Refugees to U. S.

London, Feb. 4.—A number of Armenian refugees who escaped into Russia, says Reuter's Bergen correspondent, arrived yesterday in Bergen on the steamer Bergenjord, on their way to the United States where they have been promised assistance by wealthy compatriots.

"Marlborough" the old favorite charger of the late Lord Walsley, acquired as host at the 24th annual dinner to the animals in the Home of Rest for Horses, Westcroft Farm, Cricklewood, the other afternoon.
"Brandy" who passed through the South African War, and Max, who has been present at every dinner since 1903, were among the honored guests, and carrots were on the menu.

Cuticura is an excessive secretion, accompanied with chronic inflammation, from the mucous membrane. Hood's Sarsaparilla acts on the mucous membrane through the blood, reduces inflammation, establishes of cuticura.

HORROR PASSES;
ANGER REMAINS

Zeppelin Raid Brought War Home to Thousands of Britons.

WOMEN AND
CHILDREN GONE

Grief Not Shown to Public—Streets Now for Sightseeing.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Feb. 4.—One of the most interesting features of the later stories of the recent Zeppelin raid over parts of England is the effect which the visitation had on the minds of the inhabitants of rural towns, which hitherto has been far removed from the horrors of war. One correspondent writes:

It is not easy to describe all the feelings with which the outrage, has filled the people, for they vary according to the vividness of individual recollection and the nearness of personal loss. Seven of the persons killed in this town were children, four were women and two were men, both of having been over fifty years.

"What harm had my child done?" is the question which has been asked over and over again by bereaved parents. But their grief is not paraded in the streets, and it is only heard of an there that one feels the gloom of death. "While many houses are in mourning, the streets have become places for sight-seeing."

The townspeople, if you press them, do not deny that while the Ze-ppelin was dropping its bombs, they felt a dread akin to an evil nightmare. When morning came and the effect of the first shock had passed horror and anger took the place of fear. Now the horror is gradually passing, but the feeling of anger remains.

John Foster Fraser world renowned traveler, lecturer and writer, has just issued a most interesting book entitled "Russia of To-day." Fraser was born in Edinburgh in 1868, and was educated privately, being practically turned loose in a library and allowed to browse among the books. He then went to London where he became a reporter and descriptive writer, later starting on a series of exploring trips, which took him to every country in the world, and brought him first-hand knowledge and scores of adventures. He cruised the Mediterranean on cargo boats, then took a bicycle trip around the world, in which he visited seventeen different countries and travelled 20,000 miles, across Siberia, then through Manchuria, visited the Balkan States, Russia, Australia, Argentina and a half score of other countries. Some of his best known books are, "Canada as it is," "Red Russia," "Australia, the Making of a Nation," "The Amazing Argentine" and "Now Russia of To-day." John Foster Fraser knows how to write books descriptive of the resources, industries, and life and habits of the people they are not dry statistical stories but are full of human interest. "The Amazing Argentine" is by long odds the best book that has ever appeared dealing with the great country to the South.

A letter from Capt. Arthur Wilson, M.P., taken prisoner while en route from Sofia, says he was for 48 hours in an Austrian bus, during which it fought a patrol boat.
