheffleld won the toss and kicked off promptly at 3:30 p.m., and after eleven minutes' warm play scored the first goal. Shortly after the Hotspurs were awarded a free kick for a foul, which evened matter. The result was a draw two all. a foul, which evened matter. The result was a draw, two all.

Though the game waxed fast, the score had not changed at half-time. Several hot shots marked the beginning of the second half, but without result. The play continued to be very swift. The attack and defense on both sides was splendid. Then the Hotspurs scored a second goal, and half a minute later Sheffield scrimmaged the ball through, again equalizing. Eight minutes after half time the local team pressed hard, but the visitors' goal keeper kept them out until both sides were obliged to slow down and take a breather. Several fruitless attempts followed, and a lively game ended in a draw, amidst intense excitement.

A CENTRAL LEAGUE. Chatham Planet: James W. Couse, of the London Association football club, was in the Maple City on Thursday evening, and the executive of the Chatham club met him at the Garner for the purpose of organizing a central league in affiliation with the W. F. A. There were present Capt. R. L. Cook, Secretary M. D. Fraser and several other members. The project was fully discussed in all its phases, and opinion seemed unanimous in favor of immediate formation. The teams favor of immediate formation. The teams suggested for membership were London, Chatham, Watford and Glencoe. It was decided, however, to invite a more extended club membership, with a view to developing a strong and substantial league. It is desired that any clubs wishleague. It is desired that any clubs wishing to enter such a league correspond immediately with M. D. Fraser, this city, or J. W. Couse, London.

it were not for the beautiful things in it."

"I don't object to a thing being pretty if it is useful; but what earthly benefit are such things as these?" inquired madame, indicating with a sweep of her bony hand the treasures in the closet.

"It is both pleasant and refining to be surrounded by lovely objects; besides, it is interesting to learn the history of them." Shirley replied.

"The money would do far more good if it were given to the poor," sniffed madame, contemptuously.

"It would not do them one-half as much good," the fair girl answered spiritedly.

[To be Continued.] THE BLYTH CLUB. Blyth, Ont., April 22.—The Blyth junior Association football club held a meeting at the Mason House on Saturday night and elected the following officers: Presiand elected the following officers. Fresh, edent, Dr. J. C. Lindsay; manager, J. Hiorns; captain, A. E. West; secretary, R. B. Carter; treasurer, John Brown; managing committee, H. Wettlaufer, D. Somers and J. Staples.

BASEBALL.

NATIONAL LEAGUE-SATURDAY. At St. Louis-St. Louis 11, Chicago 9. At Cincinnati-Cincinnati 2, Pittsburg 4 At New York-Rain. SUNDAY.

At St. Louis-St. Louis 12, Chicago 5. EXHIBITION GAMES. Albany 2, Toronto 8. Fort Wayne 6, Buffalo 4.

THE LEAGUE WAR. bruptions, pimples and similar blemishes are caused by an impure condition of the blood. These skin blemishes Philadelphia, April 22.—The injunction suits brought by the Philadelphia National League baseball club against the players, Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard, blemishes are caused by an impure condition of the blood. These skin blemishes are permanently removed by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which thoroughly purifies the blood and cures the cause of the disease.

"For about one year and a half my face was badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of fic West Main St., Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Doctor Pierce's y. Before I had taken ne I noticed a change, bottles I was entirely "For about one year and a haif my face was badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main St., Battlecreek, Mich. "I spent a great deal of thoney with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Doctor Pierce's
one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. joined Mack's team on his own volition.
John L. Rogers, treasurer of the Philadelphia National League club, and Wm.
J. Shettsline, manager, gave some unimportant testimony. Col. Rogers, as counsel for the complainant club, addressed the court, asking that Lajoie be restrained from playing with Mack's club, and giving his reason for the insertion of the renewal clause in the contract. Free. The Common Sense Medical Adviser 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to cover expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 50 stamps for cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Turns Bad Rich Red Blood into

FOR THE

Blood. In the Spring you need something to cleanse the system and carry off the impurities which have accumulated during the Winter. If you are troubled with Pimples, Boils, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Cancer, Gas in the Stomach, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Shingles, worm, Constipation, Eczema, Scald Head, Skin Eruptions or any disease arising from an impure condition of the Blood take B. B. B.

