

INDIA.

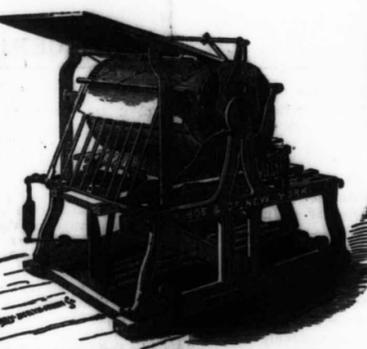

miles from the Bay of Bengal, the river divides into two separate branches, one leading eastward, the other, as both flow south towards the Bay of Bengal, the eastern branch on the east retains the greatest portion of the water of the parent stream, and flows in a direct course for 300 miles to Sunderbund through which, in many separate channels, it enters the Bay. The western branch, flowing at 40 miles divides, and after a distance again unites and becomes a single stream, which forms the port of Calcutta, and is the only part of this river system navigable by the great maritime nations who now trade with British India. The city of Calcutta stands about 100 miles from the western bank of this noble river from this point inland, to near Rajmahal, which stands on the north bank above the first dividing of the river, the navigation, even for the small craft that use it, is dangerous and difficult, and the growing commerce of the city has led to the projection of a canal to connect the grand stream with the Bay. This undertaking has been successfully carried out, until it begins to be completed, and it approaches the hilly country of the Santals. A race of mountaineers very different in many respects from the Hindoos from the Mahomedan population. Their idolatry is of a more d dolder nature, and they have the caste of the Hindoo, nor does it if they had the deep bigotry of the Hindoo. With many of the vices of the Hindoo, these people are said to evince a love of truth unusual among the people of India. One of the most fatal of insurrections has burst upon the Santals, and descending the hills, they have destroyed villages and peaceful inhabitants of the lowly in indiscriminate fury. It was id, that unjust and licentious conduct of the Santals employed on the land provoked the rising. It was stated, that the approach of the railroad led them to dread the idea of their being seized, and their liberties. These reports, however, are set aside by the discovery of a plot on the person of one of their chiefs. It states that the Santals have pressed by the Bengalee money who had settled in their hills, that they also oppressed by the Amhals, officers of our Government, from which they could obtain no redress, and which oppressions were "the sins of the fathers."—that is, that the Government is unable to take up arms to redress wrongs; that their Thakoor, or hereditary chief, and the house of Thakoor, through whom all communications to him would be made. The Government directs the Santals to assemble at appointed rendezvous, and promise sovereignty of the whole country. This indicates that the evil is one of a considerable growth.

the railway is proving of the greatest benefit to the forwarding troops to the scene of war, and there is little doubt that the day soon be quelled, still it is one of the most serious kind, and from the nature of the country, full as it is of all but impenetrable jungle, it may turn out to be too much of the characteristics of the war. It is one of those instructive lessons that teach us, with no gentle necessity of seeking the enlightenment of the heathen, and also their defence against grasping and wicked hands of the heathen, to give the savage the worst view of civilized man, by robbing and murdering as they go along. We would doubt not it is to protect the tribes from the wrongs to which they are subjected, millions less would be spared to keep them in order. We cannot that prevention will yet be found by Governments to be infinitely better and cheaper in all such concerns.

Gleanings from late Papers.
TRUE POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The Albany Evening Journal, in an article on the growth of States, has the following paragraphs:
"Manufactures—whether of iron, cloth, paper, wool, cotton, or anything else—are what are needed to keep the inland towns and counties of New York increasing, instead of diminishing. Bringing a market close to the farmer's door, supplying him with the manufacturer's products, without the cost of the double transportation to and from the sea-coast—bringing mouths to be fed, bodies to be clothed, heads to be taught, and pockets to help pay taxes—these are the means of preventing him from leaving his farm and running off after prairie land and gold mines."
There is a whole treatise on Political Economy, compressed into a paragraph. Countries which are merely agricultural must be poor. Countries depending chiefly on manufactures are subject to violent revulsions of fortune, periods of morbid prosperity alternating with times of complete depression. But the two united in the same district are to be the guarantee of steady and permanent prosperity.

EFFECTS OF FROST.—The Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican says the action of the frost upon the earth on Tuesday night occasioned a constant succession of explosions, similar to those which occur in the Arctic regions, varying in character and intensity from a light pistol shot to a light earthquake. Fissures in the earth were seen in various places, and by one of those operations, the file shop of the United States Armory was cracked from the roof to the ground.

