

THE WEEKLY DISPATCH

Is the most complete record of the week's news, the oldest and most independent advocate of Liberal principles among English papers, and the most comprehensive in the information afforded to its readers on all the interesting topics of the day. Original articles on political and social subjects; criticisms of books, the drama, music and works of art; copious reports of Parliamentary, law and police intelligence; special descriptive reports; carefully collected foreign news; the very latest information by electric telegraph from all parts of the world; the state of the money and the commercial markets, are among the permanent features of the DISPATCH. Legal and general information is afforded to querists; and an able staff of writers, including the famous correspondents, PUBLICOLA and CAUSTIC, maintain the reputation of the paper as the ablest exponent of true Liberal principles.

PRICE TWOPENCE.

OFFICE, 139, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.