"THEY SHALL NOT PASS" IS MOTTO OF TAGGERS

Monday is French Flag Day, when Toronto will have a chance to do its "bit" in return for the gallant things that the French nation has done for the allies. The taggers will be on the streets early, and all are asked to give them cheery welcome and returns to suit the purse of the donor.

Thousands of refugees are waiting for Canada's generosity. Toronto has never been behind in patriotic work, nor has she ever listened unmoved to never been behind in patriotic work, nor has she ever listened unmoved to the appeal for distress.

French Flag Day is both an opportunity to pay a patriotic debt and to help those in distress. "They shall not pass," was the cry of the brave French when they forced back the Hun. The same will be said by the taggers on Monday when they determine that no single one shall pass without having had a chance to contribute to the good work. the good work.

WOMEN TAKE NOTES. Are Following Food Demonstrations i Business-Like Way.

Interested classes attended the food demonstrations given at the Technical School yesterday, the attendance at the morning session being forty and a hundred being on hand in the afternoon. Miss Dixon, the domestic science expert, was again the demonstrator. That the women were doing their work in a business-like way was shown by the note books which some of them carried and in which the recipes and methods were noted.

Women's organizations are asked to co-operate by making the classes