INDUSTRY AND SUCCESS.—Richard Burke being found in a reverie shortly after an extraordinary display of powers in Parliament by his brother Edmund Burke, was questioned by a friend as to the cause, and replied—"I have been wondering how Ned has contrived to monopolize all the talents of the family; but then again, I remember, when we were at play, he was always at work." The force of this anecdote is increased by the fact, that Richard Burke was considered inferior in natural talents to his brother. Yet the one rose to greatness, while the other died comparatively obscure. Don't trust to your genius, young man, if you would rise; but work! work!

THE ADVANTAGES OF SINGING.—If you would keep spring in your hearts, learn to sing. There is more merit in melody than most people are aware of. A cobbler who smooths his wax-ends with a song, will do as much work in a day as one given to ill-nature and fretting would effect in a week. Songs are like sunshine; they run to cheerfulness—to fill the bosom with such buoyancy, that, for the time being, you feel filled with June air, or lake a meadow of clover in blossom.—The Reflector.

DOUBTFUL NOMENCLATURE.—The new Russian Minister to the United States is called Somanosoff (saw my nose off). An attaché of the same legation at Washington, Biomanosoff (blow my nose off). Besides which we have Colonel Kutanosoff (cut my nose off), of the Imperial Guard; Marshal Pulmanosoff (pull my nose off), General Nozebezon (nose be gone), and many others.—Boston Journal.

WRINKLES.—It is said to have been very satisfactorily demonstrated, that every time a wife scolds her husband, she adds a wrinkle to her face! It is thought the announcement of this fact will have a most satisfactory effect, especially as it is understood that every time a wife smiles on her husband, it will remove one of the old wrinkles.

THE TELEGRAPH.—"Wife, I don't see, for my part, how they send letters on them' ere wires, without tasin' 'em all to bits." "Oh, my! they don't send the paper, they just send the writin' in a fluid state."

A CALCULATING YANKEE.—"My son," said Mr. Nunks, "how could you marry an Irish girl?" "Why father," says the son: "I'm not able to keep two women; and if I'd married a Yankee girl, I'd had to have hired an Irish girl to take care of her.—American paper.

THE WRONG TRAIN.—Some young men, going from Columbus to Cincinnati, Ohio, in the cars, were getting rather noisy and profane, when a gentleman in a white cravat tapped one of them on the shoulder, with the remark, "Young man, do you know you are on the road to perdition?" "That's just my luck; I took for Cincinnati, and I've got on the wrong train."

"Well, Sambo, what's yer up to now a days?" "Oh, I see a carp'nter and jiner." "He, I guess yer in. What department do you perform, Sambo?" "I does the circular work." "What's dat?" "Why, I turns do grindstone."

Now that the civic chair is filled by a Hebrew, the Mansion-house may be regarded for the time being as Solomon's temple!

Holloway's Pills, undoubtedly the best Medicine on sale in Canada.—The extraordinary power possessed by these Pills has rendered them justly an universal favourite with the Canadians, owing it is presumed to their efficacy in all diseases of the liver, and stomach. For the cure of sick headaches, bile and indigestion they are also unequalled; and for all female complaints, whether of the daughter entering into womanhood, or the mother at the turn of life, their effect is infallible, as they speedily remove all such complaints from the system.

The Great American Hair Tonic.
Bogle's celebrated Hyperion Fluid, for the growth and preservation of the Hair is well known to be without a rival on this continent. Hundreds of imitations have started into an ephemeral existence, since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair restorative, and their doom been sealed, whilst Bogle's Hyperion Hair Fluid, with a popularity never attained by any other article, goes on "conquering and to conquer." There is no malady, which can affect the Hair, but can be cured by this incomparable preparation. To ladies it is invaluable; and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of Hair. It is now patronized by Her Majesty the Queen of Great Britain, and commands an extensive sale throughout Europe. Bogle's Electric Hair Dye converts red or grey hair into a beautiful black or brown, the moment it is applied, literally dyeing the hair without staining the skin and leaving the Hair soft and glossy without injuring its texture in the least; a decided superiority over all other Hair dyes. Bogle's Amole Shaving compound renders that usually unpleasant operation (shaving) a decided luxury. Bogle's Hebeaion removes Freckles and tan from the face in the shortest possible time, and is acknowledged to be the very best article for beautifying the complexion. To be had, wholesale or retail, of W. Bogle, 227, Washington street, Boston, U. S. And by all Druggists and perfumers throughout the Canada, United States and Great Britain. W. R. WATSON, Agent for P. E. I. Jan 19th. 1 yw

GILMAN'S HAIR DYE.
The best article ever used, as hundreds can testify in this city and surrounding country. Read! GILMAN'S LIQUID HAIR DYE instantaneously changes the hair to a brilliant jet Black or glossy Brown, which is permanent—does not stain or in any way injure the skin. No article ever yet invented which will compare with it. We would advise all who have grey hairs to buy it, for it never fails.—Boston Post
