We are exhibiting them in our show window the remainder of this week, we would like you to see them before the assortment is broken into. ALLEGED THEFT

John Macdonald appeared in the county court to answer to a charge of stealing fifty three dollars from Michael Cleary.

Cleary was the first witness for the Crown. He said he lived on the 7th concession Chatham Tp. He was in Chatham on the 24th of May last, and went home about 9 p. m. William Bryan, the prisoner and William Bryan. The prisoner induced the witness to stop all night with him. Before we went to bed, continued the witness, the prisoner asked me for the money I had. I gave him the bills, amounting to $50. He then asked me for the change I had. I gave it to him, amounting to $3.50. He went away early Sunday morning and I haven't seen my money since.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lewis, witness said he was drinking hard all day, but knew what he was doing. Constables Graham and Peters testified that prisoner had said when arrested that he hadn't had five dollars in five weeks.

Mr. Sheldrick and Mr. Campbell testified that Macdonald had made purchases from them since.

Mrs. Macdonald testified that Cleary had stayed at their place Saturday night. He was sick on Sunday and didn't get up till night. He complained Monday that he had lost his money.

The judge reserved decision on the case till Saturday.

Domestic Uses of Borax.

The skilled laundress has found that borax softens hard water, loosens the dirt and saves the strength and the color of the clothes.

Added to starch, it gives a fine gloss to linen.

Put in the rinsing water, it will give all the stiffness needed for lace.

It will prevent delicate colors from spreading and white clothes from becoming yellow.

The housewife has found that ants, bugs and moths dislike it and will avoid places where the powder is spread.

That it is very effective in cleaning glass, silverware, brass, marble, etc.

Dissolved in water, it should occupy a prominent place on every toilet table.

It is equally useful in the nursery, as a cure for sore mouth, bites of insects, inflammation and various skin diseases.

The General Subsidized.

One day last autumn Bennett Burleigh, the noted English special war correspondent, was encountered by a few miles outside Pretoria, by that volcanic rhetorician, General Tucker.

"What the blank blank are you doing out here with that blank thing?" thundered the general, pointing to a kodak which was slung round his shoulders.

"Well, sir," promptly replied Mr. Burleigh, "I was intending to take some photographs, but had no camera."

"I was to have taken pictures of you," said the general, "but I should have brought out a photograph."

At this audacity it is said that even General Tucker's stock of salubrious adjectives ran low.

The Detective Mirror.

I have seen an odd device in ancient houses. Over the front door, right under a shattered window from which a housewife might peep cautiously, was an arrangement of two mirrors, where was reflected the figure of any one who stood at the front door seeking admittance.

It was a wonderfully handy device and more, I think, in keeping with the spirit of its times than the polite deceit of to-day. Not at home, which seldom receives callers or peddlers.—Good Housekeeping.

Panel trouble in chicks.

MILLIONS of chicks die of bowel trouble in most cases the cause is over-feeding and the same feed at every meal. Do not feed until 36 hours old. Feed oatmeal flakes for the first meal, then when the crop is empty feed dry breadcrumbs, next cracked corn, then millet and all kinds of cracked grain. Give a different food at each meal, and never feed until the crops are empty. Bolled milk and milk curd may be fed every day. Free range should be given every day, and especially after the fourth day.

Too Much of It.

Medium—I can tell you about a buried treasure.

Patron—Please don't! My husband is always tooting that in my ears.

Medium—Does he know anything about a buried treasure?

Patron—Yes, his first wife.

The wise girl always rearranges the parlor furniture after a young man has called.

The Reason Why.

Little Willie—Say, pa, why is it wrong to call a man a liar? Pa—Because, my son, if he isn't it will hurt his feelings, and if he is the chances are he will hurt yours.—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

TWO TOWNS OF PROGRESS

and all the Council, accompanied by Mayor Heath, of Wallaceburg; P. T. Barry, of Fletcher; V. Reeve, of London; Thos. Hayes, of Wallaceburg; D. A. Gordon, T. F. Hinesman, J. S. Benedict, W. J. McDonald, P. Toulouze, Wm. Boulton, J. M. Gibb and Jack Benedict, all of Wallaceburg, got aboard.

The steam up the east branch of the Sydenham was a beautiful one, showing tugs and launches in dry dock undergoing repairs, and scows for the carrying of sugar beets under construction. The large and complete saw and stave mills of Steinhoff, Sutherland & Innes, in full operation, are passed. Many fields of sugar beets are seen, also some excellent wheat fields are to be seen along the banks. On the left side of the stream Councilor McCoy's fine residence and farm were seen.

