

IRISH RADICALS EXPELLED FROM AUSTRALIAN PARLIAMENT

London, Nov. 12.—(By the Canadian Associated Press)—President Mahon of the Australian Irish League has been expelled from the Australian House of Representatives for a wild speech, describing the situation in Ireland as a saturnalia of murder, arson and plunder by a foreign army of occupation. The motion to expel Mahon was made by Premier Hughes, who maintained that the speech was incompatible with the oath of allegiance. According to a cable to the Times, Mahon, who was elected as a Labor member, had previously told Premier Hughes that he could "go to the devil," and the House could do what it liked.

Eighty MEN APPLY FOR WORK SEVENTY-SEVEN RECEIVE JOBS

Government Employment Bureau Is Doing Good Work in Finding Situations For Those Out of Work.

Eighty men applied for employment at the office of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau last week. Seventy-seven were placed in positions. There were 47 returned soldiers in the number placed. Men placed in agricultural employment were 15, as laborers 22, as building laborers 11, as shop laborers 3, the remainder of the number placed accepting work as textile workers, bushmen, molders and machinists.

Reports sheets giving the names, occupations and positions obtained are available at the office of the Ontario employment department, corner of Talbot and Dundas streets, showing that there is no padding of the figures given out regarding the work of the bureau.

While other agencies and individuals are taking a pessimistic view of the labor situation, the Ontario labor department here is kept busy actually placing the men.

So far as this office is concerned, it appears that London enjoys an enviable situation as compared with other Canadian or American cities. There are never very many applicants in the office at one time. An average of ten to fifteen applicants a day call at the bureau, and are promptly referred to available positions either in or out of town.

Asked regarding the type of the returned soldiers placed by the office, Mr. Spencer declares that he gets just as large a proportion of so-called "problem cases" as any other agency. No attempt is made, however, to persuade applicants to stay in the city if they desire to go out of town or have any inclination to engage in farming. The few applicants who are not placed are usually insisted upon working a certain place and at a certain kind of work. They, too, are placed, but sometimes it takes a day or two to find openings acceptable to them. There is not any superfluity of work, according to Mr. Spencer, but there are prospects.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—At the first meeting of the provincial commission which is to investigate university finances, held today in the office of the deputy attorney general, it was decided to send formal invitations to the University of Toronto, Queen's University and Western University to present full information as to their finances and allied subjects to the commission early in December. It was agreed that the commissioners should visit the University of Toronto on Thursday and Friday of next week respectively, and Queen's University on November 22.

All the members of the commission were present. They are: Hon. H. J. Coyne, this city, chairman; Sir John Willson and A. Russell, Toronto; Col. A. P. Deroche of Ottawa; C. R. Gervais of London; and J. A. Wallace of the town of Simcoe.

15 WOMEN POLLING CLERKS EMPLOYED

City Clerk Baker Has Complete Staff Engaged for Municipal Elections.

Preparations for the election in January are well under way. City Clerk Baker said today that he had signed on his complete staff of deputy returning officers and polling clerks. Women will play a prominent part this year. Fifteen of them will act as polling clerks. A number of others are on the substitute list. In the event of some of the male clerks failing to put in appearance the number of women on duty will be increased. Several of those employed are married.

Next year there are certain to be at least two women deputy returning officers. Mr. Baker said, as the ones engaged for the best service this year as polling clerks will be promoted.

Several of the women are local school teachers. Mr. Baker said he believed there would be no objection to their acting in that capacity, as the Christmas holidays would be in progress, and they would not conflict with their school duties.

In addition to being of financial assistance to them, it was also a good training for them in civic affairs, and enabled them to impart knowledge of this nature to their pupils from first-hand information. One teacher who acted as a poll clerk last year with great success, as she wanted the holiday, but in a letter to the city clerk she stated her experience of the past year had been worth several weeks' schooling.

WHAT WAS CONTENT OF BLACK BOTTLE?

Intallible Nose and Intallible Tongue of Chief of Police Refuse to Register.

