Altho the conditions were regarded bad, apparently none of the sergeants other non-commissioned officers thought to take complaints to the proper source where a remedy might be found. The enquiry is likely to be prolonged to some days yet. Justice Hodgins is disposed to call all soldiers who wish testify, while the officers of the ship and a number of newspaper reporters who obtained statements from the men are also to be called.

Pte. John Blackmore of Toronto sain he had seen a soldier take a maggot on of the soup; that he, himself, had been served with a piece of bone instead of meat, Among other complaints, too, we come of the men's quarters being flooded with filthy water. Sergt, Howard Wolfe, however, thought the berthing on the Northland was "as good as could be expected on an old boat."

Good as Expected,

Sergt, Howard H. Wolfe, a former newspaper man, said he went to England with the first contingent, was taken prisoner by the Germans at the second battle of Ypres, and spent 33 months in a German prison camp before he was repatriated. He thought the berthing accommodations for the third-class passengers were as good as could be expected on an old boat. He had no complaints from his men as to fool, altho he was orderly sergeant for his district on two occasions. Mr. Merkle of the Canadian Press had asked witness about conditions on the ship, and he had replied that he knew of no cause for complaints. This was after the story had already appeared in Toronto.

Pte Frederick L. Green of Toronte complained of meat he could not eat but the pantry steward said it was all he had to give. To make sure of getting something to eat it was necessary to lie up an hour ahead of the meal hour. It one was later than that he had a poor chance of getting anything. He did not think the Northland was properly equipped to carry troops, as the men ate in their sleeping quarters—a condition army physicians would not allow.

Lance-Corp. Cook of Toronto said foed and water were both scarce. After the second day out he had to wash and shave in salt water; drinking water was also scarce, and the men were forced by thirst to patronize the canteen.
