Toesday's wedding was of course the chief event of this week, and pleased indeed were all interested that the sun was kind enough to shine brightly on the fair young bride. The wedding was not comparatively speaking, a very large one, for Mr. and Mrs. Francklyn limited the invitations solely to their most intimate relations and friends and the more youths' acquaintances of the bride and bridegroom. Is fact it was a young people's party, more or less. All brides are interesting, and this one was especially so on account of her extreme youth and delicate dark beauty. The bevy of bridesmaids in all white made a pretty picture, Mis Story looked particarly well. At the conclusion of the ceremony the young couple came down among the line of guests positively beaming with their new found happiness, surrounded with congratulations on all siles. Lieut. Castens was married in his uniform, and his greomsman was in similar attire. Many of the officers of the garrison were in uniform as well as the naval officers of his ship. Mr. and Mrs. Franckin held a reception afterwards at Emscote; Mrs. Franck in looking very stately and handsome in violet corded silk; Mrs. Story, her sister, in grey and violet, and Mrs. Stayter in vioet and blace. Mr. and Mrs. Castens will return from their honeymoon about Christmas to speed the festive season at Emscote, later they will reside to Bermuda where Mr. Castens is at present stationed

Sur-Major Dorman will lave Halifast this November. Many changes are being made in the Army medical staff. Surg-Major Hall and Surg-Major Kelly also go home by the Trooper expected to arrive before Christmas.

rive before Christmas.

The death of Mr. James Fraser, of Fairfield, North West Arm, has caused universal sympathy for poor Mrs. Fraser. Mrs. Fraser's health has been giving her great anxiety for the past couple of years and this final blow has quite prostrated the sorrowing lady. Mr Fraser, as well as being a distinguished business man and a singularly successful one, was an artent yachts man and owned one of the finest and fastest ever seen in those waters. the finest and fastest ever seen in these waters, the twelveton schooner "Uvira," now owned by an Am rican gentleman Mr. Fraser's lines; has been attributed to his over attention to business matters, and should be a warning to many who are too apt to be over eager to amats a fortune and provide for their families at the expense of their constitutions.

too apt to be over cage: to provide for their families at the expense of their constitutions.

On Thursday atternoon the officers of the Royal Artillery held their annual sports on the Wanderers' grounds, loaned them for that purpose. The afternoon was a particularly fice one, with just enough chill in the air to warrant the ladies wearing new and heavy frocks. A few furs.appeared, and many smart new hats. The most amusing event of the day was perhaps the officers' race. His honor the Luett-Govenor and Admiral Erskine were among the competitors, and a very exciting dash was made for the winning post. Mrs. Hodsson received for the regiment, and wore a becoming dress of dark blue and grey, with edging of fur. Mrs. Duflus were dark blue; Mrs. Fance was in black, with sleeves of grey brocace: Mrs. Norrisin gen farme blue, with a large black hat; Mrs. Collard wore a very handsome dark blue cloth, with facing of astracan; Mrs Drew, moire black velvet; Mrs. Erskie, a bicycling habit of dark green cloth. A great many ladies arrived on whee a during the afternoon. Toe band of the Berkshire regiment plived on the grounds.
