

answers many objections. His view of Sabbath obligation is at once spiritual, and placed at the highest standard. Here and there one might be disposed to criticize or modify the position taken or the form of argument employed, especially in the exegesis of Scripture proof; but these things will scarcely detract from the popular value of a strong and racy little book."

PROFESSOR J. F. McLAUGHLIN, Victoria University, says: "The spirit of the writer is good; he shows himself possessed of wide information and a fund of humor, as well as of sound common sense. In some respects I think the book to be a very effective reply to the vagaries of the Seventh Day Adventists."

REV. J. SOMERVILLE, D.D., says: "In 'Lost Track of a Day' we have a discussion of the Sabbath question which is very much needed. It gives in brief compass, and in a racy, readable form, the arguments for the Christian Sabbath, and will well repay a careful reading. This little book should have a wide circulation, for it will be the means of disseminating intelligent reasoning on a subject upon which views are not often clearly defined. The erroneous notions of the Seventh Day Adventists are being industriously spread in the community, and this discussion is admirably adapted to counteract their erroneous teaching."

REV. A. LANGFORD, D.D., says: "There is a freshness and originality about Mr. Dezell's book that will commend it to readers. It is just what is needed at the present hour. Even Canadians are becoming somewhat loose in their views concerning the Lord's Day. I sincerely hope that this excellent book may find its way into the homes of the people."

COMMENDED BY THE ALLIANCE

At the meeting of the Executive Board of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance, Dec. 30th, 1902, Rev. T. Albert Moore, Secretary, introduced the book and brought up the subject of its distribution. Of its reception he writes the author: "Many kind words were spoken of your book, and both its argument and presentation were warmly commended. It was also hoped that you might succeed in placing in the hands of our Ontario people your whole edition at an early date, because of the good that must follow its circulation."
