

THE MORNING COURIER FOR THE COUNTRY, JANUARY 30, 1837.

too much of the leaven of "equal rights" in our composition to allow any division of favouritism, towards any of the origin of our Black population, to be publicly without feeling strongly inclined to do so. People, in its last number, makes a list of one out of its readers and "fathers" of the other. When it determined to avail itself of the copiousness of two of the most generally spoken languages in the world, it promised to give all its editorial matter in French as well as in English, but its language in their views, will considerately use in its widest extent, and whence the members of the present House have done nothing to provide for the protection of the country in a manner and scope worthy of its station and prospects, they shall that they have but little ground for vent on this account. Almost every work has been adopted or sanctioned by the Act.

nothing in the statement upon which to accredit the stockholders, as indicative of the progressive prosperity of the Institution. It is true that by a judicious investment of its capital, the stock of the Company is at this moment at a very considerable premium, but it does not appear that this enhancement is derived from the profits of its legitimate business—underwriting. So far from being the case, we find, that of the immense amount of merchandise conveyed up and down the St. Lawrence in 1836, insurance was effected with the Company to the comparatively trifling extent of only $237,190 lbs., 2d., upon which the gross premiums, less were paid amounting to $1,304 lbs., 1d., leaving only about $1,200 for profit and the current expenses of the establishment. This loss of a single bazaar would have absorbed. Every one acquainted with the navigation of the St. Lawrence, must be aware, that the up-risks are the best; yet the whole amount of premiums upon such, only reached $645 out of the $2,316 received in all.

This Company was established about three years ago, with a nominal capital of $100,000, of which $10,000 has been actually paid up.

The security, therefore, afforded to a bold and intelligent; its business, are informed, is conducted in the most liberal manner, and it is highly desirable that such institutions should be encouraged, to help to see it receiving in future a larger share of the public patronage than it appears hitherto to have enjoyed.

The following is the very latest from Mexico:

I have just received the following important intelligence direct from the city of Mexico, that General Bustamante had arrived from Paris, and that he had been received with great enthusiasm, as well as the State generally, by the citizens of Mexico, who had come to meet him, and to co-operate with the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, in presenting relief from the disastrous laws.

"Received, That the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade of Philadelphia, as well as the Board of Trade of Montreal, and citizens of both cities, and of the United States, as well as of the State generally, will earnestly endeavor to co-operate with the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, in presenting relief from the disastrous laws."

The pamphlet, entitled, "Considerations on a Metallic Currency for Lower Canada," is, we understand, now ready for delivery, and a subscription list will be found on the New Room table.

We shall notice the character of this publication to-morrow.

The New York papers of Tuesday last, say, that, for the first time this year, there was then good sleighing there, the snow being about six inches deep.

The inhabitants of Terrebonne here, we perceive, come publicly to the resolution of refusing aid to any poor that are strangers to them, and are in the highest degree destitute of food, and proof of their favorable opinion, I have no doubt, that they are fully sensible of the importance of doing so, and of the consequences of their conduct, with their constituents, a sum of which is estimated at two millions of dollars.

The fire commenced at or near Whitney's shop, in the city of Montreal, on Saturday evening, and raged until nine o'clock on Sunday morning, consuming all the stores on South Street, with a large amount of flour, and large parts of Water Street, and Prince William Street, and the buildings situated on either side of the former, which were entirely destroyed, and left the city in a state of great confusion, with a great fire, which broke out in the city, on Sunday evening, and continued throughout the night, and the next day, and the greater part of Monday morning, and extended over a large portion of the city, and the surrounding country, and did great damage, and caused a loss of life, and property, and the amount of which is estimated at two millions of dollars.

We understand that from five to ten thousand dollars were consumed, and that the amount of insurance effected in this city upon property destroyed is between $75,000 and $100,000.

We support the annual exists of the office of the St. Lawrence Inland Marine Insurance Company. We regret that we can scarcely match between Texas and Mexico, through the mediation of General Jackson.

We beg to call public attention to the examination of the Indian School, in the House of Industry, which takes place this morning at eleven o'clock.

The previous examination, after the school had been in existence only a few days, was considered highly interesting—the one this morning cannot fail to prove more so.

The Welland Canal Bill has passed the Upper Canadian Assembly. By it the sum of $25,000 may be raised for the completion of this work.

The weather has become mild.

The following Vessels from this Port have arrived:—

The Gladiolus, at Liverpool, 5th December.

Tan Olfert, 10th Dec.

Winchester, 12th Dec.

Thistle, Cyprian 13th Dec.

The New York Herald reports the packet ship Mexico, which left Liverpool on the 1st instant, was captured by pirates on the 21st, and is now in the possession of the pirates.
