As Hiram Sees It

"I see," said Mr. Hiram Hornbreen, to the Times reporter, "they got hydro light out to South Bay at four cents when you folks in town is payin' thirteen an' a half cents for the steam standby stuff."

"That is correct," said the reporter, "An' ain't you gonto git hydro, too?" demanded Hiram. "We are," said the reporter. "Then why don't you git it?" asked Hiram.

"Our American friends want it first," said the reporter, "and you know that as worthy British subjects we must labor for Anglo-American friendship and good will."

"Like they done with our dollar last year—an' the tariff?" queried Hiram. "Well," said the reporter, "as a matter of fact, the American engineers—and of course there are no others—have some doubt about the hydro being there; and our dear American friends do not wish to see us take a doubtful chance. They will take the chance for us. They are ready to hook up to Musquash any minute. We can get the hydro through them."

"At their price," said Hiram. "Quite so," said the reporter—"quite so. But isn't it very noble of them to think of us at all?" "Mister," said Hiram, "if you see the fool-killer comin' I'd say you ortn run wootly fast—yes, sir."

CALLS ON THE GOVERNMENT TO BE ALIVE

Lloyd George Will Support Them if They Show Energy

Stands Unchanged on Reparations Question—Says the Turks Should Not be Handled With Gloves—A Word to Labor.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Nov. 8.—Ex-Premier Lloyd George, referring to the new government in his speech at Newcastle yesterday, said—"I don't desire the least of their being born tired, because I know their difficulties and I know they will require all the energy, vitality, resolution and alertness at their command. Let them face their difficulties alive. That is all I ask of them. So long as they mean to sit still and adopt a purely negative attitude, I want to see as many National Liberals returned as possible, not to embarrass the government but to save them from some of their worst enemies. They will thank Providence and the electorate of Great Britain that provided them with a body-guard of National Liberals that will save them from their die-hard extremists."

Continuing the ex-premier said—"I stand on the reparations issue where I stood where I stood in the last election. What I said then was that Germany should pay to the limit of her capacity. In these things you must avoid extremes. Find out what Germany can pay but if the theory is a reduction of the amount let there be a fair distribution among all the creditor nations. Do not let it be the expense of the British taxpayer who lost just as heavily and sustained damage just as great as the rest of the world's countries. There should be fair and equal treatment for all the allies."

The Near East. Dealing with the developments in the Near East Lloyd George said—"The Turk has come to the conclusion that it is time for another try-on. If the new government stands by the flag, my friends and I will be for them. We will be against them. You do not gain with Ottomans. The same thing applies to many Orientalists. I could tell you of many men who do not stand up to them but if you do they are the most decent people in the world. We have the end of the world you have to stand firm. It is the only guarantee of peace."

Continuing he said that he had fought all his life for labor. "I am not against the workman," he said, "but I do improve him not to go down the wrong avenue seeking a paradise that is not there. Therefore I am for the unity of all nations. I believe that a party that has a progressive outlook."
