ROMANCE OF YALE IN DIVORCE COURT

Suit Brought to Free Edwin K. Norton, Former Student in Science, From Salesgirl Wife.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 14.—The romance of Edwin K. Norton, who surprised his freshmen friends in Yale by marrying Miss Josephine C. Birney last January, is to end in the divorce court. If proceedings that were formally begun today end in a dissolution of the marriage he will return to Yale.

Norton is now in Europe, and has been there for several months by orders of his father, Edwin Norton, of New York. His case here a year ago and entered Sheffield Scientific School. In a dancing school he met Miss Birney, a tall, pretty blonde salesgirl in a dry goods store, who acted as a clock model, because of her fine physical proportions. She is about two years older than her husband, who is only nineteen.

After a brief engagement Norton and the girl were married on January 13 to Bradford and were married by a justice of the peace. The justice agreed to keep the wedding a secret until after Norton should be graduated from Yale, but the statute which requires reports of such ceremonies to be made monthly to town clerks of the towns of contracting parties forced publicity. Then Norton's father and Carl Canby, his lawyer-in-law, came here and took him away.

Mrs. Norton, 37, has remained at her home, and returned to the store where she sold dry goods. Detectives have kept close watch of her movements, and more serious offenses committed on several dates in Hartford are set up in the complaint. Through her attorney she said today that she had been aware that she was being shadowed, and that she was innocent of any misconduct, but was the victim of a conspiracy. She threatened to sue her father-in-law for alienating her husband's affections.

THE PREFERENTIAL TRADE QUESTION

Discussion of Old Question Being Revived In England—Trade With Canada.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the British Chamber of Commerce, while discussing preferential trade within the Empire, Davies Bristol said that while having due regard to the foreign trade, we ought to give our attention to colonial trade, as it was this trade which could most helpfully be developed. Joseph Walton, M. P., argued that there was no practical basis on which we could set up a preferential trade with even Canada. E. Parkes, M. P., replied that the preference given us by Canada had increased our exports thither by over a hundred per cent.

A. J. Hobson argued that we could give Canada no preference without strengthening the hands of the free and Canadian manufacturers would stoutly resist the admission of goods on any terms which would bring them into real competition with their own. Any such operation would mean the raising of the price of the Empire. Among the resolutions reaffirmed was one in favor of cheaper postage with Canada, so as to afford British merchants and manufacturers the same trade opportunities as that enjoyed with the United States one.

WON'T AGREE TO UNION STATION AT REGINA

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Refuses to Join With the Canadian Northern—Dr. Pugsley's Old Line Must Find New Terminals.

REGINA, Sept. 14.—A sensation caused in the city this afternoon was created by the publishing in the Standard of a story to the effect that Sir Thomas Shaughnessy had communicated to the Canadian Pacific, which had already ample facilities for doing business in the capital city of Saskatchewan. Asked as to whether the report was correct, the president said it certainly was. His company, he said, possessed all the facilities they require and are at present the only company bringing trade into Regina. William Whyte, second vice-president and the directors present spoke to the same effect. This is a matter which the citizens of Regina have very much at heart, and the news is a severe blow especially as a notification was received today from the Railway Commission to the effect that that body has no jurisdiction along these lines.

President of the Canadian Northern, claims half the Regina yards by reason of his purchase of the Prince Albert branch, Mr. Whyte said that there was no foundation for such claims. The Q. R., L. L. and S. R. Railway only entered Regina by agreement, and had no claims south of Dewdney street. Of the party present, Henry Joseph said that he had not been in the West for eighteen years, when the line was in its infancy. Much as we have seen altogether here before Regina was a mudhole. Now you have splendid streets and buildings, and are the wonder town of the West.

TO STAMP OUT POLYGAMY.

Mounted Police Keeping Strict Watch on Mormons in Alberta.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Vancouver, B. C., says, there has been a report that a party of eight men, who had been in the province, and were of the same name, had been arrested by the North-West Mounted Police. A Utah Mormon came here with one of his wives, leaving another well provided for in the United States. He came with wife No. 2, and No. 1 followed. The child of No. 1 fell sick, and he visited his other household. The police forbade this custom, but agreed to take no action provided he would live with No. 1 only. This he refused to do, and matters were this week referred to Ottawa. Other instances have been referred to by the British Columbia Police. Several Mormons have left the country in a hurry. The village of Taylorville, B. C., is moved after J. I. Taylor, a chief of the Mormon Church in Canada, and an apostle in Utah, until recently. He was deposed a short time ago, it being known that he had five wives.

NEW BRITISH ARMY ORDER.

General Staff in Accordance With Recommendations of British Military System. Formed.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—War Minister Haldane last night issued an army order formerly constituting a general staff in accordance with the recommendations of the British military system. It will be judged by the men it produces. If they prove themselves pedantic theorists, failure will result, but if they show themselves capable of mastering the science of war and imparting their knowledge to the army at large, the influence of the staff will become as far-reaching as it is in Germany or Japan.

The order constitutes a staff of two principal divisions, the first staff at army headquarters, and the second staff in commands and districts, the first being concerned with all strategic and administrative affairs and the second with three major-general, six colonels, twenty-one lieutenant colonels, and twenty-seven other officers.

PARTIES AND NEWSPAPERS.

(Toronto Weekly Sun.)

The cause of the decline of the party spirit is not found in the partial disappearance of the party organ. This journalistic change is rather the effect of a revolution in popular sentiment which the party organ was powerless to prevent. With the growing intelligence of the people, and in the absence of any clear-cut line of division between the old parties, it has been found impossible to arouse either enthusiasm or anger by a mere shouting of names which have become meaningless. The old time party organ has discovered this, it has found that its constituency was slipping away, and it has almost unconsciously followed.

GETTING READY FOR THE MASONIC FAIR

Mystic Shriners are Planning for a Big Time in Halifax

It is expected that a large number of Mystic Shriners from this city will attend the Masonic Fair, which is to be held in Halifax on Friday, September 28th. At this meeting about fifty candidates will be initiated into the mysteries of the order. These candidates are coming largely from Nova Scotia and nearly all of the towns in that province will be represented by candidates at the Fair.

The party from this city will leave here on Thursday evening the 27th. They will arrive in Halifax on Friday morning and will return home on Saturday. Messrs. George Blake, W. E. Raymond and C. D. Johnston will leave on the noon train on the 27th as they have a lot of business to transact in the interest of the order before the other members arrive.

So far in Toronto there has been an inability among aldermen, as well as citizens, to distinguish between playgrounds and parks. A park of twenty acres may be very beautiful, but it can never be more for children than a place for "decorous loafing." On the contrary, the playground invites to physical action, and provides a substitute for the expression of surplus energy.

PUBLIC PLAYGROUNDS.

(Toronto News.)

Children in Boston appreciate the services of the Civil Service League in providing playgrounds. The Transcript says, in a recent number: "Hundreds go to the Public Garden playground every day to stay until the last possible moment, as if never expecting to have another chance to play until spring." In this playground there are large sand-boxes where the little ones can shovel and dig to their hearts' content, and to their bodies' betterment. There are many swings, and many other devices suitable for children of all sizes and tastes. The playground is in charge of a kind but firm superintendent, who subdues roughness when it becomes too violent.
