A Court Romance

By A. R. GROH.

AMUSEMENTS.

NICKEL'S MUSICAL FEATURES
NEW TONIGHT.

For the remainder of the week Nickel patrons will be regaled with still more popular comedy bits by Holmes and Buchanan, who increased their hit again last evening before large and delighted crowds. The new bill by this talented pair will be two duets, the first of which is to be a distinct novelty, namely: "The Telephone Duet," "I Won't be Home to Dinner," from Gus Edwards' screaming musical farce, "The Merry-Go-Round," and the other a conversational number, "Smile on Me" from the comedy "Miss Pocahontas." Both of these are brand new to St. John and will cause a flurry of excitement for their extreme New Yorkness. Miss Jennie Evans has a cute little summer number entitled "A Night, A Girl, A Moon," and the Orchestra has fresh selections. This radical change in the Nickel's list of features will unquestionably assure a continuation of the large patronage of the week so far. The pictures are: Shakespeare's "The Tempest," by the Clarendon Co. of England; "A Romance of a Lion Tamer," "A Soldier's Heart," and "Alphonse Gets in Wrong." The children are hereby notified that Holmes and Buchanan have a big novelty for them Saturday.

NEW SHOW AT H. H. H. TODAY.

Today a new programme by the Bernini will be given. Their selections are as follows: Mile Bernini will sing "Springtime," a very catchy number, and Signor Bernini will sing "That's What the Rose Said to Me," a popular and reigning hit in New York. As a duet Daringo Caro from La Trovato will be given, and taken altogether these selections will surpass those given the first half of the week. Crowley will sing a new lot of songs. This artist is certainly making a hit. Some men say it's a man, others a woman. Some women say it's a man, others a woman; but all say Crowley is the greatest act of the kind ever seen here, and they go away, come back with friends to see the show and of course Crowley too. Pictures: Crowley have been placed in Slater's shoe store, Condy's shoe store and The Clear Box. "I'm a man," said the public can get a close view. Patrons say Figaro is the best juggler seen here in years. He certainly can juggle with hands and feet. Today he will introduce some new feats in juggling. New pictures were shown yesterday, and they were good and all new. The Unwritten Letter is a strong drama. Elopings With Auntie is a scream, and when the great mirror scene showing the "Aunties" trying on their new dresses who the crowd did roar. Two Memories is a strong story picture and it made a big hit. Last time for these pictures today. New ones tomorrow. See big ad.

AT THE PRINCESS.

Last night, despite counter attractions, a large crowd attended the Princess, and judging from the applause, every one was more than pleased with the excellent show. McKee Richmond & Co. in Her Music Master continue to make a big hit. His imitation of the Caruso of 50 years ago and the Caruso of today make a big hit. Randolph and Lockart, who are good singing and talking act. The picture programme was never better. Four feature pictures. Matinee at 2.15. Vaudeville at 2.15. Night 7.15. Vaudeville at 8.15 and 9.15.

LOVE CALLS MOTHER.

TO ABANDONED BABY

Young Woman Who Left Child on Hotel Steps Returns to See It.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 21.—Up able longer to resist the call of the mother love, Miss Margaret Williamson, of Tazoo county, went to Ralston yesterday and confessed to being the mother of the baby boy who, on the night of June 12, was deposited on the step of a hotel there.

A young woman called at the home into which the wife was adopted and asked to see it. She smothered the child in kisses, then confessed to being its mother. Sending for Justice of the Peace Brandt, the young woman, who proved to be Miss Williamson, the daughter of highly respected parents, residing above Roaring Branch, told her story.

The child was born in an Elmira hospital, on May 18, and on the night of June 12, at the instance of the baby's father, who lives at Roaring Branch, she took the child to Ralston, where he met her, and they deposited the baby on the hotel step, then went the remainder of the night waiting for her home, nine miles away. The young mother was permitted to return to her home, but the man will be arrested.

RIFLE RANGE ON CITY ROOF.

LONDON, June 24.—G. Datto Harde, deputy chairman and treasurer of Lloyd's, opened yesterday a miniature rifle range which has been erected by the committee on the roof of the building at the corner of Fenchurch street and Lloyd's avenue. Every member of the London staff of Lloyd's has joined the club, and the range will be open continually day and night.

TICKETS FOR THE WORKHOUSE.

LONDON, June 24.—The Ipswich guardians have decided to open the workhouse one day a month during three months in the summer to the public, who will be admitted by ticket. A strong protest was made by a guardian, who said the inmates rightly objected to be made a show of.