Used Internally Cures Constipation, Dyspepsia, Erysipelas, Gas In the Stomach, Boils, Pimples, Indigestion and all skin diseases.

Used externally and taken internally cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Eczema, Shingles, Ulcers, Abscesses and all Skin Diseases.

Headaches.

West Liscomb, N.S., Jan. 17, 1901.

THE T. MILBURN Co., Limited,

Toronto, Ont.:

DEAR SIRS, -I was troubled with headaches, my appetite failed me and my system got so badly run down that I had to give up my work. I consulted three doctors and they all said they could not do anything for me and that I could not recover.

My uncle came to see me and advised me to take B. B. I had only taken half of one bottle when I began to feel better, and by the time I had taken three bottles I was entirely cured.

I could fill columns with gratitude to you for your wonderful remedy and would advise all sufferers to give it a trial.

MRS. WM. BAKER.

Boils.

Glenn Anna, Feb. 26, 1901.

THE T. MILBURN Co., Limited,

Toronto, Ont.:

DEAR SIRS,-Last fall I was greatly troubled with boils breaking out all over me. I had to have two or three of them lanced they were so bad. I took several bottles of medicine, which the doctor gave me, but it did me no good.

A friend of mine advised me to try B. B., so I procured a bottle, and before I had used it all the boils disappeared and I have not been troubled with them since. I can recommend B.B.B. as a wonderful blood purifier.

Our old friend, Pete Lohman, who, despite the threats of the San Francisco management, is still running the Oakland club of the California League, is batting like a fiend. An account of a recent game between Oakland and Los Angeles says: "Los Angeles turned the tables on Oakland at Washington Gardens in one of the hardest fought and most exciting ball

Eastern Leagues, and J. Delaney, New York State League, both of whom are known in this city, are looking for the hardest fought and most exciting ball games ever played on a Les Angeles diamond. Twelve innings were necessary before the 'red legs' could squeeze the winning run across the plate, and every one of them contained a hair-raising play of some kind." In this game Pete Lohman made three two-base hits.

The Western League umpires selected by President Hickey consist of Leo Mesmer, Bobby Caruthers, Jack Brennan and Fred Popkay. The latter will be well remembered by the London fans as the gentleman who wore a black silk shirt, was inclined to be stout, and who occasionally fell out with George Black.

The Los Angeles correspondent of the Sporting News writese: "Lohman, of Oakland, has all the best of it in batting average, scoring 333, with no one else Oakland, has all the best of it in batting average, scoring .333, with no one else near him. Refilly and Kelly are next best, at .278, and they lead for the local team. Other per cents are: Brockoff. .182; Hutchinson, .211; Householder, .228; Swindells, .045 (the worst in the bunch); Spies, .182; Bowman, .050; Jones, .100; Hale and Johnson, both three times at bat, no per cent. The northern team stacks up as follows: Drennan, .174; Francks, .105; Arrellanes, .106; Strieb, .071; Moore, .150; Moskiman, .177; Lohman, .333; Babbitt, .187. These foot up for the teams, as average per cent: Los Angeles, .168; Oakland, .166."

land, .165."
All the good things we have heard about Hagerty—"Pete with the big shoulders"—have came true. Broad of beam and muscled like a Sandow, he is beam and muscled like a Sandow, he is nevertheless fast on his feet and a pretty slider and base-runner. Perhaps he can't hit and throw, too. Full of life and ginger, he is up on the lines at all times, and his voice is never silent. His wit is of the clean, good-natured kind, and keeps everybody in good humor. Peter is already a solid favorite with the crowd.—New Orleans correspondent Sporting Life.

