Mack Signs Twister.
Philadelphia, Pa., April 23.—Connie Mack has solved the problem of why the world's champions made so few hits and apparently made such a poor showing in the game with St. Joseph's College on the spring training trip, for he has signed Bucky, the St. Joseph's College twister for future use. Mack signed him to a contract and then sent him to Greenville, South Carolina, where he will start his career in professional baseball. Bucky attended the university of Pennsylvania two years ago, when he played on the freshman team. Later he went to Pennsylvania State, finally entering St. Joseph's College.

Coombs Reported Hurt.
Jack Coombs, star pitcher of the Philadelphia baseball team, was reported injured in a game on Saturday and will be out of the game for several weeks.
Jack Lapp, Jack Coombs' catcher, will be out of the game for at least a month, according to advices from the Athletics' camp. Lapp has been slightly ill for some time, but symptoms of typhoid have set in and Lapp has been placed under a physician's care.
Chief Bender has a stiff neck and a cold has settled in his right eye, and it will probably be a couple of weeks before he can get into the game. Jack Coombs will not be out longer than two weeks more, according to Connie Mack. His injury is a torn ligament and is not like the accident which happened to him during the world's series last year. He himself says that he will be ready for work by the time the Athletics return from their present swing around the circuit.

Rube in a Scrap.
Toledo, O., April 23.—Claude Rossman, formerly first baseman of the Detroit, was severely beaten by "Rube" Waddell, the pitcher, in a hotel lobby here Saturday night. Rossman was wearing a book, when Waddell came up and began to belabor him. Rossman is a large man, but taken unawares, was getting much the worse of it, when players rushed up and separated them. The trouble started from an incident during a game.

Peasley Released by Vancouver.
Marvin Peasley, who made such a good impression as a pitcher when with the Woodstock team two seasons ago and who had been signed up by Vancouver for this season has been granted his release by that club. The Vancouver papers seemed to think that Peasley was a good one and that he was showing exceptional form but the management of the team seemed to have a different idea. It is possible that Peasley may be seen with some of the New Brunswick and Maine teams this season.

Giants Go Down.
The Metcalf Stars upheld their title as champions by defeating the Indianapolis Giants 9 to 2 on Victoria Square on Monday night. The batteries were—For the winners, Hatheway, a left-handed twister and Craft a noted catcher, while for the losers, Roberts was the twister, and Moore the catcher. Speight was the umpire. Cooper of the winners made a home run and was the chief batter.

The Ring.
McFarland and Wells.
Packer McFarland is reported in great shape for his bout with Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, on Friday night in New York, and he says that he will win the popular decision. Both men are wonderful boxers and know the boxing game through and through.

Champion Retires.
London, April 23.—Jim Sullivan, the British middleweight champion and holder of the Lonsdale belt, has retired from the ring and returned the belt to Lord Lonsdale, the donor. It has been announced that the winner of the bout between Jack Harrison and the winner of the McEnroe-Ellis match will be declared the champion and awarded the Lonsdale belt. Harrison will meet the winner of this match at the National Sporting Club on May 13.

Johnson and Flynn.
San Francisco, April 22.—They used to tell years ago of a fellow who found a bung and had a barrel made to fit it. As an economist the gentleman referred to was all right, but as an enterprising genius he fell away short of the man who matches a pair of pugilists and had a law passed to enable him to carry through the project.

Jack Curley seemed to have made a double play of the kind described. At least so much is to be inferred from the fact that "the bung" is assumed to have been passed the "Tripp prize fight bill," and a couple of hours later Curley announced in Chicago that Johnson and Flynn would box forty-five rounds at Las Vegas on July 4.

As it happened Curley cannot claim that he is the first to distinguish himself in the direction mentioned. Dan Stuart, it will be remembered, matched Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons for Carson City and then engineered a glove contest measure through the Nevada legislature. That law still stands a monument to Stuart's sagacity.

