ANGLICAN MEETINGS

AT BLACKVILLE

The June meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican church, Blackville, was held at the home of Mrs. Bert Underhill Thursday evening, June 21st. After the business part of the evening was transacted, Mr. Forrester, late of New York, and who has charge of the Anglican churches in this mission for the summer months, gave a very interesting talk on the missionary work in the West Indies. Mr. Forrester spent 3 years in Trinidad and his remarks were very much appreciated by his hearers and a vote of thanks was tendered to him at the close of the meeting. A resolution of sympathy was also tendered to Miss Warren, who has lately lost her father. After the meeting a social half hour was spent and luncheon served by the hostess.

The Ladies Guild of the Holy Trinity Church held its annual sale and supper Saturday, June 23rd in the Public Hall, Blackville, and was well patronized, the net proceeds being $84.85.

See Lonesome Luke at the Happy Hour Friday and Saturday in two special comedies.

term of church membership? Henceforth it must be taught as a sacramental vow of allegiance, with infinite obligation to the Master and Lord. Church membership does not mean absent to a certain body of doctrine, but surrender, to Christ—personal surrender to a person.

Again the war's demand is that the church place a new insistency upon the fundamental principle of Christian brotherhood. Lords and peasants are fighting side by side as privates in the war. Differences of class, money values, social distinctions melt away in the fellowship of the common struggle. Is this new brotherhood to be conserved, or is this new fraternity in war to be followed by the old fratricide. The war's demand is that the church shall realize the Christian brotherhood. Christ Himself is for this. The church has always been too timid in this direction and for the exhibition of this vital thing Christ has been without a church.

The war's demand is for a new emphasis of the church upon the great basal truths, the elemental realities of the Christian religion namely the gospel of the cross and service. The church's emphasis upon the cross is apt to be rather negative than positive, as if its end were to exempt from, rather than inspire to sacrifice. Christ died that we who live should henceforth live not unto ourselves but for Him. Now the war is calling us back to the full gospel of the cross to the revival in the church of the soldier quality of covenantal devotion to the cause of Christ.

In the evening Professor Shaw discussed the church's part in the hastening of the day when peace shall prevail again. God reigneth and ruleth. He has all nations in His hands. He uses instruments for the accomplishment of His purposes, as He chose Israel and made use of her. But for the fulfillment of His righteous purposes there is needed a righteous people. So God punished Israel when she sinned in order that she might be restored to her high task. If we believe, and we do, that we are chosen to be the instruments of His purposes, we can see why God may make the victory tarry, and it is tarrying till we be more fit to accomplish His will. God is waiting, that we may be cured of our national weaknesses—the struggle of class against class, the national self-indulgence in drink, and so on. All this is a moral betrayal of God's purpose through us. Does not God call us instantly to national surrender that He may fully use us for His purposes. God is the great protagonist in this war using us as His instruments.

The church is then to seek to win the nation to such surrender that He may release His forces through us. On motion Presbytery expressed cordial thanks to Professor Shaw for his assistance and wished him back again.

In the evening meeting the Rev. W. D. Wilson, Chief Inspector under the Prohibition Act addressed the Assembly in a brief and optimistic speech. Mr. Wilson looks forward to a day not far off when the continent may be bone dry. If prohibition were prevailing in the U. S. now enough food would be saved to feed 11,000,000 soldiers and give them a pound loaf of bread every day. To the clergy of this province, the chief credit must be given for the securing of the prohibition law. They will have much to do with its enforcement and if by chance it were not to succeed, this can only be when the clergy have forgotten their duty. Since May first the fight in favor of prohibition has not been wholly against visible antagonists. But climbing day by day we shall at last bring the task to perfection. Presbytery received Mr. Wilson cordially and by resolution assured him of its continued, devoted and unanimous support.

The routine business of Presbytery included the granting to St. Andrews church, Chatham, of the right to borrow $5,000 for the building of a new manse; the appointment of standing committees for the year; a call from Black River Congregation to Mr. J. M. Fraser, recently graduated from the college at Halifax, who has accepted, ordination and induction to be on Tuesday, the 10th July, the nomination of a moderator of Synod Presbytery's choice falling unanimously upon the Rev. S. J. MacArthur, M. A. of Newcastle. The next quarterly meeting of Presbytery will be held in Newcastle on the second Tuesday of September.

ESCOMING

Escuminac—The fine weather for the last week was welcome to the farmers. It gave them the chance to finish their seedling and all they are wishing for now is good growing weather so they can reap a big harvest.

Mr. Edward Wallace of Bartibogue is paying a visit to friends down here. Mr. William McKee of Black River is here on a visit to his brother Gregory McKee, who is in a critical condition.

Mr. George Nowlan, pilot of Douglstown, is visiting friends here.

Lobster Season Ending
The lobster fishing season will soon be to an end and the lobster packers have had a very good season. There is a rumor of an extension of eight days more on account of the backward weather in the spring.

Fish Very Plentiful
The mackerel are very plentiful. About half way to North Cape of Prince Edward Island some boats got as high as 4500 mackerel in one overhaul. Mr. C. Williston of Bay du Vin on Friday last got three thousand mackerel but when he came ashore he could not get sale for them, the merchants who buy them can only handle a few thousand, and the first two or three boats that sell their fish block the market. What a great pity that our fishermen cannot get the protection that they receive in other countries. If there was a railroad down here so they could ship them to market, they might have some chance of getting something for them, and to try and salt the mackerel is an uphill job for there is little or no salt down here and what there is it costs over two dollars a bag. The codfish are very plentiful and very large, but it is hard to cure them without salt. On Saturday last M. Bransfield landed about eight hundred codfish taken from his salmon nets. He gave a large quantity of them away to his neighbours as it was impossible to save the lot.

The salmon drifters are doing fairly well, some of the boats getting as high as forty salmon in one night

The bride was daintily costumed in white silk, veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of lilies, sweetpeas and smilax. The house was fragrant and prettily decorated with apple blossoms and sweet peas. After dinner the bride party motored to New-castle. After a short trip to north they will return to town to take up their residence here. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy wedded life. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents, cash gifts, linen, silver, furniture, etc., made up the number.

At the last regular meeting of Division No. 6, A. O. H. the following Resolution was unanimously adopted.

Whereas the great and Supreme Ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom removed by death the wife and mother of our esteemed brothers, William Kirkpatrick, Sr., and William Kirkpatrick, Jr., and whereas the long and intimate relation held with them in the faithful discharge of their duties in this society makes it eminently befitting that we record our appreciation of her, therefore.

Resolved, that the sudden removal of such a life's truth among our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by all members of this society.

Resolved, that with deep sympathy with the beloved brothers, we express our hope that ere so great a loss to them may be over-ruled for good by Him who doeth all things well.