The police officer said it was whiskey, the owner of the bottle claimed it was cider, the usual intallible nose of the chief of police was not sure, his tongue, assisted by a finger dipped within the contents, failed to register a conviction and so the Institute of Public Health will be asked to decide just what a certain broken bottle produced in a court today as evidence against a local man charged with having liquor in his possession contrary to section 41 of the act.

In addition to being of financial assistance to them, it was also a good training for them in civic affairs, and enabled them to impart knowledge of this nature to their pupils from first-hand information. One teacher who acted as a poll clerk last year with great success, as she wanted the holiday, but in a letter to the city clerk she stated her experience of the past year had been worth several weeks' schooling.

As P. C. Tomlin was proceeding north on Richmond street, near Maple street, at 1 o'clock this morning, he saw a man standing within a doorway. The man in the rear had a bottle to his lips, and apparently was about to take a drink. The policeman made a dive for him, and in the struggle which ensued, the bottle was smashed on the pavement.

The officer gathered up some of the remnants of the bottle, and carefully replaced the cork within the broken neck. When the pieces were produced in court today a small quantity of liquor was still in the bottom part of the bottle.

The man swore that he believed it contents to be cider. He had secured it at a friend's place in South London. He had not tasted the liquor because the police officer had interfered.

The second man was produced. He said that he knew nothing of the bottle. He and the other chap had stopped light a cigarette and pipe when they were accosted.

A. M. Judd, appearing for the defence, thought that an analysis should be made. The magistrate agreed with him.

NO FURTHER REDUCTIONS. Toronto, Nov. 12.—That there was indication of a further drop in the price of wheat, owing to the quotations of the wheat market was the opinion expressed today by the heads of two large brokers in quotations on the drop of six cents a bushel in wheat on the Chicago market yesterday.

Cause and Meaning of the Republican Avalanche

Now that the smoke of the political battle has cleared away, it is interesting to survey the battlefield through the eyes of the editorial spokesmen of the various parties engaged in the struggle. "The nation has emphasized its disapprobation and disgust of the way in which the Wilson oligarchy made war and muddled the making of peace," says the Philadelphia Public Ledger (Rep.). Moreover, "it has branded Burlesonism with the biting condemnation that it deserved; it has punished Democratic inefficiency, waste, sectional partiality and personal favoritism." The Minneapolis Journal (Rep.) avers that "a representative government has been ordered restored in the United States, and one-man government has been ordered cast out." The Democratic Norfolk Virginian-Pilot advances these reasons for its party's defeat: "The stunning Republican majorities in New York, New Jersey and Boston can be best accounted for by wholesale Irish, Italian and German desertions. The Republicans succeeded admirably in rounding up the hyphenates. The Democrats succeeded only indifferently in attracting organized labor. Neither party scored a particular victory with the women. The women, several millions strong, and big with potentiality for making and unmaking elections, entered as Madame X, but marked her ballot overwhelmingly as Mrs. John Smith."

Do not miss reading THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, November 13, the leading article of which tells in the words of the editors of American newspapers of the different political parties how the sweeping Republican triumph was accomplished and what it portends for the future.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
New York, Nov. 12.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Gains outnumbered losses at the opening of today's trading on the stock exchange, short covering resulting from the moderate rally in foreign exchange and prospects of easier money conditions. Within the first half hour, however, a sharp reversal occurred, pressure proving especially effective in the equipment, steel and shipping groups. American Car, General Electric and Bethlehem Steel fell 2 points each. Atlantic-Gulf reacted 1½ points, and American International lost 1 point. Early gains in Mexican and American Petroleum and some of the investment falls were forfeited, and food and tobacco issues featured the heavy specialties.

1:30 p.m.—Liquidation assumed heavy proportions at midday with many new low records for the year and a new low in United States Steel for several years at 82½. Over-night losses among the equipments, shippings and motor specialties, notably General Electric, United Fruit, Atlantic-Gulf, American International and Kelly-Springfield extended from ¾ to 1½ points.