Curley has certainly accomplished something. When he took hold of the Johnson-Flynn venture he was ridiculed. It was said the affair would never come to a head, but now with both fighters willing and a properly protected battle ground in sight it looks as though the Johnson-Flynn match is a certainty.

The opinion that Flynn is not the most suitable opponent for Johnson still exists but the chances are the sports will think better of the firmness of the match when the date of the match is nearer. Curley, whenever Flynn's claims to championship form are belittled is in the habit of saying: "Please remember that there have been more surprises in fighting than in any other form of sport. Who for instance gave Jim Corbett a chance against John L. Sullivan?"

Anyhow, the Flynn-Johnson match is on with a vengeance and for the next couple of months there will be something big for the critics to tilt at. While at present there are few who feel that Flynn will be able to make any headway against the world's champion there are sure to be many changes of opinion after the men enter into their training.

There are quite a number even now who are arguing that Johnson's two years of indolence and high living must have affected his fighting talents in some measure. For that matter there were no reason that Johnson had retrograded there would be small prospects of the match taking a grip on public interest.

With the muddy track not yet dry over which Mike Ryan ran his record-breaking Marathon to victory last Friday, already speculation is rife as to the chances of the American 25-milers on July 14, after they leave the tape on the long grind in the Swedish Olympics in Stockholm. Of course no one will admit anything but an American victory in the Olympic Marathon, which point is conceded by many foreign authorities on sport, who can see no place for England, one of our greatest rivals, in this branch of the game. But to the probable winner of the Olympic event, there is much to be said among local track sharpers, more than perhaps would have occurred had Clarence D. Mar, the victor in the classic last year, run over the course on April 19, instead of covering it in an automobile. The write is inclined to favor Sokolakis, the Indian runner.

TO OPEN ANOTHER MINE
Announcement of Importance to Springfield is Made

(Gloucester Gazette)
James D. Maxwell, resident superintendent of the D. C. Co's collieries at Springfield, arrived in town this morning on a short business trip.

In a short interview with a Gazette representative Mr. Maxwell said that the town of Springfield was fast recovering from the depression caused by the late troubles there some time ago. The workmen appeared to be contented with conditions prevailing at the mines now and there was good reason to believe that the mutual good feeling now existing between management and men would continue to produce large amounts, and to make returns of all accounts regularly to the head office. The branch manager would have no authority to certify checks on accounts already overdrawn, without special permission. He would have no authority to buy bonds.

Cross-examined by Mr. Powell, the witness said that Clark had not told him of his connection with McBeth or their dealings with Mecklenburg & Co., and he did not learn these things until after the branch manager had left the city. Mr. Kessen said he had advised the sale of stocks held in the Mecklenburg and Clark account, but did not give instructions to that effect or assume responsibility for the matter, despite a letter which was produced in which he had written the Halifax office of Mecklenburg & Co. saying that he would assume the responsibility. He said that he had never asked for delay in the presentation of the $10,000 check. Clark had left St. John in the hope of effecting some settlement of the Collins account. The witness did not think he had made inquiries regarding the Elko and Vanderbilt Realty bonds, and found them worth eighty and when shown a copy of his evidence to this effect at the Clark trial said he did not remember it.

F. P. Starr gave evidence regarding the duties and authority of the general manager and branch managers, and told of the part taken by the directors in the control of the bank's affairs. They had not instructed Mr. Kessen to order the Clark and McBeth account closed, and he had not reported to the directors the letter which he sent to Halifax. The witness stated that they were not liable for the $10,000 check and were confirmed in this by their lawyers, and gave evidence that the bank manager could pledge the bank's credit only by a letter of credit or accepting a draft.

Doctor White concurred with Mr. Starr in his definition of the duties of the bank officials. He considered speculation by bank managers wholly unjustifiable. A branch manager had no authority to certify a check for $10,000 on an overdraft account to make an agreement to indemnify or to buy bonds. When Mr. Powell asked him if the directors would object to their managers playing whist or poker, he remarked that he did not think the counsel could be serious.