TURF. New York, April 22.—The results at the Aqueduct on Saturday were:
First race, about 7 furlongs—Blue Away 1, Scorpio 2, Her Ladyship 3. Time, 1:28 4-5.
Second race, selling, 5 furlongs—Sir Tom Tiddler 1, Dark Secret 2, Equalize 3. Time, 1:04 2-5.
Third race, 1 mile and 70 yards—Pupil 1, King Bramble 2, Magic Light 3. Time, 1:34 3-5.
Fourth race, about 7 furlongs, the Auverne stakes—Robert Waddell 1, Outlander 2, Sadie S. 3.
Sixth race, 6½ furlongs—Janica 1, Isia 2, Kentucky 3. Time, 1:08 3-5.

WRESTLING. CHAMPION OF CANADA. CHAMPION OF CANADA.

Toronto, April 22.—Bob Harrison, a well-known wrestler, of this city, met and defeated J. McMillan, of Cornwall, Ont., in a wrestling match at St. Andrew's Hall here on Saturday night. Harrison gained the decision over his opponent in two straight falls. For the third time in his career he is the Canadian heavyweight champion at the Graeco-Roman style of wrestling.

ATHLETICS. SIX DAYS RACE OVER.

SIX DAYS RACE OVER.

Columbus, O., April 22.—Peter Golden, of New York city, won the six-days go-assiving his reason for the insertion of the golden of New York city, won the six-days go-assive renewal clause in the contract.

FLYS.

Frank Snydar late of the Atlantic and Frank Snydar late of the Atlantic and Frank Snydar late of the Atlantic and Frank Snydar late of the Six DAYS RACE OVER.

SIX DAYS RACE OVER.

SIX DAYS RACE OVER.

Columbus, O., April 22.—Peter Golden, of New York city, won the six-days go-assitreet, New York.

FRED. T. HOPKINS, Prop., 37 Great Jones at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. George at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. George dealers throughout the United States, Canada and Europe.

SIX DAYS RACE OVER.

Without injury to the skin.

FRED. T. HOPKINS, Prop., 37 Great Jones at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night. George dealers throughout the United States, Canada and Europe.

Sole Agent for London, "Clock" Corner SIX DAYS' RACE OVER.

Golden, 334 miles 8 laps; Tracey, 325 miles; Barnes, 321 miles 2 laps; Hart, 290 miles 5 laps; Graham, 285 miles; Day, 279 miles; Stokes, 214 miles; Taylor, 200 miles 3 laps; Porter, 156 miles 20 laps; Sachs, 113 miles.

FISTIC. JEFFRIES AND RUHLIN.

Cleveland, April 22.—The Leader says that Billy Madden has accepted the offer of Representative Gerron, of the Nationa Sporting Club, of San Francisco, of 65 per cent and $500 for training expenses to match between Gus Ruhlin and

Don't think less of your system than you do of your house. Give it a thorough cleansing, too. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

New Yorkers will invest in a million dollar winter resort on the Island o Bermuda.

AN END TO BILIOUS HEADACHE. AN END TO BILIOUS HEADACHE. Biliousness, which is caused by excessive bile in the stomach, has a marke effect upon the nerves, and often man fests itself by severe headache. This it most distressing headache one cahave. There are headaches from colfrom fever, and from other causes, but the most excruciating of all is the bilious headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pilicular it cure it almost immediately will cure it—cure it almost immediately It will disappear as soon as the Pill operate. There is nothing surer in the treatment of bilious headache. France pays for her paupers b means of a tax of 10 per cent on all theater tickets sold.

LAXA-LIVER PILLS regulate the bowels, cure constipation, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, and all affections of the organs of digestion. Price 25 cents. All druggists. z The value of the French vintage of 1300 would cover half the annual budget of the German Empire.

RHEUMATISM CURED QUICKLY And surely with Trask's Magnetic Ointment. 25 and 40 cents at C. McCallum

Australia's first measured wool clip was 20,000 tons in 1827. This has now risen to 2,700,000.

A Skin of Beauty Is a Joy Forever.

