And forget your foot troubles. You will no longer feel that drag to your step, that dead weight, that tired feeling.

THE ELEGANCE

Gold Medal SHOES

IS THE RESULT OF BOTH BEAUTY OF DESIGN and BEAUTY OF FIT.

MOST SHOES SIMPLY COVER THE FEET.

Both Dorothy Dodd and Gold Medal Footwear support, brace and aid the feet. One well fitted pair will prove this.

Geo. A. Slater's Famous Invictus Shoes are Flexible.

The foot feels as if it is rested on a cushion instead of a hard leather bottom.

The most thing about breaking in New Shoes is the hard stiff feeling of the soles. Every step is an effort to make the leather bend. You instantly notice the difference when you put on a pair of G. A. Slater's Invictus Shoes.

At the Hague.

(Daily News Message.)

THE HAGUE, July 21. Ewart, K.C., continuing, endeavored to show that if the United States had been accorded fishing servitude by treaty, the exercise of such servitude was susceptible of modification by Britain, by regulations or laws which were not incompatible with the Treaty, no clause in the Treaty obliging Britain to submit such regulations to the United States' Government for assent. Attempts to frame regulations in common had failed. The servitude theory, as put forward by the States, will be dealt with by Attorney General Sir William Snowden Robson. The Tribunal has expressed the wish that the contending parties should communicate, within one week, detailed copies of the laws and regulations whereof they object, together with a statement of their own objections, which it stated would be transmitted to the other side, in order that the latter might reply to them, in the course of the following week. Mr. Samuel J. Elder, for the States, opened his speech by arguing that the cause of the arbitration proceedings was the attitude of Sir Robert Bond in introducing during his tenure of office as Premier of Newfoundland fiscal legislation, the object whereof was to force the States to ratify a disadvantageous treaty. Previous to 1905 Newfoundland had not subjected American fishermen, who exercised their rights in accordance with the Treaty of 1818 to such legislation, but in 1905, when the Hay-Bond Treaty was submitted to the United States' Senate, Bond introduced a new bill concerning Foreign Fishing Craft, which tended to deprive Americans of rights hitherto enjoyed by them.

Victoria Park Notes.

(For The People's Paper.)

In compliment to the name it bears the first concert for the season was given by Prof. Bennett's Orchestra last evening in Victoria Park. The grounds fronting on Water St. were very tastefully decorated with bunting, evidently the work of Caretaker Mr. Ryan. It was shown last evening that the people of the Premier District appreciate the efforts of our City Fathers in providing a few hand concerts for their enjoyment, for despite the weather conditions prevailing last evening one of the largest audiences ever seen in Victoria Park was present.

Amidst the concourse could be noticed every element of our citizens—the merchant, the shopkeeper, the tradesman, the labourer, last but not least, the fisherman, who accompanied with their lady friends seemed to enjoy the spirited programme rendered by the Professor and sides. The appearance of the grounds and flower beds are such that denotes care and attention on the part of Caretaker Ryan, while the band stand has been newly painted in green and white and looks well.

A very fine new flag staff adorns the stand from which was floating the breeze "Old Glory," the Union Jack, a most appropriate one for Victoria Park, and long may it continue to wave over Britain's Oldest Colony. Owing, no doubt, to the coolness of the night Officers Sparks and Devine allowed the small "ones" a little latitude in their innocent amusements, otherwise the conduct of the multitude was exemplary.

From a musical standpoint I would say the programme given was a carefully selected one which aroused much enthusiasm. The younger portion accompanying the orchestra in several tunes by singing in unison, causing general applause throughout the grounds.

From the bulletin suspended from the band stand I copied the following programme of delightful "Gems" ever popular.

1. Union of Hearts.

2. Summer Time.

3. Lovely Nellie.

4. By Your Side.

5. Highland Mary.

6. We are Parted, Elsie.

7. My Wife is Gone to the Country.

8. Tattle, Tattle.

Last night a woman on the higher levels followed her husband, who she disclosed to passers-by had been beating and ill-treating her for some time past. Her face was badly cut and she kept it covered with a handkerchief. When the woman had gone a certain distance the fellow turned on her and pelted her with stones. "Tis a pity that the 'cat-a-nine tails' drel.

China Satisfied.

Special Evening Telegram.

PEKIN, July 21.

China's reply to the announcement of the recently concluded Russo-Japanese convention was delivered at the legation of these two countries to-day. As had been expected, the Chinese Government does not fail to point out its satisfaction at the expressed purpose upon the part of Russia and Japan to adhere to the terms of the Portsmouth Treaty, and over the mutual pledge for the maintenance in Manchuria of the status quo and the open door for commercial developments. In this connection China lays special emphasis upon article 3, which reads as follows: "Japan and Russia mutually engage 1st, to evacuate completely and simultaneously Manchuria, except the territory affected by the lease of the Liau Tung Peninsula in conformity with provisions and additional article annexed to this treaty, and to restore entirely and completely the exclusive administration of China, all portions of Manchuria now in the occupation or under the control of the Japanese or Russian troops, with the exception of the territory above mentioned. The Government of Russia declare that they have not in Manchuria any territorial advantages or preferential or exclusive concessions in impairment of Chinese sovereignty or in conflict with the principle of equal opportunity."

Strike Riots.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

BELLEVEILLE, Ont., July 21.

Two men are lying in a critical condition in the Doctors' Hotel to-night as the result of a riot in the Grand Trunk strike. The men, John McMan and M. Donovan, were acting as conductor and brakeman respectively of a local train from Toronto and were set upon by a mob as they left the train just after its arrival. The mob, which consisted of about 100 strike sympathizers, were hiding near the station and sprang on the officials as they crossed the street, beating them ferociously. In the struggle a couple of shots were fired. The mob disappeared as suddenly as they appeared. The police were notified and the entire night staff were soon on the scene, but no trace could be found of the guilty parties, though it is expected that arrests will be made soon.