At Tupperville a stop was made to inspect the place where the bridge is to be built over the river, where now a horse ferry only crosses the stream. At Dresden the visitors were met by Councilor R. P. Wright, Clerk Arthur Smith and Chief of Police Gonyea, who at once took them to the sugar beet factory, which is only a short distance from the town. They were here introduced by Mr. Sturgis to the superintendent of the construction of the factory, C. H. Devlin, who showed them through the factory, explaining the construction and machinery. There were to be sheds 400 feet by 200 feet, three railway switches into the factory and 75 wagons could be unloaded at once. It is to have the same capacity as the Wallaceburg factory, namely, 600 tons of sugar beets per day of 24 hours. The factory is to have 12 crystallizers of 10 tons each, eight boilers of 35,000 lbs. each, 250 horse power. The frame-work is pretty well on, as is also the foundation, which is of stone, and is about fifteen feet high.

A machine shop in connection with the factory, 50x35 feet, is almost completed.

The main building is in one place five stories high and the men at work there look like birds, they are so small. The stack is to be 160 feet high, made of tile direct from Germany. There are also 160 packages of the latest machinery from Germany, which country is the home of the home of the sugar beet industry.

The beet wheel is a very large one, being 30 feet in diameter. The factory will be in operation, it is expected, by October 1st.

After having inspected the factory, the visitors were taken to the W. & O. McVean mill and spoke factory, where the manufacture of these articles was thoroughly explained.

The new canning factory being built was the next place of visit. This is a large brick building being built by a large firm of Dunn & Leach. The factory is divided into three parts, two of which are 26x86 feet and the other 50x86 feet. All kinds of canning will be done and the factory will be ready for operation by August 1st.

Dresden also has a flax mill and rolling mill, and a couple of elevators.

The visitors were the guests of Mr. Sturgis while in Dresden, and he, after the inspection of the factories, divided the crowd among the different hotels for supper, and when train time arrived had buses waiting to convey them to the depot. The party arrived home about seven o'clock, all agreeing that a very profitable day had been spent, and much learned.

NOTES OF THE TRIP.

The railroad gave an excellent service.

Mr. Robinson's hat met with an accident, but it proved a good one.

Wallaceburg and Dresden entertain right royally.

Mr. Robinson said if he got as high as the Wallaceburg sugar beet factory chimney, that's as high as he'd ever get.

Who could have imagined such fine large concerns as Wallaceburg and Dresden have?

'Twas a very temperance crowd.

Mr. Somers has a bad eye, and he wasn't in a fight with the crowd.

The gentle jollier of the crowd—Mr. Sturgis.

After the sumptuous supper was served the bride and groom left for their future home in Kent Bridge, carrying with them the good wishes of a host of friends.

SEVEN PRINCIPAL ROUTES.

It is a well known fact that the C. M. & St. P. Ry. system offers a great many different routes between Chicago and St. Paul and Minneapolis. Its main line between those points is especially well known as the route over which runs the famous "Famous Limited" and the Government Fast Mail Train.

There are six or seven other routes over a number of which are run through coaches and sleeping cars, which are almost as direct as the principal main line.

These various routes traverse the most interesting and attractive sections of Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, including the celebrated "Lake Region" of Wisconsin, and cross the Wisconsin river at the famous "Dells," where is the most picturesque scenery in the Northwest.

The main line and several others include from 150 to 300 miles of romantic and picturesque scenery along the Mississippi river. On these various lines are located the most important towns and cities in the Northwest.

Both one way and special excursion tickets between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis are honored via any one of these direct lines.

The teachers attending the National Educational Convention at Minneapolis will appreciate and take advantage of this fact as they can have a choice of routes going and returning.

WHAT THEY THINK OF GAS FOR FUEL.

P. S. Coate, Esq.,

Mgr., Chatham Gas Co.

We the undersigned residents of Joseph street, have pleasure in saying that after a year's use of gas for cooking purposes, we find it to be the most economical, convenient and satisfactory fuel we have ever used.

With it there are ashes, soot, carrying of fuel, kindling fires, etc.; it is ready in an instant, day or night, and we are perfectly satisfied that gas is a much cheaper fuel than coal or wood.

We can advise any one to use gas for fuel.
