W. M. S. Board Urges Enfranchisement of Methodist Women

Last night's session of the Dominion W. M. S. of the Methodist Church concerned itself chiefly with the consideration of memorials, that regarding the enfranchisement of women of Methodism passing the meeting with a change in the wording. This memorial is to be passed on to the general convention of the Methodist Church for the consideration of that body. The question of giving women missionaries the permission to administer baptism to infants was also considered, and will undoubtedly be passed to the general convention after rewording.

During the afternoon an hour with the missionaries and candidates was held, and afterwards a communion service.

JIMMY COON STORIES

By Dr. Warren G. Partridge.

GREAT TROUBLE IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

All the neighbors were shocked at the trouble in the Possum family. It was the talk of every family around Mirror Pond, and in the Great Forest. And one evening there was a most disgraceful family row in the Possum family; and the neighbors heard screams for help; and everybody ran pell-mell to see what the rumpus was in the Possum household.

It was an awful sight. For the Wood Folk saw Mr. and Mrs. Possum in a terrible fight in their sitting-room. It was hard to tell who could scream the loudest or scratch and claw the hardest, or bite the deepest. But the sitting-room looked as if it had been struck by a cyclone; for the chairs were knocked over, and the big cradle was turned upside down, and the twelve little babies of Mrs. Possum were sprawling on the floor and yelling at the top of their little voices. And then all the mothers among the neighbors screamed, as they surrounded the Possum house, as they feared every second, that in the awful battle, the little babies would be trampled on and hurt.

But soon all the mothers outside gave a shout of joy; for Mrs. Possum had gotten Mr. Possum down on the floor, and she was pounding him with her rolling-pin. Now all the mothers, like Mrs. Skunk, Mrs. Porcupine, Mrs. Coon and others, took the side of Mrs. Possum; for they all knew that Mr. Possum was a good-for-nothing father and husband, and was too selfish and lazy to work.

And all these mothers around the open door of the Possum house, watching the fight, shouted: "Mrs. Possum, give it to him good and hard. He deserves a sound whipping for treating your rolling-pin on his back, we will lend you our rolling-pins."

And now Mr. Possum did scream for help! But none of the men-folk would assist Mr. Possum, Bobby Skunk said, "It serves him right. I never believe in interfering in family matters. Let them settle it between themselves; for it is dangerous business to get between a husband and wife." And all of a sudden, Mr. Possum, squirming, got on his feet; and he darted over the upturned cradle, and caught up one of the twelve little babies spilled out on the floor; and he caught that little baby by the little band around its slender waist, and rushed from the front door, with that little baby dangling from his mouth.

The neighbors screamed in horror. But Mrs. Possum grabbed the broom-stick and gave chase to Mr. Possum. And it was laughable to see Mrs. Possum chasing Mr. Possum through the woods, as Mr. Possum held that dangling baby Possum in his mouth, by that little band around its tiny waist.
