

FIG. B.—Diagram showing correction of alignment of mediastinum and restoration of normal contour of lung on the unaffected side under differential pressure and in the presence of thoracotomy. The lung on the affected side also shows a slight increase in volume.