The court adjourned to resume this morning.

MORNING LOCALS
Rev. H. K. Cooke, who has been supplying at the Coburg street, Christian church, has received an unanimous call to return to the church at Burdett's Corner, St. John county, where he labored ten and one-half years and will accept leaving the city about the second week in June.

Work on the new cement plant to be established at Green Head will be commenced as soon as the city completes the transfer of the site to the company, said H. A. Guernsey, who arrived in the city a couple of days ago. It is their intention to erect one of the largest plants in eastern Canada.

Word has been received from Ottawa that the Loyalist Dramatic Club of this city have tied with the Edmonton Dramatic Club for fourth place. The winners, in Chicago that Johnson and Flynn would box forty-five rounds at Las Vegas on July 4.

As it happened Curley cannot claim that he is the first to distinguish himself in the direction mentioned. PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Annette Bigham, as president of the Professional Woman's League, has declared that the actresses of the United States unanimously favor the renomination of President Taft.

It costs the Astor Theatre management in New York $22 a week for the cigarettes smoked by the players in "The Greyhound," so many are consumed and they are of such quality.

Action Davies has brought suit against Edward J. Bowes, alleging that Knidling, now being played by Mrs. Bowes (Margaret Hanning), was made from a copyrighted story of his printed in the Evening Sun and later dramatized as a sketch by the author, who demands an accounting.

Weber and Fields have received $10,000 for talking one of their acts into a phonograph and are considering an offer of $50,000 to perform for motion pictures.

Charles Hawtrev, who is now in New York with "Dear Old Charlie," is well known to many local followers of the stage. He last appeared in America in 1905, when he terminated a stay of more than four years, during which he played at the Theatre Royal, Cambridge.

He carried the play to London, where it became an overwhelming success, and ran over two years. He acted-managed the Globe until 1889, producing "The Pisk Pocket," "Harvest," "The Snowball," "One Summer's Day" and "Lord and Lady Algy." Two years later he was producing his own version of "The Private Secretary" at the Theatre Royal, Cambridge.

He has since appeared annually in London and has found the revival of his former successes of considerable profit. He played his present vehicle, "Dear Old Charlie" in London four years ago, and revived it at the Prince of Wales's during February. The play was written several years ago by Charles Brookfield, the recently appointed editor of plays in the British metropolis. Mr. Hawtrev's engagement at Maxine Elliott's is limited to four weeks.

Whether Fat or Thin,
Let Thy Face Be Fair

(From The London Gazette.)
"A woman is not responsible for the contour of her face. She must be dark or slender, tall or short, light or dark—as Nature intended her to be."

"But she is responsible for her complexion. She decides whether it is clear or 'muddy,' smooth or early wrinkled, free from superfluous hair or covered with a downy growth that a college youth would envy."

"If she would have a fair and free from blemish, let her forever put aside paint, powder, and cosmetic. A simple solution made by dissolving a small original package of mayonaise in eight ounces of which hand is all she is required to use."

"Massage the face, arms, and neck with this solution once a day and you soon have beautifully soft and clear skin, free from discoloration, spots and blotch, wrinkles will be prevented and there will be no annoying hairs."

How Amherst Grows
(Amherst News)
The Amherst Malleable Iron Company is now an industry of which every citizen of this town should be proud. Two and a half years ago, the industry was taken over by the Canada Car & Foundry Co. and C. C. Burgess was appointed manager. Mr. Burgess began work with five men and the Malleable Foundry Company under his management has made rapid progress ever since. The original building has been enlarged during the last two years on three different occasions and the working staff now numbers two hundred and fifty men, most of whom, are highly paid mechanics. The building now has a total length of seven hundred and fifty feet and contains thirteen annealing ovens and two smelting furnaces and the output per month is up to five hundred tons of malleable castings.
