may be plain and bare. No matter; it is not the house, nor the furniture, nor the adornment that makes this air of sweetness. I look closely. It is a gentle woman-mother or daughter, quiet, hiding herself away from whose life the fragrance flows.

There is a wondrous charm in a gentle spirit. The gentle girl in a home may not be beautiful, may not be educated, may not be musical or an artist or 'clever' in any way, but wherever she moves she leaves a benediction. Her sweet patience is never disturbed by the sharp words that fall about her. The children love her because she never tires of them. She helps them with their lessons, listens to their frets and worries, mends their broken toys, makes dolls' dresses, straightens out the tangles and settles their little quarrels and finds time to play with them. When there is sickness in the house she is an angel of comfort. Her face is always bright with the outshining of love. Her voice has music in it as it falls in cheerful tenderness on the sufferer's ear. Her hands are wondrously gentle as their soothing touch rests on the aching head, as they minister in countless ways about the bed of pain.

The lives that make the world so sweet
Are shy, and hide like the humble flowers.
We pass them by with our careless feet, Nor dream 'tis their fragrance fills the bower
And cheers and comforts us hour by hour.

What are Yqur Marching Orders?

In the presence of the Duke of Wellington, some officers once spoke slightly of Christian missions. The old Iron Duke was mightily stirred.

'When the chief issues marching orders,' he demanded, 'what are you, the inferior officers of the army, to do?'

'Well, then, take the marching orders of your Chief—"Go ye into all the world and preach." Your duty is to march and fight. The responsibility of success lies with the Commander, not with you.'

Thus did his clear and vigorous mind sufficiently dispose at once of a precious pair of objections that are even yet made to do service against foreign missions, viz., duty does not require it, and the time and money thus used are thrown away. It is only wilfulness that can still urge the first objection, and only ignorance that can even mention the Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Land Regulations.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter-section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties. — Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent), and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price, $2.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

second. The whole progress of Christianity since the apostles first appealed to the Gentiles has been wrought by essentially foreign mission work. Had it not been for the foreign missionary spirit the Christian religion would never have seen its second century. The history of Christian foreign missions began as early as the Day of Pentecost.—'War Cry.'
