INSURANCE.

1. Fire Insurance—Statutory Conditions-Variation - Unreasonableness-Notice-Vacancy - Materiality-Part Affected -Title - Agreement between Mortgagee and Insurance Company—Subrogation.]—The defendants insured seven houses belonging to the plaintiff and which had been mortgaged by him to a loan company and which were described in the policy as "a twostory frame, roughcast, felt-roofed block, * * containing seven dwellings, six of which are occupied by tenants, and one by assured." In the application, filled up by defendants' agent, the question, as to how many tenants, was answered "six tenants and applicant," the agent informing defendants that "the largest house of the lot the applicant will occupy himself." A variation of the statutory conditions was printed on the policy in these words: "This policy will not cover vacant or unoccupied buildings (unless insured as such), and if the premises shall become vacant or unoccupied, * * this policy shall cease and be void unless the company shall by * * allow the inendorsement surance to be continued." A fire occurred by which the houses were destroyed, and defendants paid the loan company the amount of their mortgage, under a prior general agreement with them by which the policy was to be treated between the parties to the agreement as unconditional except as to the mortgagor, and whereby the defendants were entitled, upon payment to the loan company under the policy or otherwise of any loss as to which they claimed to have a defence against the mortgagor, to be subrogated to the loan company's rights and to
