

FROM THE DAILY COLONIST, Feb. 15.

THE CITY.

A CARLEGRAM from Sydney, N.S.W., announces the arrival there on Saturday last of the R.M.S. Warrimoo.

The steamer Princess Louise carried to New Westminster on Sunday evening the remains of the late Henry G. R. Morgan; from the Royal City they will be forwarded to Ottawa for interment.

GEORGE SINCLAIR, the young woman who attempted to end her life Saturday evening by jumping from the James Bay bridge, has expressed her willingness to remain at the Rescue home, where she now is.

The mission church on Tennyson road, established chiefly through the endeavors of the younger members of the Calvary Baptist congregation, was formally opened on Sunday last, Mr. William Marchant officiating.

A VERY pleasant time was spent by a large audience last evening in the school room of the Metropolitan Methodist church, when Rev. Solomon Cleaver delivered an interesting discourse on the conquest of Mexico.

H. B. SMITH, C.E., of Keeler & Smith, left for Kamloops last night, under instructions from the Provincial Government, to examine the site of the proposed bridge across the Thompson river and to obtain the necessary data for designing a suitable structure.

On Sunday morning Mrs. Shires, who resides in a house off the Esquimalt road in the vicinity of Macaulay Point, was found dead in one of the rooms. Coroner Hasell made the necessary inquiries, and being satisfied as to the cause of death concluded that an inquest was not necessary.

The special committee representing the lacrosse, cricket, football, cycling and general athletic interests in connection with the recreation grounds project yesterday presented their report which will be printed immediately and submitted to the several clubs for their formal endorsement.

JAMES THOMAS, for many years in Her Majesty's service as Esquimalt, and recently caretaker of Ross cemetery, died yesterday at the infirmary at two years ago leaving a small family, who are now kindly cared for in the Protestant Orphans' Home.

THREE new members were initiated into the secrets of Pledge of the Ridge lodge, I.O. G.T., at the society's regular meeting in the Odd Fellows' hall, Fernwood road, last evening. After the business of the evening the newly elected officers of the lodge entertained the other members with speeches, singing and refreshments.

GOOD congregations were present on Sunday at the James Bay Methodist church at the services commemorative of the thirty-fifth anniversary of the first Methodist missionaries' arrival in Victoria. There were appropriate music and sermons, the preachers being Rev. C. Bryant, a pioneer of pioneers, and Rev. J. H. White, son of one of the early comers.

At a meeting of the A. O. U. W. building association last evening, by-laws, etc., were adopted and trustees elected as follows: R. T. Williams, Gustav Leiser, T. Haaning, Tom W. Turpel and Noel Shakespeare. Successful arrangements have been made for the early construction of the new A. O. U. W. hall, though the name of the lucky tender is not yet announced.

Not having secured the services of the Government steamer Quana, which had been asked for by several Victorians to continue the search for information regarding the loss of the Estelle, Capt. James Christenson, sr., chartered the steamer Alert yesterday, and left with her at noon, intending to follow up the East coast of Vancouver Island in order to recover if possible the bodies of the missing crew, and also to ascertain the cause of the disaster.

THE many friends of Mrs. Robert Elford will regret to learn of her death, which took place yesterday at the residence of her husband, Cadboro Bay road. Mrs. Elford was a native of England, but for many years past had resided in Victoria. Her death, strange to say, happened on the anniversary of her birth, as she attained her seventy-seventh year yesterday. The family so sadly bereaved includes her husband, two sons and two daughters, the latter Messrs. J. P. and Theophilus Elford, Mrs. Archibald and Mrs. McKenzie.

ANNIE McCoy, whose removal to the Reason Home was referred to in Sunday's COLONIST, was yesterday afternoon seized with morphia mania, and seriously assaulted the assistant matron before she could be subdued. So strong was she in her struggles that Sergeant Walker and the entire force of the home were given plenty to do in bringing her to subjection and in preventing her from doing herself or others injury until her reason returned. The unfortunate victim of morphia and desertion was later in the day removed to the city police station.

THERE was a good gathering of the Y. P. A. of the Central church last night, which very pleasant evening was spent. The principal event of the evening was the reading of the second number of the society's paper, which proved to be equally up to the standard of the last number. There was quite a lot of criticism in it relative to articles which appeared in the last number, and also a really good editorial by the ex-assistant editor, the whole of which highly amused and entertained those present. The society intend to hold a lecture and social on the 20th inst., when the Rev. G. R. Maxwell, of the First Presbyterian church, Vancouver, will give his famous humorous lecture on "Home."

YESTERDAY afternoon the shareholders of the Victoria Electric Tramway and Light Company held their annual meeting, Major Dupont, the president, in the chair, and there being $160,000 of the stock represented. The annual report and financial statement, which showed a satisfactory state of affairs, having been adopted, the election of directors was proceeded with. Mr. Joseph Hunter, M.P.C., proposed Hon. D. W. Higgins, referring to him as the father of the present tramway system of the city, and speaking of the monetary assistance he had given the company to tide them over while suffering from the effects of the fire. Mr. Higgins, however, who thanks declined to reconsider his decision to resign owing to press of over-work and also because he would be absent from the city during several months of the present year. His motion that Mr. T. S. Gore be elected in his place was unanimously carried, and with this exception the board of directors remains the same as last year. The directors, at a meeting held subsequently, elected officers as follows: President, C. T. Dupont; Vice-President, Dr. T. J. Jones; Secretary, T. S. Gore; Auditors, Messrs. Raymer and Beridge. As stated at the meeting, it is intended to institute ten minute services on the tramway and to extend and improve both it and the electric lighting departments.

VICTORIANS who were in Nanaimo Saturday evening and chanced to be present at the political meeting held in the Opera house, unite in pronouncing it "stale, flat and unprofitable." The attendance was very small, and no enthusiasm was manifested at any stage of the proceedings.

JACK POWELL, alias Calleyway, the Salem, Ore., gambler and sure-thing man who was taken last week given 24 hours in which to leave Nanaimo, has been in Victoria since Friday night, although the police have not yet been able to locate him and secure an interview. The object of their solicitude for Mr. Powell's welfare is outlined in a telegram received from Chief McLaren on Saturday, which asks for his immediate arrest and detention, a warrant having been issued by Magistrate Jordan, of Vancouver. The charge is not, as is first reported, the abduction of Jennie Vincent from her parents and home in Vancouver, but the theft of a value belonging to that young lady and containing about $60 worth of jewelry, which she refers to as her trousseau. Mr. Vincent, the father of the girl so opportunely rescued from Powell's clutches before Chief McKinnon, of Nanaimo, said yesterday in conversation with the COLONIST's representative at the Terminal city: "Powell first met my daughter at the roller rink and came home to the house with her. He asked that he might pay her his respectful attentions, was a smooth talker and well dressed, and said he owned large land in Salem and would like to marry my daughter, and locate on his big farm. One thing I deplore greatly is that he borrowed my new raincoat the last night he was here. I was deceived." Not so Mrs. Vincent, who says she knew the man was villain from the first time she set eyes on him, and always watched him closely and with suspicion. Miss Vincent's chief regret is for her wedding dress and "outfit" which the villain in the case, (Powell, Calleyway or Caterley), is well-known to the police of every city of British Columbia; he is a married man and belongs to a good family in Salem, who, however, disowned him on his deserting his wife to lead the life of a gambler and sport.
