4. The twenty-seventh section of the said Act is hereby repealed and the following section substituted therefore:—

"27. Every Indian who, without the license in writing of the Superintendent General, or of some officer or person deputed by him for that purpose, cuts, carries away or removes from the land of an Indian who holds a location title, or who is otherwise recognized by the department as the occupant of such land, any of the trees, saplings, shrubs, underwood, timber or hay thereon, or removes any of the stone, soil, minerals, metals or other valuables off the said land; and every Indian who, without license as aforesaid, cuts, carries away or removes from any portion of the reserve of his band, for sale and not for the immediate use of himself and his family, any trees, timber or hay thereon, or removes any of the stone, soil, minerals, metals or other valuables therefrom, for sale, as aforesaid, or if he cuts or uses any pine or large timber for any other purpose than for building on his own location or farm, unless with the consent of the band and the approval of the Superintendent General, shall incur the penalties provided in the next preceding section in respect to Indians of other bands and other persons, and similar proceedings may be had for the recovery thereof as are provided for in the said section."

5. The sixty-second section of the said Act is hereby repealed and the following section substituted therefor:—

"62. Any officer or agent acting under the Superintendent General may seize or cause to be seized in Her Majesty's name any logs, timber, wood or other products of trees or any trees themselves, cut without authority on Indian lands or on an Indian reserve, wherever they are found, and place the same under proper custody until a decision can be had in the matter from competent authority."

6. The sixty-third section of the said Act is hereby repealed, and the following section substituted therefor:—

"63. When the logs, timber, wood or other products of trees cut without authority, or the trees themselves so cut without authority on Indian lands or on an Indian reserve, have been made up or intermingled with other trees, wood, timber, logs or other products thereof, into a crib, dam or raft, or in any other manner, so that it is difficult to distinguish the timber cut on a reserve or on Indian lands without license from the other timber with which it is made up or intermingled, the whole of the timber so made up or intermingled shall be held to have been cut without authority on a reserve or on Indian lands, and shall be seized and forfeited and sold by the Superintendent General or any officer or agent acting under him, unless
