Magistrates Court

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

The action arising out of the seizure of the Herbert Green was resumed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the Magistrate's Court before Mr. Mc-Carthy, J.P., when Mr. C. J. Fox, for the Crown asked leave to recall Customs Officer Wilson. This was granted.
In answer to one of the questions put by Mr. Fox, witness stated that Super-cargo Ryan joined the Herbert Green at nine o'clock on the morning of the 4th. Witness further stated that two individuals were seen to come ashore from the Herbert Green, each having a bottle of liquor in his possession. Customs Officer Roberts relieved the individuals of the bottles and returned them to Super-cargo Ryan, and he gave a further warning by stating that if any more bottles were seen to come ashore he would report the matter to the proper authorities. Witness was present on two occasions when a warning was given by Customs Officer Roberts to Super-cargo Ryan prohibiting the liquor going ashore.

Augustus Green, sworn and examined by Mr. Fox:—Witness said he was a Customs officer doing general duty along the Water front. He went to the Furness Withy wharf on Saturday at 8 p.m., and while on the promise he saw Capt. Bryne of the schooner Orleans walking towards the Herbert Green, and stopped to talk to Mr.
Wilson. Witness then took up a position on the dock, aft of the cabin where the Herbert Green was lying.
While witness was in hiding, he having overheard Capt. Bryne, Capt.
Nauffts and Super-cargo Ryan talking in the cabin. The conversation of the three centred generally on whiskey and rum running. Witness remembered hearing Capt. Bryne asking Supercargo Ryan to sell 4 or 5 cases of whiskey. Witness was unable to state the exact amount Bryne wanted, but he referred to 4 or 5 cases several times, and he was particularly anxious to have the very best brand—Ambassador's whiskey preferred. They even compared a comparative price of Controller's liquor with those they had on board. Witness next heard Capt. Bryne remark, "Put the stuff over the outside." Super-cargo Ryan replied, "It is just as unlawful that way as to land it on the wharf." A short while later Super-cargo Ryan was heard to say "Nothing doing now, come back later." Mr. Green then left his hiding place and proceeded around the liquor stores on the same premises where he spoke to Wilson, and gave certain instructions.

At eleven o'clock that night witness recognized Guy Shears, defendant in a row boat at the N.E. corner of the dock. Witness turned around and went up to the street, where Captain Bryne passed him with an oar in hand.
A short while later, witness saw Bryne sculling the boat towards the front of the Furness Withy wharf, and it was then that witness went over to the stores and communicated with the police. Kendrick then came towards witness and said something about liquors being lowered into the boat. Witness then went to the front of the wharf and saw one case going over the starboard rail. He heard Capt. Nauffts shout out to Capt. Bryne to throw the darn stuff overboard. The captain then went into the wheel house and started an argument with the police. Witness then shouted to the police on board that he would follow the ship in the Customs boat with the other officers. At that time the engines of the Herbert Green were going causing a big strain on the lines. As the stern line parted the ship steamed out the harbour. Witness remembered Const. Russell telling the captain to stop his ship, as it was under arrest, but he paid no heed. The captain stated the ship was ordered to sea at 12 o'clock, and to sea she was going. Engineer Jones then shouted to the stokers below to shake her up, and for someone to come up on the deck and throw the sons of—overboard. At this juncture Mr. Fen-elon was not ready to proceed with the cross-examination of witness.

Mr. Fox then recalled Customs Officer Keurick, who recognized the bottle of whiskey that had been given him by Super-cargo Ryan, on board the Herbert Green. The bottle was then put in as an exhibit.

In answer to a question put by Mr.
Fenelon, witness knew the bottle by the name and label, besides he had previously made a small cut on one of the labels as an identification mark.
The court arose at 4:30 until 11 o'- clock this morning.
