The world has 61,974,652 gross tons of ships, and every maritime nation of importance, with the exception of Greece and Germany, has more tonnage under its flag than was registered at the outbreak of the war. According to Lloyd's, there is now 11,703,000 tons more seagoing steel and iron tonnage afloat than in 1914. Another item of interest is that 1,100 vessels are now fitted with both sails and auxiliary engine power, of which total 740 have motors. Of the total number of steel and iron seagoing merchant tonnage in existence, 65 per cent, has been built under the survey of Lloyd's Register.

METHODIST NOTES

(Wesleyan)

Annapolis (United)—Rev. Isaac Brindley, of St. John, occupied the pulpit on Sunday evening, July 21st. The combined Sunday Schools of St. George's Methodist and the Episcopal Churches enjoyed a picnic on the island on the 23rd ult. The day was perfect and many adults accompanied the children in the motor boats, or by auto to Lower Granville to be thence transported across to the Island. Sports, which were under the capable management of Mr. Reed, bathing, paddling, etc., afforded amusement for the children, all of whom enjoyed a pleasant day.

Digby.—Rev. W. Harry Watts, minister. During the summer our church at Smith's Cove has been thoroughly renovated at a cost of $460. The interior of the building has been greatly beautified. The seats have been rebuilt and all the wood work has been repainted. The exterior has been painted also, and the roof shingled. Probably we have few churches in our conference which present a neater or more attractive appearance than this church at Smith's Cove. The work has been a labour performed by a very loyal people.

The Annual Sale and Supper were held on the spacious church grounds on July the 28th and both were well patronized. The financial returns were very gratifying and reached the total of $275.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT CLEMENTSPO

Big Event Takes Place in the Church To Morrow Afternoon September 1st

Far down the Annapolis Valley beautiful bungalow land is Clementsport. The Queen of the Basin crowning the crest of a hill on a south mountain and looking over shonny waters of the Basin to Annapolis and Digby, stands the church erected in the year of Lord 1789.

In this historic structure there to be held on Sept. 1st at the of 3 p.m. A memorial service to memory of the old pioneers, the pure loyalists and those who hurried beneath its shade.

Fact and tradition are interwoven in the church history. The exact of erection is not known, but 1789 or earlier, Calneek says 17.

At the close of the revolution war 1833-34 a large number of lists came to this province, the number going to Halifax, Shelburne and what is now St. John, but a her came to Annapolis and settled along the Basin in Annapolis Basin, obtaining grand land from the imperial govern Those who settled in the town of Clements were for the most from New York and of Dutch descent Diltmars, Vroom, Polythmus, etc about the same time a number of man mercenaries who had been played by the British in the wa ceived grants. They, however, se inland on a section which still their name, "The Waldeck" Hessian Lines,—while the Dutch tied along the shores of the where many of their descendants reside.

After building their log houses as elsewhere their next concern to build a house to the honor glory of Almighty God, and Old St. Edwards was built. The timbers were cut near at hand hewed by willing hands—burr ft. wide, shaved pine shingles, put on with hand made nails, plaster was made from lime obtai by burning clam shells on the b and is so hard it will bend the of a small nail. The architectu Norman—and the south door unique feature.

Situated on the top of the left it is visible for miles and wa built as a landmark for the fi men and mariners coming up Basin. It was altered in 1857, th two-decker pulpit and sounding being taken down and the fo split in two and placed either of the chance to form prayer and lecture. The church was ded of altar, altar veil, etc., to fu the new St. Edwards built fa tion only goes to that of 1857, year it is proposed to restore its premature state.

The church is situated in wha a park of the parish of Ann until 1841, when the present it was formed. The following r ministered in the old church: W. M. Godfrey, Rev. C. W. Mo Rev. Robt. T. L. Auketel, Rev. H. Morris, Rev. John M. Whitey and Rev. W. B. Beeler. The church was erected in Mr. Be time, and he, together with Rev. Lockward, and the present r Rev. A. W. L. Smith, have b services there.

The Archbishop of Nova Scoti preside. Rev. Archdeacon Vroom of the descendants of the boy will give the address. Rev. Morris and Rev. Jno. Lockward, or rectors, Rev. Canon V. E. P another descendant of the settlers, and the present rector A. W. L. Smith, will take p the service.

The following are the i guests:

The deanery, of Annapolis. The summer visiting clergy. The ministers of the religio tes of Annapolis Royal, Digby, River, and Clementsport. His Honor Lieut. Gov. Grant. His Honor Chief Justice Har His Honor Atty. General Dan The legal delegates to the polis celebration. The Canadian Navy—officer men. Representative N. S. Historic clety.
