WORK OF N.B. FRUIT GROWERS ASSO.

Procures High Grade Fruit Trees and Spraying Materials for its Members

The association continues to do good work for the fruit growers and is creating a steady interest and increase in co-operative effort. During 1912 and 1913 the association supplied its members with nearly 30,000 fruit trees, most of which were sold at 22, 23, 24, and 25 cents per tree, and also with several thousand small fruits. The nurseries in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have been supplied by the association with scions and buds taken from good bearing trees of the varieties most in demand in the province and consequently the supply of maritime grown trees of the best varieties true to name available for planting in New Brunswick in the spring of 1914, is practically twice as large as three years ago. As the bulk of the trees placed throughout the province annually by agents are sold at prices ranging from 30 to 45 cents and even to 50 cents per tree, it is easy to see that the association is saving its members hundreds of dollars in the purchase of their fruit trees. By ordering nursery stock in large quantities, the association gets the very best the nurseryman has to offer and gets it at wholesale or the lowest possible price, as the agent's commission and expenses are omitted. In a similar manner, a large quantity of spraying materials consisting of lime-sulphur and lead arsenate were purchased from Nova Scotia by the association and distributed to its members at cost price. Other supplies such as pruning tools and packing appliances and materials, etc., are secured at cost price on request.

PUNS FROM THE PENS OF POETS

When Mighty Bards of Lesser Degree Stooped to Play on Words.

It is not generally known that Milton, the author of "Paradise Lost," one of the most stately and majestic poems in the English language, once wrote a punning epitaph on the carrier who plied between Cambridge and London and "who sickened in the time of his vacancy being forbid to go to London by reason of the plague", to quote the poet's own words. This carrier was none other than that Hobson whose "choice" has become so famous. It appears that he used to let horses on hire, but no matter how pressing the need a traveller had to take the horses Hobson offered or none, so that today the phrase "Hobson's choice" is used to signify no choice at all.

Milton's poem written on the death of this carrier is too long to quote in full, but one or two passages will suffice to show with what skill he played with words:

Rest, that give all men life, gave him his death,
And too much breathing put him out of breath;
Nor ere its contradiction to affirm
Too long vacation hastened on his term."

And again he says, referring to Hobson's prosperity:

Yet (Strange to think) his wain was his increase.

Nor is Milton the only poet whose works have become immortal who stopped to pun. Shakespeare as is well known, was an inveterate punster and Dr. Johnson, in his preface to an edition of the poet's works, severely censures him for playing with words on serious occasions. For example, in answer to King Richard's question:

"What comfort man? How is't with ancient Gaunt?" the playwright puts into the mouth of Gaunt these words:

"O how that name befits my composition! Old Gaunt, indeed, and gaunt is being old. Within me gaunt has kept a tedious fast, and who abstained from meat that is not gaunt?"

Hamlet is made to pun, too. When the clown digging graves in the churchyard, in answer to the question "whose grave's this?" says "Mine, sir," Hamlet replies:

"I think it be thine indeed; for thou liest in't," and later adds: "Thou dost lie in't, to be in't and say it is thine; 'tis for the dead, not for the quick, therefore thou liest."

The puns of Tom Hood are well known. In "Faithless Sally Brown," "Faithless Nellie Gray," and "The Duel" to mention but a few, almost every line contains a pun. What could be written than the concluding verse of "Faithless Sally Brown?" His death which happened in his berth,

At forty-odd befall,
They went and told the sexton and
The sexton tolled the bell.

The poet Wither once lamented the decline of his family in the words, "The very name of Wither shows decay," and although the following verse penned by Lord Lytton to Lady Browne, is not the work of a poet so called it is well worth quoting:

When I was young and debonaire,
The brownest nymph to me was fair:
The fairest nymph to me is Brown,
But now I'm old and wiser grown

"I owe everything to my wife," said the man in the high collar.

"So? You're a nobleman, then?"

Premier of Manitoba Outdoes Himself

Minnedosa, Man., Nov. 8.—At a meeting here last night, Sir Rodmond P. Roblin, Premier of Manitoba, speaking on education, condemned "men traducing Manitoba." Referring to Postmaster General Samuel, he said: "When you see meddlesome, impudent, slanderous Samuel, who by accident holds a portfolio in a British Government, making false statements at the dictation of a small grit coterie, who stuffed his jellybag of an Englishman to such an extent that he was willing to make a statement in the City of Montreal which he knew to be false you will know how to treat him. Can assure Mr. Samuel if he ever visits Manitoba again, he will be hailed before the bar of public opinion, and made to swallow his falsehoods."

ST. JOHN BOY KILLED IN SHAM BATTLE

Tragedy Happened When Companions Were Playing With Rifles "Like Indians"

St. John, N. B., Nov. 10.—Imitating, it is said, what they had seen in moving pictures, Arthur Donovan, the twelve-year-old son of ex-Councillor Jeremiah Donovan, of Silver Falls, and Joseph Caples, aged 14 years, son of Michael Caples, of the old Westmorland road, were participating in a skirmish with an imaginary enemy yesterday afternoon in the field in the rear of the Donovan home, when the Caples lad was shot in the right temple and almost instantly killed by a bullet from young Donovan's 22 calibre rifle, which he was using in play to protect his comrade from the enemy.

As in the picture, which it is said, the boys had seen, the Caples boy had fallen on "make believe wounds." The other boy was kneeling behind him with levelled rifle to protect him. The trigger was pulled, and at the same time Caples raised his head and received the bullet in the right temple. He died before anyone could reach him.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN BISLEY RULES

London, Nov. 9.—Colonel Crose of the National Rifle Association states that Colonel Ward of the War Office has accepted the membership of the Council of the National Rifle Association. In view of the persistent rumors of friction existing between the War Office and the National Rifle Association, which was likely to affect the future of the Bisley meets, the announcement will be particularly pleasing to Bisley votaries in Canada.

Colonel Crose also announced that the next Bisley meeting has been fixed to open on July 13 and that the following new regulations as to sighting shots have been made:

(1) That before the individual competitions in which each shot is separately signalled, and which is not shot for shoulder to shoulder, one compulsory nonconvertible sighting shot will be taken.

(2) There is to be no sighting shot before "A" competitions in which each shot is not separately signalled, "B" team competitions, "C" before the shooting, and "D" before shoulder to shoulder shooting.

(3) In match rifle competitions the target will have a central 24 inches in diameter to be marked with V, which counts 64 in service rifle competitions; bullseye at 500 yards will be reduced from 18 diameter to 16 inches.

The Council have decided to send a British rifle team to Australia next year, and have appointed Colonel Barlow commander, and Mr. J. P. Somers shooting captain.
