

"One", says Nature
"Three", says Cunning

Because demand far exceeds supply, man craftily splits each cowhide into several sheets. But—there can be only one sheet of grain leather. The rest are merely "splits"—coated and grained to look like the genuine article, and sold as "genuine leather", but they do not wear like hand or machine buffed leather. Right here enters to see if I couldn't see you coming. I—I was afraid perhaps you had lost your way—"

"God bless that agent! We'll invite him to the wedding."

"Then when I saw you in the doorway of the foreman's shack—well we really were expecting a Mr. Wells but Dad got word that same night that he wasn't coming."

"Then your father knows."

"Sure thing."

"You said a while ago that you wondered what he'd say when he heard of our—our—"

"I said it to draw you out—to make you confess."

"Jessie, you're a—witch!"

"Thanks."

"But how did you know my real name?"

"It is printed in large black letters on the end of your club-bag, and—I have a pair of eyes."

Long gazed at her a moment in sheer amazement.

"I give up!" he said at last. "When it comes to sharpness women take all the prizes. I yield the palm to you, lady, and never again will I side with the anti-suffragists."

"You'd better not!" retorted Jessie. "Now I think we'd better be getting back."

They rose. As they strolled slowly

Her Treasures in this World

A story of much significance is related of a worldly, selfish young woman, who on one occasion dreamed that she was in Heaven. As she was being shown through the holy city, examining and admiring the many beautiful residences, she paused before one exceptionally beautiful. Turning to her guide, she said, "For whom is this beautiful place?" "Why, that's for your gardener," answered the guide. "My gardener! Why he would not know what to do in such a spacious dwelling. He would be entirely lost in a mansion like this! Why he lives in such a little bit of a cottage on earth; he might do better; I give him reasonable wages, but he gives so much of it away to the poor, miserable people that he has hardly enough to keep his wife and family, let alone any comforts and luxuries."

Walking on a pace, they came to a little bit of a cottage. "And who is this being built for?" asked the young woman. "Why, that is for you," answered the guide. "For me!" she exclaimed in wonder and surprise, "why that cannot be for me! I have always been accustomed to a mansion for a house. I could not adjust myself to such a small house." "Still," plainly, but sadly, answered the guide, "it is for you. Our Great Architect does the very best He can with the material that is sent up to Him."

The Bulkley Valley is Great Soil for Oats

—very slowly—back to the camp, Stephen Long thrust a hand into his pocket and drew out a silver quarter.

"This is the very one," he murmured, half to himself. "I know because it had a hole in it. Jessie," he said aloud, "You won't object to your other half sporting a coin on his watch-chain?" "Silly! Why?" she demanded, squeezing his arm.

"Oh—just because," he answered.

Your Niche

There's a niche for you in the world, my boy,

A corner for you to fill,
And it waits to-day
Along life's way
For the boy with a frank "I will."
So, lad, be true;
The world wants you
In the corner that you may fill.

There's a niche in the world for you, my girl,

A corner for you to fill;
For a girl that is kind,
With a pure, sweet mind,
A place that is waiting still.
So, lass, be true;
The world wants you
In the corner that you may fill.

There's a niche for you both in the world, my dears,

A corner for you to fill,
And a work to do
Which no one but you
In God's great plan can fulfill
So, dears, be true;
The world wants you
In the corner that you may fill.

NO IDEA

What Caused the Trouble.

"I always drank coffee with the rest of the family, for it seemed as if there was nothing for breakfast if we did not have it on the table."

"I had been troubled for some time with my heart, which did not feel right. This trouble grew worse steadily."

"Sometimes it would beat fast, and at other times very slowly, so that I would hardly be able to do work for an hour or two after breakfast, and if I walked up a hill, it gave me a severe pain."

"I had no idea of what the trouble was until a friend suggested that perhaps it might be coffee drinking. I tried leaving off the coffee and began drinking Postum. The change came quickly. I am glad to say that I am now entirely free from heart trouble and attribute the relief to leaving off coffee and the use of Postum."

"A number of my friends have abandoned coffee and have taken up Postum, which they are using steadily. There are some people that make Postum very weak and tasteless, but if made according to directions, it is a very delicious beverage." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum comes in two forms. Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble powder—dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious and cost about the same per cup.

"There's a Reason" for Postum —sold by Grocers.
