Rev. W.H. Wallace In New Charge

Make Fine Impression at Victoria Ave. Baptist Church on Sunday

Good congregations greeted the Rev. W. H. Wallace, the new minister in the Baptist Church last Lord's Day morning and evening, including also a special open session of the Sunday School. The church decorations were beautiful and the choir rendered excellent music. Mr. Wallace preached in the morning on the "Supremacy of Jesus" from Col. 1:17 "He is before all things." Jesus has influenced history, literature, art, music and even chronology, by the reference to "A.D." (the year of our Lord), and "B.C." (before Christ), more than anyone else in the ages that have come and gone. Christ was proved supreme in three special spheres: (1) in revelation man himself is a revelation in the likeness and image of God, and man, according to Augustine, is restless until he finds rest in God. The prophets of old gave to the world partial revelations of God in divers portions and manners. Law is a reflex of the Divine Nature, but not a perfect revelation. It is likened by the Apostle Paul to a school-master, leading men to Christ. Jesus in the final and perfect revelation of God. He could say, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." (2) Christ is supreme in creation. He is the first-born of every creature. In comparison with all God's created beings He ranks the first. In fact, Christ is the Creator—"By Him and through Him, and for Him were all things created." Christ is the unity of the universe—"By Him all things consist" or are held together. Jesus upholds and sustains the universe. (3) Jesus is supreme in the afterlife.

church. He is called the "Head of the body, the Church," suggesting that He is first in all power and authority. None should lord it over Christ's heritage but Christ Himself. "One is your master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren." The ordinances of the Church are proof of Christ's authority. Baptism is a command to put on Christ and follow Him: "The Lord's Supper is a command to all the flock of Christ to commemorate the death of Jesus until He comes again. Christ invites all believers to Himself, both the dead and the living. Jesus is the "first-born of the dead" that is, the "first fruits of them that sleep," as Paul declares in another epistle: "That in all things He might have the pre-eminence."

REV. W. H. WALLACE who occupied the Pulpit in Victoria Avenue Baptist Church on First Time

At the close of the morning service the church through Decor Riggs gave pastor and Mrs. Wallace the "hand of fellowship" into the local church, after which Mr. Wallace conducted the service to commemorate the Lord's death. A goodly number remained to observe the Lord's Supper. Pastor Smith had written a brotherly letter to commend pastor Wallace to the love and prayers of the church, which was read by Mr. Blackburn, the church clerk.

In the afternoon there was an open session of the Sunday School. Pastor and Mrs. Wallace were called to the platform by the superintendent, Mr. Cook, when his little daughter, Hene Cook, sang a very sweet solo expressing a welcome to Pastor and Mrs. Wallace and presented Mrs. Wallace with a beautiful bouquet of pink roses to which both the pastor and his wife responded, thanking the school for their hearty welcome. The attendance of the school was the largest in the history of the church.

In the evening Mr. Wallace preached from Isaiah 22:2 "A man shall be as a hiding place from the wind, a covert from the tempest, as streams of water in a dry place, the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." He pointed out that God had raised men to fulfil this text in history. Noah during the deluge; Abraham in times of idolatry raised altars to God; Moses stood between Israel and the wrath of God and saved the people; Luther in the Reformation stood for an open Bible and stemmed the tide of Romanism; John Knox saved Scotland; Lincoln freed the slaves. In the Gospel Jesus saved the world by bearing the world's sin. Christ is the "Rock of Ages."

Madoc Man Was Arrested

Accused of Very Serious Crime - Belleville Police Caught Him

Percy Reynolds, aged 22 years, was arrested last evening by Chief Newien and Constable Deshane at Bridge and Front street intersection. He is wanted in Madoc on a charge of rape, the main witness against him will be a little fourteen year-old girl. The affair is alleged to have occurred some miles from Madoc village on Sunday evening. The Belleville police got word at 5.40 p.m. yesterday that Reynolds was heading this way in an automobile. Constable Charles St. Charles gave the police a description and the car number, Chief Newien and Constable Deshane set out to look for him. This was quite a job as the street was crowded, but they managed to locate him. He was put under arrest and marched to the police station. Reynolds tried to make his escape near Bridge street corner by jumping out of his coat, but P. C. Deshane caught him by the legs, and upset him. After he was locked up, Constable St. Charles was notified and came to town. He took Reynolds back last night to Madoc to stand his trial. It is said Reynolds told the details of his attempt at the local police station.

