BOARD OF TRADE CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS BEARS FRUIT

Citizens Would Be Pleased If Members of the Board Would Nominate Some of Its Members for Seats in City Council.

Some interesting letters were read at the luncheon in the St. Charles' restaurant yesterday of the membership committee of the board of trade. One of them was from C. A. Bogert, general manager of the Dominion Bank, enciosing the names of eight managers of branches of the bank whom he desired to nominate for membership. Mr. Bogert at the same time warmly complimented the board on the good work it was doing and stated that he was heartlify in sympathy with the movement to increase its membership, as he recognized that the more thoroly representative the organization was recognized that the more thoroly representative the organization was made the greater would be its influence for good. He sincerely trusted that the campaign would realize expectation was several instances wherein the interests of the board had been beneficially exercised. He suggested, as did Mr.

At this juncture Secretary Morley announced that an application for membership had been received from Sir George W. Ross. This was rewas able to report 17 more applications, making in all 29 that he has brought of the Sir George might be in-

Action by Judge Morson to Recover $65 Income Tax Will Be Tried at Brampton.

The old question as to whether i judge is liable to income taxation is again to the fore in an action by Judge Merson, to recover $65 income tax, which was paid by him under protest. Judge Morson is barred from entering suit in his own county, so will bring action in Brampton. On the strength of a ruling by the Canadian supreme court that incomes of Dominion officials are assessable, the city assessed the judge. He at first refused to pay the tax, and the matter was taken to City Solicitor Johnston for settlement. Mr. Johnston decided that the judge's income was taxable, and the amount was paid under protest Two years ago an appeal was made court of revision by all the county judges in Toronto for exemption, but the application was refused, As Judge Winchester, to whom the appeal would have to be made, was himself an applicant, the matter dropped there.
