A TOUCH OF GOLD.

Its Magic Restored to Its Pedestal His Tottering Dignity.

One day during his prosperous "Adonis" time in London Henry E. Dixey was walking in the Strand when he met an American actor. He belonged to the order of self satisfied persons who live to give out the impression that the man they design to speak to is specially singled out by an indulgent providence for high favor. This particular haughty one had obviously made acquaintance with misery. His clothes were seedy, and there were written all over him the signs of pressing want.

"Hello, old man, how are you getting on?" was the Dixey hail.

"Very well, I thank you, sir," replied the unbending one.

"Doing anything just now?" queried Dixey.

"Well, no, I may candidly say I'm not. These plebeian bounds over here do not estimate art at its proper value, and I have refused, in deference to my dignity, to accept anything less than I consider my services worth. I may be out of an engagement temporarily, but, thank heaven, I have not degraded myself by taking any paltry advances, and I still consider myself a gentleman."

Then he added, in a lower and less aggressive tone, "But I most candidly own that the pangs of hunger may soon make me forget my professional dignity, as I have not had a mouthful to eat in two days."

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed the pitying Dixey, "take this and get something to eat!" And he laid in the starving man's hand a sovereign.

With the touch of gold in his consciousness the recipient's face underwent a magical change. Halting a passing cab, he turned to Dixey and said: "Thanks, old fellow. I'll return this in a couple of days. Cabby, drive me to the Cafe Royal."

And away he went to spend that precious sovereign at a single throw. His pride as a gentleman must not be allowed to suffer.

Always Serviceable.—Most pills lose their properties with age. Not so with Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. The pill mass is so compounded that their strength and effectiveness is preserved and the pills can be carried anywhere without fear of losing their potency. This is a quality that few pills possess. Some pills lose their power, but not so with Parmelee's. They will maintain their freshness and potency for a long time.

IMPOLITE OFFICIALS.

They Sometimes Get a Jolt, as One of Them Did in Paris.

It would appear that the public servant, no matter how small his position or humble his function, is much the same person in France as in this country, manifesting much the same lack of courtesy as that which meets us so often here.

Recently in one of the departments of a Parisian municipality, toward mid-day, a little old employee was about to begin munching a bunch of carrots. Some one rapped at the door. No response from the little employee.

The person who had rapped entered.

"Monsieur," he began.

"Come back at 2 o'clock," growled the little employee, as he continued to gnaw away at the vegetables.

"But"—

"No buts about it. Come back at 2 o'clock."

"I am the new chief of the bureau," said the visitor.

At once the little employee jumped up, trying to hide the bunch of carrots behind his back, as he bowed deeply to the visitor.

"Go before me," said the chief, "and show me, if you please, to my bureau."

The little employee was greatly embarrassed by his carrots. He did not know where to put them.

The chief took pity on him. "My friend," he said, "put down your carrots. There is no shame in eating vegetables. But that respectable occupation should not prevent you from giving a gracious welcome to the public. Let this serve as a lesson to you."

You Can

cure that old sore or ulcer from which you have been suffering for so long, if you will only use an ointment that is capable of reaching the seat of the trouble. Zam-Buk can do this because of its unusual penetrating power. Also, Zam-Buk is a strong germicide—germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied, so that the germs are destroyed not only on the surface, but in all the diseased underlying tissue. Then healing commences; new tissue replacing the old and diseased, until the sore is thoroughly and permanently cured.

The case of Miss Frances Daudin, of Somerset, Man., verifies the above statement. She writes: "I suffered for over twenty years with an ulcer on my leg, and all the remedies tried during that time proved ineffective. Several doctors treated me, but I got no benefit. Finally I tried Zam-Buk, and I am thankful to say that after perseverance with this ointment I am now completely cured."

Zam-Buk is also splendid for eczema, abscesses, boils, pimples, ringworm, piles, blood-poisoning, cuts, burns, and all skin injuries and diseases. Best balm for baby's sores. All druggists, 50c. box, 3 for $1.25, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.