Conference For Girls Was Held

Inspiring Meetings and Services at Week End

The Girls' Conference closed on Sunday evening with an inspiring farewell service at Bridge Street Church. Miss A. Maines of Albert College and Miss Nina Yeomans, president, took part in the closing ceremonies. At seven o'clock Rev. Dr. Scott had preached a strong sermon to the conference on the duties and privileges of the modern woman. Dr. Scott's address was a thoughtful effort and was based on Proverbs 31-39 "Many Women have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all."

On Sunday afternoon in Bridge St. Sunday School, Miss M. Taggart gave an address on 'A Girl's Friend' at a mass meeting of girls and girl leaders.

Sad Death of John C. Prince

John C. Prince, one of Belleville's heroes of the Great War, met death in Kingston yesterday morning about nine o'clock by drowning. He has for several years been residing in Kingston with his wife and two children. Yesterday he was working at the Kingston ship building company's dock and he accidentally fell into the water.

John C. Prince was recommended for the D. C. M. for carrying wounded British Tommies away under heavy shell fire at Armentieres in February 1915. He was about 37 years of age and was born in Lancashire, England, being a "Lancashire lad" as he was proud to say. He was a miner by occupation. For seven years he was a St. John's Ambulance man in England. He came to Canada about New Years 1913 and worked with the Dominion Construction Company. He went overseas with a hospital unit on the outbreak of the war and on his first entry into action he with Corp. Styles performed a great deed of heroism at Armentieres carrying eleven wounded English soldiers to safety and receiving the praise of English officers. Later he fought in the second battalion and was gassed at Ypres. This led to his slight becoming badly impaired and to his being finally discharged. He returned in November 1915 and later went to Kingston for eye treatment.

KING'S BIRTHDAY DEMONSTRATION WAS TRIUMPH FOR G.W.V.A.

Probably Most Largely Attended Event in City's History—The Greatest Crowd Ever Gathered in Fair Grounds—The Parade—Speeding Events and Games at the Park

King's Birthday in Belleville was one long to be remembered. It took the Great War Veterans' Association, Hastings and Prince Edward branch to arrange the biggest demonstration in local annals. In the past the "Third of June" has been a great day but with all the attractions that could be secured these events of peace days could not compare with yesterday's demonstration in magnitude of attendance. From every corner in Hastings and Prince Edward and from adjacent counties came visitors to support the G. W. V. A. cause. Thousands of strangers arrived early and stayed late. The veterans are becoming quite numerous in this district and the solidarity of their organization is manifested in the wonderful success which met their efforts to raise a fund. With such reward for their labors, the Great War Veterans are justified in making the King's Birthday the big day for this district annually.

The public had its full share of enjoyment. The program of the day was attractive. First came the morning parade at 11.15, the G. W. V.'s leading with the Veterans of other wars, followed by floats, industrial exhibits, fire department and decorated automobiles. The parade was greeted with loud applause along the entire route which was up and down Front Street. The floats were exceedingly spectacular. One demonstrated with its cannon mounted on each corner, the might of Britain; another was filled with young girl war workers and illustrated the power of industry in war-time. The Red Cross work was not forgotten. In the floats, Dr. H. H. H. prepared these exhibits which were among the most beautiful ever seen in a local parade.

Belleville looked like the centre of a motor industry yesterday. Front Street was lined with the modern vehicle and the vicinity of the Driving Park showed the wealth and prosperity of Hastings and Prince Edward as hundreds of cars were parked inside and outside the grounds.

Wind Prevented Aerial Manoeuvres. A terrific wind storm was the only marrying feature of the day. The dust blew in waves along the roads and near the racetrack. But with all that the crowd was good natured. The wind was responsible for the absence of the aeroplanes. Had the weather been normal five aeroplanes would have come up from Camp Mohawk and executed daring manoeuvres over the ground, such as are performed on the battle front. But the attraction was not put on as it would have been dangerous to attempt such flights in such wind.

Monster Crowd on Grounds. One continual stream of people poured into the fair grounds. A conservative estimate would place its attendance at about six thousand. The placing of the admission at fifty cents and the tax on motors led to a very large sum being realized from the afternoon's events. There were other attractions on the grounds the benefits from which went to a large extent to the G. W. V. A. Three thousand dollars might not be too large an estimate of the receipts. Three centres of attraction held the crowds—the speeding events, the baseball match and games and sports under the direction of Mr. Ellis, physical director.

Speeding Events. Real horse racing with many closely contested heats held the attention of thousands around the track. The packed grand stand and bleachers and crowded fences looked upon these events with deepest interest. It is fair to say no better attractions of the kind have been offered here for many a day. The results follow:
