PUT OVER WINNING RUN IN NINTH BOX

A Tough Argument to Down Bears in Second Game — Jones Wild.

The shoe was on the other foot yesterday and the Leafs got the better of a close argument from the Bears, winning, two runs to one. John Paul Jones, late of the New York Giants, threw them up for the first time before the home crowd and while the Donavonites only secured two safe hits, the big Toronto pitcher was liberal with his free trips to first and eight of them got him into trouble. Jones' team mates heaved in a couple of misplays in the first round to spot the enemy one and then it was an uphill fight to the last round to get the decision.

Shea pitched steady ball thruout and while the Leafs were able to connect with more regularity than the Newark visitors, Shea's help was all right and Catcher Bruggy turned back the Gibson clan as they attempted to amble to second, until the fans were positively sick of the performance.

Hit by Bill Scarce.

The Leafs have not yet caught up with their hitting streak that traveled with them on the first game. In the early rounds of yesterday's game were not of the cheering order. The champions finished strong, that made the overwork many things. The Leafs batted from behind for seven innings, caught the Bears in the eighth and ran over the winning run with two out in the ninth. That is the finish that always pleases.

It would be better to get down the bare details and leave the judgment to the readers. Jones took on his liberal right in the first round. He rolled out trouble for himself by issuing a free ticket to the second batter. Then Davis popped to third. Letter second and went to third when Sandberg's throw was bad. Catcher got on free and started to trot to second slowly. Jones threw to Anderson and then Andy heaved on the wrong side of the plate. The pitcher was being safe at second and Letter crossed with the only Newark run of the game. Miller also stroked for and Jacobson pitched one between third and short. Purcell raced over and made a sensational pick-up and threw him out at third, to end the inning.

Bruggy opened the second for Newark with a hit and started to trot to second but failed to score when the next two went out. Newark's second and last safe hit was pulled to center by the fifth. Shea crashed safely into right. It went for nothing.

The sixth was a dangerous round and the Leafs were lucky to get out without a tally against them. The misplay did the trick again. Catcher rolled out. Purcell heaved Miller's grounder to the right and the Newark first-sacker pulled up at the half-way station. A wild pitch moved Miller to third, but Jacobson rolled to Purcell. Bruggy waited for four wide ones and started right off on a trip to second. Miller naturally footed it for home, but was run down before he made the plate.

Jones was generous to open the next round with a hit and Shea rolled out to get round with a hit. The Leafs would not come. Quick work by Sandberg cut down the Bears' chances. Shea rolled out and walked. Bruggy forced Jacobs at second, but made the first bag himself when Anderson threw badly trying to make a double play. Bruggy set sail for second, but Sandberg grabbed the overthrow and threw out Bruggy. Anderson before he could make second.

Andy the Handy.

The Monday eve Toronto hitless and it was not until the second inning yesterday that the first Toronto hit was recorded when Shea rolled out to center right and stole second. He stayed there. Breckenridge beat out one to short in the third, but was run down. No hit being found in the Toronto bats.

Anderson got a lucky double in the fifth when Letter rolled out to center. After Jones popped out in the next Bruggy connected for his second single of the game and Shea rolled out. Jones and Gonzales waited for a base on balls and retired the same way as Bruggy. Bruggy threw them out handily.

Holden lifted to center in the next section and then Anderson bounced one off the right-field bleachers and raced a third in dashing fashion. Sandberg lifted the needed long fly to center to let Andy home with the tying run.

The Leafs won it in the ninth. Break rolled to first and Gonzales made first when Shea threw high to the base. Whitman smashed a hit into right and Gonzales made third and ran. Shea was deliberately walked and Purcell raised a sacrifice fly to let Gonzales beat the return home with a pretty slide. This was the count two to one for Gibson and evened up the series.