An Ancient Ceremony.

Special to Evening Telegram.

LONDON, July 21.

The picturesque ceremony attendant upon the accession of King George was re-enacted to-day when the various officers of arms proclaimed His Majesty's pleasure that the Coronation of the King and Queen take place on June 1911, on a day to be later determined. Sir Alfred Scott, Garter King of Arms, mounted the Colonnade of the Friday Court in St. James' Palace and read the Royal proclamation. Grouped about him were the officers and the Life Guards. The Duke of Connaught and other members of the Royal Family looked on from Marlborough. The proceedings were repeated at Charing Cross and at Temple Bar, where admittance to the ancient City of London was solemnly demanded.

The King and the Archbishop.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

LISBON, July 21.

The Catholics of Northern Portugal are protesting against King Manuel's censure of Archbishop Braga. Archbishop Braga, upon orders from the Vatican, suppressed the Franciscan Review on the ground that it was not necessary to the support of the National Catholic Party. A royal decree of July 12th nullified the action of the Archbishop, who was declared to have no right to execute instructions without the consent of the Government.

Strike Paralyzes Industry.

Special to Evening Telegram.

NEWCASTLE, Eng., July 21.

The strike of employees of the North Eastern Railroad is fast demoralizing the industries dependent on the line. The disorganization of traffic threatens to ruin many ship-pers. In addition to the 12,000 railroad men who are out, it was estimated that 50,000 workers in the collieries, iron works and other plants have been rendered idle through the inability of the companies to move their goods. The loss on perishable goods—fish, milk and the like—is enormous. Whole catches of the herring fleets intended for the Yarmouth curers are rotting at the different shipping points along the line of railroad.

Magisterial Enquiries.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—I learn from your issue of 12th inst., that Mr. T. Atkins, who was run over by Dr. Anderson's horse some two weeks ago, died from the effects of the injuries he thereby received.

Previous to this unfortunate occurrence, if I remember rightly, another gentleman named Reid lost his life from injuries of a like nature and under similar circumstances, yet I am unaware if a Magisterial investigation resulted in either case.

"Oh God! that bread should be so dear,

And flesh and blood so cheap." I am of opinion that, if through the carelessness of drivers of vehicles a person is crippled or killed, the Magistrate should enquire into the matter and punish the guilty party, whoever he may be, as a warning to others to be more careful.

Yours truly,

HUMANITY.

McMurdo's Store News

FRIDAY, July 22, 1910.

To many tastes the most delicious way to eat ice cream is with walnut bisque added. This gives to the cream the pleasant nutty flavor with a suggestion of chocolate, and fully doubles the pleasure of having an ice cream.

We sometimes fancy that the nutrient value of ice cream is lost sight of; it exists, nevertheless. The sort we dispense is made of pure cream and milk, and good sugar. A dish of our ice cream is really a light meal, as well as being grateful and cooling to the palate.

Witch hazel will be found a delightful application after shaving, for insect bites and as an astringent wash for the face. Price, 25c. a bottle.

The Fly Pest.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Life at Sandy Point, Bay St. George, during the summer months, is gradually becoming more and more unbearable, owing to myriads of "fly-dies" or "blue bottles."

These loathsome flies at the time of writing are swarming in almost every house on Sandy Point; the pleasure of summer is entirely destroyed. The cause of this plague is the negligence of the fishermen to bury, or otherwise destroy, the "herring gibs," or fish offal. In past years, this refuse was tipped into the sea; a law passed recently, forbids this. It would be interesting to know what is the penalty, for poisoning the atmosphere, and risking the lives of young and old in this way! When an epidemic comes, and sweeps away the inhabitants, it will be too late to take precautions; when the horse is gone, it is of little use to lock the stable door. This "stinking offal" is spread over gardens, and fields, in the spring, and on close and damp days, it gives off a most abominable stench; only for a few days, perhaps, yes, but those few days are sufficient to poison one's system, and pave the way to disease. The pure country air, which should be so invigorating, and life-giving, has to be shut out of the house, for it is germ-laden in this offal, these flies are everywhere, and it is next to impossible to destroy them, seemingly, or to protect any thing in the shape of food from their ravages, for they are here in swarms, and there will be more later, for barrels of this offal are lying round the wharves, and piles under the stores, rapidly undergoing decomposition, in this July heat! The innocent will suffer with the guilty, unfortunately. About two years ago, Dr. Brehm, the Public Health Officer, at St. John's was acquainted with the state of things prevailing; he expressed his disapproval, and surprise, but said he could do nothing, without our magistrates' co-operation, in enforcing the law; meantime, the same conditions prevail; but it is high time this was changed for the better. Fishermen come to Sandy Point, for the spring fishery, from nearby settlements, and return to their homes, well-fished, but quite unmindful of what they leave behind; however, they are not the only offenders, the inhabitants are just as careless, and indifferent, but escape to Labrador, away from the plague; those who cannot do likewise, have to suffer in silence. The "Society for the Prevention of Consumption," would do well to look into the state of things; they have accomplished so much, already, perhaps, they could find a remedy for this evil; it is surely due to ignorance, perhaps wilful ignorance, in some cases. The writer invites correspondence on the subject, in these columns. The excuse that there is no other fertilizer, than this "fish refuse," is a thread-bare one;

Prospero's Voyage.

The s.s. Prospero, Capt. Kean, arrived here from the northward at 8 a.m. to-day. The ship had excellent weather on the way north. She had to lay to at Quirpon all Sunday night until Monday at daylight, and then went to Battle Harbor, fog having detained her. She arrived at Battle Hr.
