Bias CORSETS

Why buy the cheapest Corset you can get?

Why not get hold of something genuinely good in quality and satisfaction, and stick to it.

Economy in Corsets doesn't mean paying out the least money. It means getting the most style, comfort and wear for the money you do pay out.

We have customers who insist on Bias Corsets at $3.50 and $4.00 in preference to the less expensive lines. They last longer as a matter of course and are correspondingly finer in workmanship and finish.

Try the plan of paying a little more and getting a little better. Corsets are like shoes—the best are the cheapest in the long run.

A Local Concert

A gentleman commenting on the excellence of the I. O. O. F. concert programme of last week, remarked that since the building of the town hall and the fitting and furnishing of our fine auditorium so few purely local entertainments have been held. The fact that we have superior talent was never more evident than on Tuesday evening last when Mrs S. C. A. Lamb delighted the audience with two vocal solos. For over a year Mrs Lamb's exceptional fine voice has been under training by a skilled teacher, and the beneficial results were plainly evident in her singing on Tuesday evening. The piano-forte playing of Miss Earl and Miss McLean were also superior, and the young reciters gave promise of developing their art to a high degree of excellence. With some worthy object in view, we would like to see the best of local talent combined in the presentation of a first-class concert programme.

A Western Romance

Last fall a wild and woolly Western story was in circulation here to the effect that a former esteemed resident of Athens had saved his life by promptly using his gun. The story was to the effect that our friend had marketed his grain and on signifying his intention of taking home with him the greater part of the cash he was advised by the elevator official (or the teller in the Bank) not to do so for fear of a hold-up. Later the hold-up occurred, and when our friend got through shooting he found that he had bagged the man who had kindly given him the good advice about the danger of carrying so much money. The hold-upper was then loaded on the wagon and driven back to town.

The story sounded so much like a Tip-Top romance that it received no credence here by friends of the hero, but as the story continued to be repeated with variations we are requested to state that the story has absolutely no foundation.

Very Junior Hockey

The hockey fever in the public school is breaking out in matches. On Saturday afternoon the second and third room teams came together in a friendly encounter, with W. McLean as referee. The teams were constituted as follows:

2nd Room	3rd Room
11 Cross	goal C Laforty
E Shaw	point A Hawkins
G Dalby	c point C Mulvena
B Sexton	wing F Phillips
L Cowan	r wing L Cowan
R Johnston	centre J Kilborn

The first half was very closely contested, no goals being scored. In the second half the third room players broke through the athletic defence and scored three goals. Some cheap sports on the fence threw snow-balls.

This victory naturally developed confidence in the 3rd room team and on Monday after 4 p.m. they went up boldly against a picked team of not too big students of the 4th Room, and there they met their Waterloo, being defeated by a score of 6-1.

The seniors that did the trick were:

4th Room	3rd Room
George Purcell	Hollace Cross
Lorne Derbyshire	Rupert Johnston
Clarence Gifford	Jack Kilborn
John Donnelley	Isaac Rockwood
Nelson Cross	Harold Percival
	Kenneth Watson

DEATH OF BROCK DEWOLFE

Brock DeWolfe died at his home in Athens on Saturday last aged 61 years. He had been confined to his home for about four years and at times suffered intensely. During all this time he received constant, careful nursing by his wife, whose devotion was most marked.

Deceased, a native of Kitley, had been a resident of Athens for the greater part of his life, where his pleasant, genial nature had gained for him many friends.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his death, Mrs Tye of Winnipeg, Mrs Turner of Caintown and Ross at home. Two brothers also survive, William of Brockville and Everette of Gananoque.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

An influential member of the Federal Government, who has been travelling over the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. in the West, writes as follows:—"I must say that I found the trip very interesting. The country is certainly much more picturesque than any other route across the Prairies, and I have found the travelling comfortable and the service excellent."

A letter received by the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. from a prominent business man residing in Seattle, concerning a trip he made from Winnipeg to Edmonton, contains the following extract:—"Going out to Edmonton I went through your train several times, and I want to compliment you on your equipment and service. I consider it so far the best Canadian Transcontinental service I have ever seen, and I have travelled over all the American Transcontinental Railways."

With the new train service which went into effect Nov. 29th on the Grand Trunk Railway, the announcement is made that 96 of the new stations, out of the 150 contracted for in the Spring, have been opened, 27 are under construction, and the balance will be completed in the Spring.

These stations on the Grand Trunk Pacific are an innovation as far as stations in Western Canada are concerned, for they provide, unlike stations built heretofore, for the looking after the flag stations, all the year around. This means that stations called flag stations, points where trains only stop when there are passengers to get on or off, are in charge winter and summer by a capable employee, and are kept heated day and night.

The arrangements has been made with the section men to live in these stations, quarters having been provided for them, and in return for looking after the station and keeping it in shape for receiving passengers at all times, they have heat and rent free.

The one stipulation that is put on by the Company is that the agent or section man must be married, for in this way the Company thinks they will receive better service.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL

Sir Wilfred said, "A brainstorm bad Mark'd last September's Federal fray, And Grits were sad, and Tories glad When that mad tempest passed away."

But Renfrew had a blizzard real That knock'd Maloney off his feet; Yet Canada will safer feel— And prouder too—since Graham beat.
