17 INNINGS AT BOSTON. Cubs and Doves Battle to a Tie, 1 to 1

At Boston. — The Chicago National League champions played a seventeeninnings single-run tie with Boston today. Darkness stopped the game. Lindaman and Pfiester pitched remarkable balland several times each pulled out of tightplaces when a run would have been scored with a hit. Howard hit the ballover the left field fence, close to the foulline, in the seventh innings, and the localstied the score in their half on Beaumont's single, a base on balls and Bowerman's infield hit. The home team had many chances to score in the closing innings, but heady pitching and fast fielding prevented a tally. There were many sensational plays, but a one-handstop of a low liner by Ritchey was the feature.

Well, boys, did Jack Long make good yesterday? And I will make good again to-day. Get wise, boys! I never make false claims; when I say I had a winner you can bet that I gave the horse to all my clients. I do a square business, so get wise to the fakirs and go with the man that gives you something for your money.
