

"I have sway'd troublous councils—I am wise in terrible things—
"Father and son and grandson I have known the heart of the Kings.
"Shall I give thee my sleepless wisdom or the gift all wisdom above?
"Ay, we be women together—I give thee thy people's love:

"Tempered, august, abiding, reluctant of prayers or vows,
"Eager in face of peril as thine for thy mother's house:—
"God requite thee, my Sister, through the strenuous years to be,
"And make thy people to love thee as thou hast loved me!"
—RUDYARD KIPLING.

"Juddy and I got into a terrible tangle shopping to-day."
"How?"
"I owed her ten cents, and borrowed five cents and then fifty cents."
"Well?"
"Then I paid thirty cents for something she bought—"
"Yes?"
"And she paid forty cents for something I bought, and then we treated each other to ice cream soda."
"Well?"
"She says I still owe her a nickel."
