$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

Tell Us How You Did It

You may win a prize by doing so

SUPPOSE your friend Bob Wilson, on the next concession, "pulled up" at your front gate on the way back from market and asked about that silo or barn foundation you built, you would be glad to tell him, wouldn't you? And it wouldn't take you long, either, would it? And, as a matter of fact, you'd find as much pleasure telling him as he would in listening—just that right?

First you would take him over to view the silo or barn foundation. Then you would start to describe it—its dimensions—the kind of aggregate used—the proportions of cement used—number of men employed—number of hours' working time required—method of mixing—kind of forms used—method of reinforcing, if any—and finally, what the job cost. So that by the time you finished, neighbor Wilson would have a pretty accurate idea of how to go about building the particular piece of work which you described. Now couldn't you do the same for us, with this difference—that you stand a good chance of getting well paid for your time?

In Prize "D" of our contest, open to the farmers of Canada, we offer $100.00 to the farmer in each Province who will furnish us with the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of concrete work shown by photograph sent in was done. The size of the work described makes no difference. The only important thing to remember is that the work must be done in 1911 and "CANADA" Cement used.

In writing your description, don't be too particular about grammar or spelling or punctuation. Leave that to literary folk. Tell it to us as you would tell it to your neighbor. What we want are the facts, plainly and clearly told.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? And it is simple. And surely it is well worth your while when you think of the reward in view.

Now sit right down, take your pen or pencil—all out the attached coupon—or a post-card if it's handier—and write for the circular which fully describes the conditions of this, the first contest of the kind ever held in Canada.

Every dealer who handles "CANADA" Cement will also be given a supply of these circulars—and you can get one from the dealer in your town, if that seems more convenient than writing for it.

Contest will close on November 15th, 1911—all photos and descriptions must be sent in by that date, to be eligible for one of these prizes. Awards will be made as soon as possible thereafter. The decisions will be made by a disinterested committee, the following gentlemen having consented to act for us, as the jury of award: Prof. Peter Gillespie, Lecturer in Theory of Construction, University of Toronto; Prof. W. H. Day, Professor of Physics, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph; and Ivan S. Macdonald, Editor of "Construction."

Having decided to compete for one of the prizes, your first step should be to get all the information you can on the subject of Concrete Construction on the Farm. Fortunately, most of the pointers that anyone can possibly need, are contained in our wonderfully complete book, entitled "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." A large number of Canadian farmers have already sent for and obtained copies of this free book. Have you got your copy yet? If not, you'd better send for one to-day. Whether you are a contestant for one of our prizes or not, you really ought to have this book in your library. For it contains a vast amount of information and hints that are invaluable to the farmer.

Please send full particulars and book.

WHY MEXICO REBELLED

Dark, indeed, is the social condition of Mexico if there is any substance behind the indictment brought by John Kenneth Turner against President Diaz and his system of government. In his recently issued book "Barbarous Mexico," he asserts that tens of thousands of working people of all ages, colors and degrees of intelligence have been and are being habitually sold into bondage worse than that attending negro slavery. In order to get at the facts from the inside, Mr. Turner posed as a man of wealth, desirous of acquiring a plantation, and in that capacity managers and officials revealed to him the profitable side of the traffic. He quotes the general manager of one-third of the tobacco lands of Valle Nacional as saying, "By the sixth or seventh month they begin to die off like flies at the first winter frost, and after that they're not worth keeping. The cheapest thing to do is to let them die; there are plenty more where they came from." Many other equally startling assertions are made by Mr. Turner involving governors of states, mayors of cities and the central government itself.

Mexican slavery has developed from the contract labor system. Its victims are held under pretence of debt, and once in debt the balance in the company's books is always against the slave. While the poverty of the common people is great and growing, the wealth of the favored few is increasing. Blame for this, Mr. Turner lays on President Diaz, whose policy it has been to hand out vast concessions to capitalists and political friends. The cabinet, the state governors and administrators of counties have all taken advantage of the land registration law fathered by Diaz, to oust the common people from the land that had been in the possession of their forefathers for generations. "That law," he says, "permitted any person to go out and claim any lands to which the possessor could not prove a recorded title. Since up to time the land law was enacted it was not the custom to record titles, this meant all the lands of Mexico." Many of the officials who have profited by this unrighteous law, have assembled estates with acreages running into millions. If these things are true the wonder is not that there should be an insurrection, but that it is not more general and active. Nor is there reason for surprise at the favorable opinion of Mexico expressed by Canadian capitalists, who have secured public franchise concessions, and have not hesitated to draw unfavorable comparisons between President Diaz and the premier of Ontario. Had the president given more concern to the rights and well-being of the common people his long ascendancy would not have been closing in the gloom of civil war.—Toronto World.

LET THE GOVERNMENT RUN IT

While the Provincial government (Hon. Mr. Morrissey excepted) appear strongly in favor of having the St. John Valley Railway when built kept out of the Intercolonial System, possibly with a view to have the new line annexed later on by the Canadian Pacific, the Government is willing to lease and operate the road as soon as built, as a part of the Government system, which would be much better for the public interest.

J. M. Howell, a popular druggist of Greensburg, Ky., says, "We use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our own household and know it is excellent." For sale by all dealers.

The death of Lady Harberton, pointer of the divided skirt, recalls her unsuccessful legal action against a hotel keeper who refused to serve her with a meal. Her unsuccessful crusade as shown that people cannot be emancipated. They must emancipate themselves.
