Second and Final Game At Moncton Next Thursday

ON MONDAY night next at Campbellton, the first game of the finals for the New Brunswick amateur hockey will be played between Moncton Atlantics, winners of the southern section, and Campbellton, who won the northern title last evening at Campbellton by beating Chatham, 9 to 2, as exciting a game as has been played on the North Shore this winter. The score hardly indicates the play, the breaks coming in the final period. A week from tonight at Moncton, the final game for the title will be played with the Atlantic as hosts to Camp-bellton. Total scores will decide the Campbellton are favored by most observers to cop the title as they are an exceptionally strong outfit on their home ice and they are generally conceded to have faced sterner opposition this year in Bathurst, Chatham and Fredericton than Moncton has faced in Sussex and Saint John. In addition, a few nights ago, Chatham defeated the Atlantics on Moncton ice while Moncton lost their last two league games t Sussex, a young but promising outfit. Moncton, however, can be depended on to put up a big battle and may sur-prise many of the critics.

More than 2,000 frenzied Campbellton fans watched their favorites pilqup a big score against Chatham last night, the first period, ending 2 to 0 for Campbellton.

The Chatham boys put up a great fight for honors in this deciding game, but the locals seemed actuated by unwavering determination to cinch the Northern League, and as the terrific encounter progressed their superior performance told the tale.

The first period started off quietly ritory play was equally divided. A few spectacular rushes by McLean and Sharp served to waken things up and from then on the contest was a snappy one. The first tally of the evening was shoved in by McLean in one of his customary speedy end to end rushes.

After five minutes and three seconds of play the next tally was also by Campbellton, Howard and Miller, the two school boy flashes, nosing through the entire Chatham squad in a pretty combination play and fooling Carvell for number two

The game was very clean, only six penalties being handed out. After the game the business men of the town banqueted both the Campbellton and Chatham teams at the St Louis Hotel, where all enjoyed themselves to the

Along The Sport Trail

ONE of the most enjoyable sport functions of the season to date was the smoker at the Young Men's Hebrew Association rooms the other night and one of the finest compliments ever paid Charlie Gorman was the presentation of a gold ring by the Jewish lads of the city. It was a tangible expression of appreciation of the wonderful efforts put forth by Gorman for his native city as felt by a section of the city.

In making the presentation, Ell Boyaner said that the Jewish boys had always been behind Charlie because they believed he was a good sport. He said the association felt honored that Charlie had accepted their invitation to be present with them and it was the wish of all that he would be champion for many years to come. We have seen Charlie make some pretty good speeches, sparkling with humor, and seldom have we seen him at loss for words to express himself but when Mr. Boyaner handed over the ring, Charlie was stumped. From the bottom of his heart, he said, he thanked them very very much. It is our opinion that Charlie will think a lot of that ring and when the time comes for him to hang up his racing boots and make way for the younger men, he will look back on none of all the honor that is being paid him more than that by the Jewish boys of the city. Mr.

Boyaner said that it has been only recently that even his home town has recognized universally those sterling qualities that has given him world honors. And that is true. There has been a tremendous revulsion of feeling in this city toward Charlie and people are at last seeing that they have something of extraordinary value in a 26-year-old boy

CLAS THUNBERG is going home and speed-skating fans in Saint John will heave a little sigh of regret that the famous Finn and

Charlie Gorman, world's champion, would not be brought together either indoor or outdoor in a series of races with the odds a little better for Clas. Whatever else may be said of Clas Thunberg, none can say that he was not one of those rare athletes-a true sportsman. One fact alone proves it-he came thousands of miles to risk his title under conditions that would be about as equal as matching Charley Paddock and Paavo Nurmi for a hundred-yard dash. And Thunberg knew that, yet he came and took a sporting chance and he has laid the people of this city under a deep debt of gratitude. For without

Clas Thunberg, no world's title could have been at stake and all the brilliant work of Charlie Gorman would have gone for practically nothing. But today, Gorman is the acknowledged champion of the world.

We saw Clas Thunberg in bitter defeat here but it never changed him and we have heard Gorman himself say on many occasions that in all his experience in the sporting world, he never met a finer competitor than Clas Thunberg. "If Clas and the Finns want me to go to Finland next year and skate a series under his style, I am ready," said Gorman. "He was man enough to come here and give us a chance and if he wants revenge, he will not find me backward. But this is not saying he'll beat me." So, all we have to do now is to fold our hands and wait patiently for another year to roll by. We are glad that Thunberg is going back with much of his prestige restored through his record times against Jewtraw. Lake Placid is about 2,000 feet above

ST. There was a report also that "Tack" Dalton, their star young twirler, would go with the C. G. M. Bruins Expected to Beat New York Team Tonight

MONTREAL, Feb. 18.—St. Pats make their final appearance of the N. H. L. season against Montreal at the Forum tonight. Although the Irishmen are down in sixth place in the league race, they are expected to wage a stiff fight with the Maroons. Montreal will have Bill Phillips, former Soo Greyhound centre, as a substitute tonight. $19,000 is reported to have been offered Phillips.

Canadiens travel to Ottawa to meet the Senators in the second game in three days. The local team will most likely be without Morenz, whose ankle injury was aggravated in the game here with Ottawa Tuesday, and who seems doomed to witness the contest from the bench. The Bruins play at New York tonight, and on recent performances should add two more points to their total and leave the big question be-tween themselves and Canadiens for the game the two teams will play here as they play Ottawa at the capital Sat championship by defeating Mahone Bay 8-6 last night. CANNING, N. S.—Windsor defeat-
