THE DERBY WINNER AND THE HISTORIC ENGLISH RACE COURSE

VIEW OVER EPOSON COURSE FROM THE CLUB STANDS

Just one hundred and thirty years since the event was established on the English racing calendar, another Derby at Epsom Downs was the maket of all England on Wednesday. It was attended by approximately a quarter of a million persons, who overtook the track in black masses, covering the rising downs on either side of the enclosed course.

It was an ideal Derby day; fleecy clouds giving way at intervals to flashes of brilliant sunshine. It was a record crowd that covered every point of vantage within and without the course.

Amid this setting Lemberg, who is now king of the British racing world, set a new Derby record, making the mile and a half in 2m 33.1-5s, as compared with the former record of 2m 36.4-3s. Last year's time in the fierce contest for the Derby Stakes of 6,500 sovereigns ($82,500) the time was 42.2-5s.

Among the most joyful persons were

Lemberg, one of the favorites, won the great English classic. His opponent, Neil Gow, was left somewhat in the lurch, tearing along fourth in the rear of Greenback who was second, and Charles O'Malley, who was third.

The first in the series of four matches in the Canadian Rifle League was largely attended Saturday afternoon by local riflemen, including large contingents from the R. C. Artillery, 62nd Fusiliers and St. John City Civilian Rifle Club. It was the general expression among the competitors that the conditions as regards tricky wind were the worst ever experienced on the range. The changes in the direction of the wind were so rapid that the most experienced marksmen could not gauge the proper allowance to make, and consequently many who expected a bull had to be satisfied with an outer or miss.

The following are the scores of the St. John City club:
