The Silver Scare. in this province over the American silver reason of this unprecedented growth is found count of twenty per cent. This was owing to a statement made by Mr. Carlysle, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, which was interpreted to mean that redeemed in silver only, and not in gold as heretofore. Under the silver legislation of identified with it to maintain its well-earned the Harrison administration the government | reputation. was required to buy a certain quantity of On Suuday evening last a sermon was silver bullion each month. Instead of coining all this and putting it into circulation in F. M. Young, Grand Chaplain of the Grand stored in the treasury vaults, and silver cerlaw gave the government the right to re- in procession to the church and were assigned in gold. So long as it was known that a ten dollar silver bill could be exchanged at the United States Treasury for ten dollars in gold, just so long were these certificates

a most appropriate discourse by the reverend gentleman, who preached from Job xxix, 11-16, brief portions of which are as follows:

In referring to man's natural desire to get doubt arose on that point their value at once | tions to this world after he himself has passed became an unknown quantity, and our banks refused to accept them at all, or only at a safe discount. If the government should decide to adopt permanently the policy of redeeming these silver bills in silver coin, they are liable to fall as low as sixty odd cents on the dollar, as at the present price of silver, that is all the material in a silver dollar is actually worth. It looked, a few days ago, as if such a course had actually been determined upon, as it is well known to man; stands in the United States treasury is getting short of gold. During the last six months enormous quantities of gold have been shipped from New York to Europe. Since January 1st, of the present year, the actual became an unknown quantity, and our from it, the speaker said,- other than silver. Under these circumstances it took but little to create a reare, hence the serious effect which the statement of the Secretary of the Treasury caused upon our banking institutions.

Just as the question began to look serious, however, President Cleveland made an emphatic declaration to the press that the government would continue to redeem these silver certificates in gold as her tofore. This should settle all doubts and remove all grounds for fear. It would be an act of This should settle all doubts and remove all grounds for fear. It would be an act of stupendous folly on the part of the Cleveland administration to allow any action or want of action to lead to the permanent depreciation of these silver bills and the consequent loss which would accrue to the holders of these notes. Such an action on the state of the differential properties are such as the foundation of the superstructure, perhaps the chief of these being the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

Beneath the royal arch of friendship, love and truth does Oddfellowship march on its mission; an arch supported by two mighty these being the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

Beneath the royal arch of friendship, love and truth docs Oddfellowship march on its mission; an arch supported by two mighty pillars, viz., the Fatherhood of Man on the other, over which can be seen sparkling with Divine effulgence the all-seeing eye of silver certificates will probably be stopped, and then some means will be taken to provide gold to redeem the silver bills now in circulation. Just where it is to come from is not yet clear, but the president has declared it shall be done and that, we think, should remove all doubt as to the value of these bills. And there would, therefore, 2nd. Our true natures working unfettered —In his address at the opening of the recent session of the Council, we observe that Warden Roop, after quoting by-law 17, section 2, says: "This is as far as we can go."

The by-law referred to requires "pedlars, hawkers of goods, and traders who are not ratepayers of the province" to pay a license face of Section 2. Section 2. Section 2. Section 3. phatically that of doing good to God's creatures.

As the County Incorporation Act is so altered at each session of the House that what was law last year may not be this fear, we are not in a position to question the Warden's statement. It may be that he is right, and that this is as far as the council can go. It may be that five dollars is as large a license fee as the council can impose, and then only upon pedlars and hawkers "who are not ratepayers of the province." If the Warden is right, however, then there is need of additional legislation on the subject. We were under the impression that our municipal councils bad the same powers to make by-laws as the councils of incorporated towns, and to the same extent. They certainly should have. The fact that the same kind of goods can be bought cheaper from the home trade does not seem to prevent them from finding purchasers. The law should be made to meet such cases as these. Our business men pay taxes. These are levied in the fall, at the time of year when they have the heaviest stock on hand. Why, should the city house which sends its agents to compete with them for retail custom go entirely free? Then, too, how does it happen that even the five dollar license fee is never exacted? Who is to enforce it any how? Is it merely a law without a penalty? If so it is simply a dead letter. It would, we fancy, be a law without a penalty? If so it is simply a dead letter.