TRAMP DUCKED IN A POND.

LONDON, June 24.—It was stated at the Margate police court on Saturday that a tramp who had attacked a woman was ducked in a pond by an angry crowd.

The court was in good humor. The court clerk to be known as a good good court, a human court.

"Mrs. Bowers is discharged." There were tears in the woman's eyes as she turned. Then she moved impulsively to where John Cleveland still stood, and grasped his hands.

The next name was Lizzie Bowers. It is customary to hear a light foot on the stairs at this point. The porters have a way of parading to admit the vision of a beautiful girl. Not so here. Lizzie entered in charge of the matron. She was poorly, 40 or 50 years old, and wore a much soiled black dress. The hands which she rested on the judge's desk were large and work-worn. She lost no time in singing the epic of her innocence. She pronounced it an outrage that "an honest, hard-working woman can't step into a drug store for a bit of medicine for a cold that she's had going on two weeks—two weeks this coming Thursday," without being taken by a policeman and brought into a police station.

Now, the fact that Lizzie was a hard-working woman was well known. But this was not the first visit she had made to the court, a fact which the judge pointed out kindly but firmly. Then he remarked:

"I think the matron can use you for a few days in her department." He was about to write the fatal words in the big book and Lizzie was between tears and pleading, when a big, strong, masculine voice interrupted.

"Er honor," it said.

The court looked up to see John Cleveland standing before the bar. A policeman moved to eject him, but the judge ordered him to be let alone. "Er honor," continued John Cleveland, "I am the lady's lawyer, and I guarantee that she'll be all right if you'll let her go. I've known her a long time. She's a good honest woman."

Mr. Machum replied to both presentations in a most fitting manner. This morning the party will take a trip up river on the Victoria to Hampton, returning on the Elaine to Westfield, where they will be guests at the company shortly after 7 o'clock, this morning they leave for their respective homes.

Representatives of the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company met at the Royal Yacht Club in annual convention. The morning was spent in sightseeing and about twenty were driven around the city and through Rockwood Park. In the afternoon and evening business matters were discussed and the following addresses read:

1. Collections and Lapses, introduced by G. A. Somerville, general manager, Toronto.

2. Arguments for Life Insurance, introduced by S. M. Beardsley, Halifax.

3. Objections to Insuring and How to Meet Them, introduced by O. P. Goucher, Sydney.

4. What Co-operation Means to a Life Insurance Company, introduced by Robert Junkin, assistant manager, Toronto.

5. Level Premium vs. Fraternal Insurance, introduced by C. W. Semple, Sydney.

6. Systematizing of Agency Work, introduced by T. A. Lindsay, Woodstock.

BANGOR MAN IN CRITICAL STATE
BANGOR, Me., June 23.—Elmer L. Gatchell, a contractor, was so badly injured by a vicious horse this afternoon that he may die. Mr. Gatchell stopped at a watering trough in Lower Main street and removed the bridle to give the horse a drink when the animal suddenly bolted, crushing Gatchell against a telegraph pole, causing a fracture of the skull, breaking three ribs and inflicting other injuries. At the Russell Hospital tonight it was stated that Mr. Gatchell's condition is critical.

Henry H. Higgins, who was in the wagon at the time, was thrown out and suffered a fracture of the leg. Mr. Gatchell is a prominent builder and former member of the city council.

Two hundred horsemen from various parts of Maine attended the auction sale at Applewood Park this afternoon of the string of trotting and pacing horses owned by Everard H. Greeley of Ellsworth, who now, after fifty years' experience as a breeder and turfman, is to retire. Thirty head were sold for an aggregate of $7,567, an average of $252. The highest price paid was $100, which John R. Graham of Bangor gave for the bay mare Bingen's First (19-3-4). Next in order were $406, by H. H. Lee of Augusta for the bay colt Henscar by Colombo, and $400, by Ira Carpenter of Patten for the brown colt Hagcock, by Colombo.

ROUGH ON HIS LORDSHIP.

A carpenter in an English town having neglected to make a gibbet that had been ordered by the hangman in the ground that he had not been paid for the last one he had erected, gave so much offense that the next time the judge came to the circuit he was sent for. "Fellow," said the judge in a stern tone, "how came you to neglect making the gibbet that was ordered on my account?" "I humbly beg your pardon," replied the carpenter. "Had I known it was for your lordship it would have been done immediately."
