dollars are made in growing this fruitful Starninate variety than any kind. All growers of our acquaintance who have fruited it, say the same.
It is very vigorous with perfect foliage, berries large, firm, very beautiful and delicious. Season very early to late.
We had our first berries for market in (1922) on June 5th, and had berries well into July.
Price $1.50 per 100, $10 per 1000