Dr. T. Felix Gourand's Oriental Cream or Magical Beautifler.

similar name. Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ten (a patient): "As you ladies will use them I recommend Gourand's Cream's is the least harmful of all the skin preparations. Also Poudre Subtile removes superfluous hair

John Ferguson & Sons Undertakers,

180 King Street. 'Phones, 543 and 378.

Railways and Navigation

Fast and Superior Service.

lo. 16-Eastern Flyer

London, daily, at......5:15 p.m.

Woodstock, daily, at...5:55 p.m. Hamilton, daily, at ..... 7:05 p.m. Toronto (arrive), at....8:00 p.m. Montreal (arrive), at...7:30 a.m. Tickets and berths reserved at corner Rich mond and Dundas streets, London. E. De la Hooke, C. P. and T. A. M. C. Dickson, Dis-trict Passenger Agent. Picturesque Pan-American Route to

A Tourist Car-Its Equipment.

A Canadian Pacific Tourist Car is fully equipped with berth curtains, mattresses, pillows and clean linen.

The Toilet Rooms are supplied with towels, soap, combs, brushes, etc.

It has a Range, enabling passengers to make tea or coffee or warm food.

It has large tanks, holding an abundant supply of water. y of water.
smoking compartment has been Any Canadian Pacific Agent will gladly ve you further particulars and secure on accommodation in one of these cars. W. FULTON, City Passenger Agent, J. Dundas street, corner Richmond, 181 Dundas street, corner Richmond, London, Ont.; A. H. NOTMAN, Assist-ant General Passenger Agent, 1 King street east, Toronto.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Winter Rates Now in Force. S.S. GERMANIC.....

*Excellent Second Cabin accommodation on these steamers.

S.S. MAJESTIC .... ..... May 15

Railways and Navigation

> SETTLERS SPECIAL CHEAP ONE.WAY EXCURSIONS

Western States and Canadian Northwest Every Tuesday During April, via MICHIGAN CENTRAL

"The Niagara Falls Route." Particulars at the city ticket office, 395 Richmond street, or depot, corner Bath-urst and Clarence streets. Telephone 205. JOHN PAUL, Agent; O. W. RUGGLES,

Intercologial Railway.

On and after Sunday, March 10, 1901, the train leaving Union Station To-ronto (via Grand Trunk Railway) at 10:00 p.m., connects with the Maritime Express and Local Express at Bonaenture depot, Montreal, as follows: The Maritime Express will leave Montreal daily, except on Saturday, at 12 noon for Halifax, N. S., St. John, B., the Sydneys, and points in the Maritime Provinces. The Maritime Express from Halifax, St. John, the Sydneys and other points east will arrive at Montreal daily, except on Monday, at 5:30 p.m.
The Local Express will leave Mona.m., due to arrive at Levis at 1:05 The Local Express will leave Levis at 4:20 p.m., daily, except Sunday, due to arrive at Montreal at 10:00 p.m.

Through sleeping and dining cars on the Maritime Express. The vestibule trains are equipped with every convenience for the com-fort of the traveler. The elegant, sleeping, dining and first-class cars make travel a luxury.

treal daily, except Sunday, at 7:40

The Intercolonial Railway connects the west with the finest fishing streams, seaside resorts and tourist cutes in Canada. Tickets for sale at all offices of the Grand Trunk System, at Union Sta-tion, Toronto, and at the office of the general traveling agent.
WILLIAM ROBINSON, General Traveling Agent, 10 King Street West, H. A. PRICE, Assistant General Passenger Agent, 148 St. James Street, Montreal.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS,

Between Portland and Liverpool and New York and Glasgow. *Excellent Second Cabinaccommodation on these steamers.

E. De La Hooke,

Sole Agent for London, "Clock" Corner

York and Glasgow.

SS. Parisian from Montreal for Liverpoo May 4, calling at Moville.

Prepaid Tickets issued for bringing out passengers to Canada, etc.

For tickets and information apply to E. De la Hooke, F. B. Clarke or W. Fulton. zxv